IS IT JUST A COINCIDENCE?

LEADERSHIP AND PHYSICAL STATURE

WHY IMPLICIT BIAS?

- Implicit bias can be a better predictor of behavior and decision-making than our explicit beliefs.
- Implicit bias gives us a framework for understanding the underlying factors driving overt racism.
- Challenging implicit bias can help us align our good intentions with our desired outcomes.
- Discussing implicit bias does not mean ignoring other causes of disparities—it helps us see the entire picture.

HOW KIRWAN DEFINES IMPLICIT BIAS

Attitudes or stereotypes that affect our understanding, actions, and decisions in an unconscious manner.

IMPLICIT BIAS CAN TURN EVEN OUR BEST INTENTIONS INTO UNWANTED OUTCOMES

GOALS FOR THIS SESSION

- Help us think differently about the way we think.
- Foster understanding of the ways in which bias operates in our lives & institutions.
- Create a space and process to begin to consider the bridge between intentions and outcomes.

THE BIG IDEA

- The vast majority of our cognition is unconscious.
- Our associations may be formed based on skewed, overgeneralized, or distorted beliefs and stereotypes.
- Our implicit associations may not necessarily align with our explicit beliefs.

THE BIG IDEA

- There are key conditions under which we are most likely to make decisions based on implicit biases:
 - Ambiguous or incomplete information
 - Compromised cognitive load
 - Time constraints
 - Overconfidence in objectivity

SITUATING IMPLICIT BIAS

PIECES OF THE PUZZLES

IMPLICIT BIAS CAN BE ACTIVATED BY ANY PERCEIVED SOCIAL IDENTITY

ALL ACTORS IN HIGHER EDUCATION ARE SUSCEPTIBLE TO IMPLICIT BIAS

UNDERSTANDING RACIAL INEQUITIES

DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, EQUITY, AND JUSTICE

DIVERSITY ASKS...

"Who's in the room?"

EQUITY RESPONDS...

"Who is trying to get in the room but can't? Whose presence in the room is under constant threat of erasure?"

INCLUSION ASKS...

"Has everyone's ideas been heard?"

JUSTICE RESPONDS...

"Whose ideas won't be taken as seriously because they aren't in the majority?"

DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, EQUITY, AND JUSTICE

DIVERSITY ASKS...

"How many more of [pick any minoritized identity] group do we have this year than last?"

EQUITY RESPONDS...

"What conditions have we created that maintain certain groups as the perpetual majority here?"

INCLUSION ASKS...

"Is this environment safe for everyone to feel like they belong?"

JUSTICE RESPONDS...

"Whose safety is being sacrificed and minimized to allow others to be comfortable maintaining dehumanizing views?"

REAL WORLD IMPLICATIONS

FINDINGS FROM THE FIELD

RACE AND PERCEPTIONS OF COMPETENCE

Thomas Meyer

African American Male

3rd Year Associate

NYU Law School

Racialized outcomes disparities persist across all elements of our society: education, criminal justice, healthcare, ~~employment~~, and more. Though the compounding effects of structural inequality, institutional barriers, and explicit racism are often identified as ~~causes~~ of these disparities, in recent decades ~~scholars~~ have evaluated the role of implicit racial bias in furthering these gaps. Furthermore, studies have been conducted to explore methods for mitigating the operation and impact of implicit racial bias on life outcomes. Of particular interest to this study is the belief that repeated exposure to stereotype incongruent images of a stigmatized group – a counter-stereotypical exemplar – may reduce an individual's ~~level of implicit racial bias~~.

Several scholars have examined this notion of a counter-stereotypical exemplar in relation to President Obama. As our first African American president, he exhibits many attributes that are incongruent with common stereotypes of African Americans. Additionally, as the nation's president ~~in a race society~~ ~~known~~ and highly visible, as such, President Obama is a promising Black counter-stereotypical exemplar. This present study adds to this exploration by examining the real-world influence... Not the best interpretation of the case...

MICROAGGRESSIONS

“...brief and commonplace daily verbal, behavioral, and environmental indignities, whether intentional or unintentional, that communicate hostile, derogatory or negative racial slights and insults to the target person or group.”

MICROAGGRESSIONS

- 78% of participants experienced at least 1 racial microaggression over the two week study period
- Students of color reported experiencing an average of 291 microaggressions in the past 90 days
- About a quarter of instructors and half of students perceived bias in their classrooms in the last year
- 34% of undergraduates reported perceiving themselves as a target of subtle bias in the classroom in the last year

Frequencies of Overt and Subtle Bias, Targets of Bias, and Types of Bias

- Binge drinking
- Pain, fatigue, physical illness

ANCHORING BIAS

THE BIG IDEA

- All moments of human decision-making are susceptible to the operation of implicit biases.
- Implicit associations that fail to align with reality may cause us to make decisions that are detrimental to our best interests, personally and/or organizationally.

THE BIG IDEA

- Bias is multidirectional and comprises not only discrimination but also privilege.
- We all have both marginalized and privileged identities simultaneously.
- Being aware and intentional about how we reflect on our own identity can help us to be better champions for justice and equity.

USE MINDFULNESS TO ALTER YOUR BIASES

Six weeks of practicing loving kindness meditation aimed at increasing empathy toward a marginalized people was shown to decrease levels of unfavorable implicit bias.

"But if I go over there and get to know them as individuals, what am I supposed to do with my stereotypes?"
