Regent Hergert presented a KUDOS award to Nancy M. Wagner, Administrative Technician at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln’s Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Regent Bohn presented a KUDOS award to Laureen M. Smith, Associate Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and Senior Woman Administrator at the University of Nebraska at Kearney.

Regent Wilson presented a KUDOS award to Daryl Swanson, Director of the Nebraska Unions at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

President Milliken recognized the outgoing Faculty Senate Presidents:

I want to take a moment to recognize four individuals who have important leadership roles at the university of Nebraska--the presidents of the faculty senates on our four campuses. This is the last Board of Regents meeting at which each of them will be representing their respective faculty governing bodies, and I think it is appropriate that we recognize their service.

The Board of Regents Bylaws call on each campus faculty to establish a “governing agency” that serves as the official voice of the faculty and acts on academic matters that affect more than one college. These faculty senates are also asked to advise and consult with students, staff, and administration on matters such as the budget, institutional planning, and academic standards. They are also called upon for perhaps their most important role, providing protection for academic freedom at the University of Nebraska.

For the past year, the four individuals with whom I’ve had the pleasure of working have been responsible for ensuring that their respective faculty senates have carried out important duties and that the members of the Board and the administration here at Varner Hall have been aware of faculty concerns on each of their campuses. They have done an effective job in communicating with my administration and, I believe, the Board.

Dr. Wally Bacon is a professor of political science at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. He is a specialist on Romania and Moldova and has published widely on the diplomatic relationships and history of these two nations. He is also active in the Omaha theatre community and serves on the board of the Shakespeare Festival. He earned his bachelor’s degree from Colorado College and his master’s and Ph.D. from the University of Denver.

Dr. Deborah E. Bridges is an associate professor of economics at the University of Nebraska at Kearney. She is an expert in agricultural policy, farm and ranch management and production economies, and she pursues research into such topics as consumer attitudes toward genetically modified crops. She earned her bachelor’s and master’s degrees from the University of Wyoming, and her Ph.D. from Washington State University.
Dr. Ellen Davis-Hall is an associate professor in the Physician Assistant Program at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. She has a strong interest in gender equity issues, having served on the UNMC Chancellor’s Commission on Gender-Related Issues. She also is a former Administrative Fellow here in the Office of the President. She earned her bachelor’s degree from Stephens College in Missouri, and her master’s and Ph.D. from UNMC.

Dr. Wes Peterson is a professor of agricultural economics and an expert on international agricultural trade, agricultural development in low-income countries, and economic policy. He has volunteered to serve as an international polling station supervisor in Bosnia and in Kosovo, and has been an election observer in Macedonia. He holds a bachelor’s degree from the University of California, Berkeley, a master’s degree from Princeton, and master’s and Ph.D. degrees from Michigan State.

I’d like to ask each of these distinguished faculty members and faculty governance leaders to come forward to be recognized, and ask you to join me in congratulating them for their outstanding service to the University of Nebraska.

Chancellor Belck updated the Board on campus planning with regard to current and future housing needs at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. At present 1,200 beds are available for athletes, honors students and international students, but demand is outpacing available accommodations. It was indicated that UNO could double present housing and keep it filled. The resulting 2,400 beds would accommodate about 15% of the UNO student body, similar to other metropolitan universities. Chancellor Belck said that studies of non-matriculating UNO students indicated that many chose institutions outside Nebraska when unable to secure housing at UNO.
