PREVIOUS ACTION: June 25, 2021 – The Board approved amendments to the University of Nebraska Four-Year Graduation Guarantee.

June 1, 2002 – The Board adopted by acclamation a Resolution recognizing the importance for University of Nebraska undergraduate students to be able to earn their bachelor’s or first-professional degrees in a timely fashion.

The university guarantees that undergraduate students will be able to enroll in courses that permit graduation consistent with an agreed upon academic plan of study and timetable developed with their academic advisor. If specific coursework enrollments are not available, NU will work with the student to offer approved alternatives or substitutions that will fit into the agreed upon timetable for graduation. If a student fulfills all the requirements outlined in the applicable guarantee and is not able to graduate according to the agreed upon program of study time frame, the applicable University of Nebraska campus will cover 100% of tuition for any additional course(s) needed to graduate. The guarantees will be applicable to students that first matriculate (or are formally readmitted) for the Fall 2022 semester.

Undergraduate Transfer Student Graduation Guarantee

The Undergraduate Transfer Student Graduation Guarantee is the University of Nebraska’s promise to do our part to support the academic journey of transfer students and facilitate completion of their degrees in a timely fashion. This program is designed for those who want to complete their degree program as quickly as possible and are committed to successfully completing their approved course of study as initially developed with their University of Nebraska (NU) academic advisor.

The length of time enrolled at NU will vary depending on the number of credits transferred, the number of degree requirements fulfilled through transfer credits, and a student’s semester course-load. Every transfer student’s path is different. Of course, students may ultimately need or just choose a different pace to take a wider range of courses that are not directly related to their field of study, engage in experiential or service-learning opportunities, represent their school on a collegiate team, or attend school part-time. Additionally, those seeking dual degrees, multiple majors, or certain academic concentrations may need more time to complete their work.

For students looking to complete a degree in as little time as possible, it is critical to have appropriate high school preparation, pursue a course of study that is intended for four-year completion, and follow these prudent practices:

- Students should select a major early in college and stay with that major. Courses taken as part of Associate of Arts and Associate of Science degrees generally transfer better than courses taken as part of Associate of Applied Science degrees.
- Students should contact an academic advisor or admissions representative well before enrollment on one of the University of Nebraska campuses so that they can learn more about coursework requirements and review a plan of study for their anticipated major. Resources such as Transfer.Nebraska.edu and Transferology.com should be used to obtain information about the transfer of credits from previous institution(s), and the applicability of those credits to an intended NU major.

The University of Nebraska’s goal is that transfer students who follow prudent practices will be able to graduate in four years of post-secondary work, but not longer than the timeline agreed upon with their academic advisor during the first semester of enrollment at the University of Nebraska.

The University of Nebraska guarantees that transfer students will be able to enroll in courses that permit graduation consistent with the agreed upon academic plan of study. If that is not possible, NU will work with the student to offer approved alternatives or substitutions that will fit into the agreed upon course of study time frame.
To be eligible for the guarantee, transfer students shall:

- Schedule a meeting and meet with their academic advisor, no later than during their second month at NU, to develop and finalize a specific plan of study to complete degree requirements for their declared major. Ideally, transfer students will take 15 credit hours or more each semester with acceptable grades after transferring to the University of Nebraska.
- Sign up for classes during each semester’s priority registration period.
- Pass all courses listed on their program of study on the first attempt (no deficient grades as defined by the college and major).
- Meet with their advisor every semester and respond promptly to all communications from academic advisors, faculty advisors, the registrar, and Advising and Career Services staff.
- Notify their academic advisor and their college Dean’s Office, during the applicable semester’s priority registration period, when program-of-study planned coursework is not available for enrollment.
- Not be subject to any disciplinary action per the Student Code of Conduct that restricts academic progress.
- Apply for University of Nebraska graduation by the campus specific deadline.

