Did you know that incomplete information can make it difficult for us to find your beneficiaries?

This includes each beneficiary's name, address, telephone number, date of birth, Social Security Number or Taxpayer Identification Number and relationship to you and the portion of the benefits to which they are entitled. If you haven't already done so, please update your beneficiary designation with all of this information as soon as possible. And, we also recommend that you review and update your beneficiary information periodically to make sure it continues to be accurate.

Selecting a Beneficiary

A beneficiary can be an individual, an institution, an organization, a testamentary trust, or your estate. (Naming an estate may limit options available to your heirs. Please consult with an attorney prior to naming your estate or trust.) Beneficiaries can also be the children of the beneficiaries that you designate on this form. You can choose primary and contingent beneficiaries. Your primary beneficiary(ies) receives benefits at the time of your death. If a class includes more than one person, the benefits are paid proportionately among the living beneficiaries of the class unless you specify otherwise. If there are no living primary beneficiaries at the time of your death, the benefits become payable to your contingent beneficiaries. If none of the beneficiaries are living at the time of your death, the benefits will default to the plan or product provisions. The order of payment and division of benefits is provided for in the Additional Provisions section.

Spousal Rights to Annuity Death Benefits

If you live in a community or marital property state and have designated someone other than your spouse as more than 50% primary beneficiary, you need to consult your tax advisor regarding the effect that may have on your beneficiary designation. Community and marital property states include, but are not limited to: AZ, CA, ID, LA, NV, NM, TX, WA and WI.

Federal pension law (ERISA) and certain Plan and State provisions mandate:

If you are married at the time of your death, your spouse is entitled to receive, as primary beneficiary, at least 50%, could be up to 100%, of your qualified preretirement survivor annuity death benefits under a retirement or tax-deferred annuity plan covered by any of the following: ERISA or your plan's spousal policy. If you name someone other than your spouse as primary beneficiary of those qualified preretirement survivor annuity death benefits, then we will be obligated to pay your spouse regardless of your beneficiary designation in effect at the time of your death. The remainder will be payable in proportion of the amounts allocated to the other beneficiary(ies) listed as primary.

How to waive a preretirement survivor death benefit?

Please consult with your Plan Representative for more information.

If you are married and want more than 50% of your benefits (or the plan determined amount, if greater) to go to someone other than your spouse, your spouse must authorize the designation by completing the Spousal Waiver form. A Notary Public or Plan Representative must witness your spouse signing and dating the spousal waiver. Under federal law, if you are under 35, your spouse cannot complete a Spousal Waiver unless your plan provides otherwise. Even if your plan does allow your spouse to complete a Spousal Waiver, your spouse must complete another Spousal Waiver once you attain age 35.

If the spousal waiver section is not completed and signed at the time you make your designation, we will continue to update your designation but at the time of your death, we will advise your spouse of his/her legal right to their portion of your contract at which time he/she can waive their rights or claim their inheritance.

Print in upper case using black or dark blue ink and provide all information requested.

To help avoid incorrect interpretation or delays, please be sure that all handwritten information is legible.

The Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA) provides certain rights to the spouse of a participant in a retirement plan subject to the law. Some Non-ERISA plans may also require that we pay from 50% to 100% to a surviving spouse at death.

NOTE: Due to Plan Provisions or Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) regulations we need to verify if there is a surviving spouse. This verification will be completed prior to benefits being paid/ settled to any beneficiary.

BENEFICIARY PROVISIONS

1. Effectiveness

This Designation of Beneficiary is effective for each annuity contract and certificate listed by number or by definition of contracts as stated in the Annuity Numbers section. If the beneficiary designations are satisfactory by TIAA-CREF's standards and the designations are accepted by TIAA-CREF, the designations will be effective from the date the form was received in good order by TIAA-CREF.