If a student fulfills the requirements detailed above and is not able to graduate according to the agreed upon program of study time frame, the University of Nebraska will cover 100% of tuition for any additional course(s) needed to graduate.
Undergraduate Returning Student Degree Completion Guarantee

The Undergraduate Returning/Re-admitted Student Degree Completion Guarantee is the University of Nebraska’s promise to do our part to support the academic journey of undergraduate students who have paused their attendance from a University of Nebraska campus and to facilitate completion of their degree. This program is designed for those who want to complete their degree program as quickly as possible and are committed to successfully completing an approved course of study developed with their University of Nebraska (NU) academic advisor.

Students who have paused their attendance from colleges and universities other than the University of Nebraska and wish to complete their degree at the University of Nebraska should refer to our Undergraduate Transfer Student Degree Completion Guarantee policy. Likewise, students who started at one NU campus but wish to complete their degree at another NU campus also should refer to the Transfer Student policy.

The length of time required to earn a NU degree will vary depending on the number of credits successfully completed, the number of degree requirements fulfilled, and a student’s semester course-load. Every student’s path is different. Of course, students may ultimately need or just choose a different pace to take a wider range of courses that are not directly related to their field of study, engage in experiential or service-learning opportunities, represent their school on a collegiate team, or attend school part-time. Additionally, those seeking dual degrees, multiple majors, or certain academic concentrations may need more time to complete their work.

For students looking to complete a degree in as little time as possible, it is important to pursue a course of study that leverages previously completed coursework that meets degree requirements, and to follow these prudent practices:

- Students should contact an academic advisor or admissions representative well before re-enrollment so that they can learn more about coursework requirements and review a plan of study for their anticipated major. Resources such as Transfer.Nebraska.edu and Transferology.com should be used to obtain information about the transfer of credits from any other institution(s), and the applicability of those credits to an intended NU major.
- Prior to re-applying, students should select or reconfirm their major and stay with that major through graduation.

The University of Nebraska’s goal is that students returning to higher education who follow prudent practices will be able to graduate in a total of four years of post-secondary work, but not longer than the timeline agreed upon with their academic advisor during the first semester of re-enrollment at the University of Nebraska.
The University of Nebraska guarantees that re-admitted students will be able to enroll in courses that permit graduation consistent with a newly agreed upon academic plan of study. If that is not possible, NU will work with the student to offer approved alternatives or substitutions that will fit into the agreed upon course of study time frame.

To be eligible for the guarantee, re-admitted students shall:

- Schedule a meeting and meet with their academic advisor, no later than during their second month at NU, to develop and finalize a specific plan of study (including an agreed upon timeframe) to complete degree requirements for their declared major.
- Sign up for classes during each semester’s priority registration period.
- Pass all courses listed on their program of study on the first attempt (no deficient grades as defined by the college and major).
- Meet with their advisor every semester and respond promptly to all communications from academic advisors, faculty advisors, the registrar, and Advising and Career Services staff.
- Notify their academic advisor and their college Dean’s Office, during the applicable semester’s priority registration period, when program-of-study planned coursework is not available for enrollment.
- Not be subject to any disciplinary action per the Student Code of Conduct that restricts academic progress.
- Apply for University of Nebraska graduation by the campus specific deadline.

If a student fulfills the requirements detailed above and is not able to graduate according to the agreed upon program of study time frame, the University of Nebraska will cover 100% of tuition for any additional course(s) needed to graduate.

SUBJECT: Creation of a Spanish for the Helping Professions Undergraduate Certificate in the Department of Modern Languages in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Nebraska at Kearney

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval to create a Spanish for the Helping Professions Undergraduate Certificate in the Department of Modern Languages in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK)

PREVIOUS ACTIONS:

January 30, 2015 – The Board approved the merging and renaming of the Bachelor of Arts degrees in French, German, and Spanish to a Bachelor of Arts in Modern Languages at UNK.

January 30, 2015 – The Board approved the renaming of the Bachelor of Arts degree in Spanish Translation and Interpretation to a comprehensive Bachelor of Science degree in Spanish Translation and Interpretation at UNK.

December 10, 1994 – The Board approved the renaming of the Department of Foreign Languages to the Department of Modern Languages at UNK.

The Bachelor of Science (comprehensive) in Social Work was established prior to modern records of Board approvals.

EXPLANATION:
The proposed UNK Spanish for the Helping Professions Undergraduate Certificate is an 18-credit hour in-person program. Students completing the required coursework will gain Spanish language competency designed to help meet a critical need for social workers in Nebraska with special training in working with Spanish-speaking populations. The credential can be used independently or in addition to a degree in Social Work. The certificate will be attractive to Social Work, Spanish, Family Studies, and Psychology majors and minors – all of whom find jobs related to community health and social work. In addition, those already employed in social work positions may wish to complete the certificate program in order to serve Spanish-speaking clientele more effectively.

This proposal has been reviewed by the Council of Academic Officers; it also has been reviewed by the Academic Affairs Committee.

Ted Carter, President
University of Nebraska
3835 Holdrege Street – Varner Hall
Lincoln, NE 68583

Dear President Carter:

I am writing this letter in support of a request for a new undergraduate certificate program, “Spanish for the Helping Professions.” This proposed program is the result of collaboration between UNK’s Modern Languages and Social Work departments and has the support of Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences and Senior Vice Chancellor Charles Bicak.

This program responds to a shortage of bilingual front-line workers in social welfare positions across Nebraska. These are the professionals who provide direct, individualized support to people who need resources to improve their well-being. This program will enroll degree seeking students as well as current social workers.

The interdisciplinary partnership between the departments of Modern Languages and Social Work will employ existing curriculum and rely on existing resources with no additional funding required.

I concur with the recommendations of the Senior Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Affairs, the Dean of Arts & Sciences, and the respective Department Chairs. I respectfully request your approval.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Douglas A. Kristensen, J.D.

II. Details

A. Overview and Purpose

This certificate is a joint proposal from the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK) Department of Modern Languages and the Department of Social Work. It is intended to provide current and prospective social workers with training in the Spanish language and in working with Spanish-speaking populations. The certificate is intended to be a credential that can be used independently or in addition to a degree in Social Work to show prospective employers that the holder is competent in the Spanish language and has had special training in working with Spanish-speaking populations. The certificate is also intended to address a gap in access to social workers and social work resources among Spanish speakers in rural areas of Nebraska and surrounding states.
B. Program Structure

Students will complete the 18 credits as outlined below.

Social Work (9 hours)
SOWK 420: Diversity and Social Justice (3 hours)
SOWK 467: Social Work with Latino Populations (3 hours)
SOWK 480: Field Placement (in bilingual setting) or SOWK 499: Volunteer Experience in a bilingual setting (3 hours)

Spanish Proficiency and Cultural Competency (9 hours)
Can include:
SPAN 205: Culture, Conversation and Composition (3 hours)
SPAN 309: Foundations of Literacy (3 hours)
SPAN 310 or 311: Cultural History of Spain and Latin America (3 hours)
SPAN 300-499 (as appropriate)

We anticipate the following sequence of Spanish courses, which can vary according to a student's initial placement level:
SPAN 205, SPAN 309, SPAN 310 or 311. While SPAN 205 has a prerequisite, we do not anticipate that students enrolled in this certificate program will need to take the prerequisite. An intermediate-mid level of Spanish will be required for program admission, and Modern Languages' placement procedures will provide exemptions for the prerequisite. Students whose initial placement is higher than SPAN 205 may take other courses from SPAN 300-499 with department approval.

C. Admission

For admission to the certificate program, students must have completed an associate degree (or equivalent) at an accredited institution OR twelve (12) hours of coursework at UNK while maintaining a 3.0 GPA. Additionally, students must demonstrate the ability to place into SPAN 205, as determined by the Department of Modern Languages.