2. Immediate Annuity under a Two-Life Option

If you own an Immediate Annuity under a Two-Life Option, you have already provided for benefits at your death for the second annuitant. Therefore, your second annuitant should not be named as a beneficiary. If you do designate your second annuitant, TIAA-CREF will remove that person from the contract's designation. Your confirmation will display this change.

3. Order of Payment and Division of Benefits

- a. Unless otherwise stated: At your death (or the last surviving annuitant's death under a Two-Life Annuity), any benefits due will be paid to a beneficiary if he or she is then living. If a class of beneficiaries contains more than one person, benefits due to the beneficiaries in such class at your death (or the last surviving annuitant's death under a Two-Life Annuity) will be paid in accordance with the proportions stated. If a beneficiary predeceases you (or the last surviving annuitant under a Two-Life Annuity), the proportion of the benefits that would have otherwise been apportioned to such deceased beneficiary shall instead be divided to the other beneficiaries who survive you (or the last surviving annuitant under a Two-Life Annuity).
- b. If all beneficiaries predecease you (or the last surviving annuitant under a Two-Life Annuity), all benefits will be payable to your estate (or the estate of the last surviving annuitant under a Two-Life Annuity).

ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS

Provision: ‘Payment to my deceased beneficiary’s children’ provision applied to a beneficiary means that if you check ‘payment to my deceased beneficiary’s children’ and the named beneficiary predeceases you, the monies which would have been paid to that beneficiary will be divided proportionately among his/her children (if any). If there are no living children for that beneficiary, their portion will be paid in proportion to the remaining beneficiaries in that class. In the event there are no other beneficiaries, we will pay your Estate.

Example:

John Doe – your son with a 100% designation ‘payment to my deceased beneficiary’s children’

Jane Doe – your daughter with a 100% designation ‘payment to my deceased beneficiary’s children’

John predeceases you. Then John’s portion will be paid to his children equally. If John has no children, his share will then be paid to Jane. If both John and Jane predecease you and there are no children, we will pay the contingent beneficiaries you designate. In absence of any contingent beneficiaries, we will pay your Estate.

4. If a Testamentary Trust is Designated as Beneficiary:

- a. TIAA-CREF will not accept or be obliged to inquire into the terms of any will or of any trust affecting the annuity contract/certificate or its death benefit and shall not be charged with knowledge of terms thereof.
- b. TIAA can only accept a testamentary trust if you give us the create date of the will at the time of the designation. A designation of Will is not acceptable.
- c. If benefits become payable to a testamentary trust and (i) the will is not presented for probate within 90 days following the date of your death (or the death of the last surviving annuitant in a Two-Life Annuity); or (ii) the will has been presented for probate within the aforesaid 90 days and no qualified trustee makes claim for the benefits within nine months after your death (or the death of the last surviving annuitant in a Two-Life Annuity); or (iii) if evidence is furnished and is satisfactory to TIAA-CREF within such nine-month period that no trustee can qualify to receive the benefits, payment shall be made to the successor beneficiary(ies), if any such beneficiary(ies) (is)are designated and survive you (or the last surviving annuitant in a Two-Life Annuity): otherwise to your estate (or the estate of the last surviving annuitant).
- d. If benefits become payable to an inter vivos trust and (i) the trust agreement is not in effect; or (ii) no trustee can qualify to receive the benefits; or (iii) the qualified trustee is not willing to accept the benefits, payments shall be made to the successor beneficiary(ies) as designated, if any such beneficiary(ies) are designated and survive(s) you (or the last surviving annuitant in a Two-Life Annuity); otherwise to your estate (or to the estate of the last surviving annuitant).
- e. Payment to, and receipt by, said trustee, said successor beneficiary(ies) or said estate, as provided for in (b) and (c) above, shall fully discharge TIAA-CREF for all liability to the extent of such payment. TIAA-CREF shall have no obligations as to the application of funds so paid and shall, in all dealings with said trustee or with said executor(s) or administer(s), including but not limited to any consent, release or waiver of interest, be fully protected against the claims or demands of any other person(s).