D. Student Interest

We anticipate that this certificate will be attractive to Social Work and Spanish majors and minors. For instance, a student completing a minor in Spanish will be able to earn the certificate by adding just 9 hours of Social Work coursework. A student who has a minor in Social Work can pair it with the proposed certificate and complete 25% (6 hours) of the minor with the certificate coursework. A student completing a major in Social Work, if he or she chooses SOWK 467 as an elective, will only need the designated 9 hours in Spanish to earn the certificate.
Beyond the host departments, we anticipate interest from Family Studies and Psychology students who plan to find jobs related to community health and social work. Additionally, persons already employed in social work positions may wish to complete the certificate program in order to serve a Spanish-speaking clientele more effectively.

III. Review Criteria

A. Centrality to UNK Role and Mission

The UNK Mission and Vision statements emphasize community engagement and public service. Likewise, the University of Nebraska system’s Vision statement says that the university will be the “premier partner in our communities” in improving quality of life. By providing current and prospective social workers and related professionals with the intercultural skills and communicative tools required to address the needs of a growing segment of our community, this proposed certificate will contribute to that mission.

B. Relationship of the proposal to the NU Five-Year Strategy

The proposed certificate supports the NU Five-Year Strategy’s workforce development pillar. The certificate will help meet workforce demand for trained, bilingual social work professionals. Additionally, the Five-Year Strategy references “pathways to college, to relevant internships and academic experiences, and finally, to great jobs here in Nebraska.” This certificate provides a pathway to bilingual Social Work skills that is accessible to current and returning students alike. The proposed certificate includes a practical fieldwork component that can be fulfilled with internships that often lead directly to job placement.

C. Consistency with the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Postsecondary Education

The proposed certificate is consistent with the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Postsecondary Education, particularly in its attention to meeting the needs of the State of Nebraska. As outlined below, the certificate addresses a workforce need for trained, bilingual professionals, especially in rural areas of the state. It also contributes to the health and prosperity of Nebraska’s people by training social work professionals to work to improve the wellbeing of communities that are currently disadvantaged by a lack of social work and health care services provided in Spanish.

D. Evidence of Need and Demand

The U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates a 13% increase in employment of social workers between 2019–2029. Likewise, it is estimated that Nebraska’s Hispanic population could reach nearly 25% of the state’s total population by 2050, representing nearly triple the current Hispanic population. A researcher at the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO) characterized this trend as “the main engine of population growth not only in the country but in the state” (Tobias). From 2010-2019, the Hispanic population of the Midwest increased by 18% (Krogstad), contributing to a faster-than-predicted diversification of the nation’s population and accounting for population growth in rural areas that would have otherwise experienced decline (Frey). Together, these trends show a likely long-term increase in the demand for Spanish-speaking social workers in our state.
In addition to these general trends, our Social Work alumni and community social work professionals have alerted us to an urgent lack of qualified Spanish speakers in social work occupations. We have included letters from five community partners in human services profession including education, healthcare, child welfare, and general welfare outlining the demand for individuals with the skills associate with this certificate. Each of these letters highlights areas of demand for hiring agencies and organizations. One letter, from an administrator at Nebraska’s Department of Health and Human Services, points out that Nebraska is “in dire need of bilingual professionals in the field of Social Work.” In a recent meeting with state employees who oversee the Title 1C education program for Migratory Children, they expressed excitement about this proposed certificate and about the possibility of hiring future employees with the certificate or training current employees via the certificate program. The letters convey this same sentiment indicating that there are likely hundreds of positions for future hires with the certificate in addition to hundreds of current employees who could potentially benefit from the certificate.

According to the Nebraska Statewide Hiring and Training Needs Report, there is a greater-than-average difficulty in finding workers in Health Care and Social Assistance. This difficulty is more acute in the rural areas of the state. “Lack of occupation-specific skills” and “lack of work experience” were among the most common reasons that employers in these fields cited as causing hiring difficulties. Our certificate helps to address these deficiencies by providing students with occupationally specific and population-specific training, as well as practical experience (field work).

E. Avoidance of Unnecessary Duplication

If approved, this certificate will likely be the first of its kind in the entire Midwest. To our knowledge, neither Nebraska nor any neighboring state has a program designed to provide Social Work students with significant training in Spanish and Intercultural Communication. The nine hours of linguistically and culturally tailored Social Work coursework (SOWK 420, SOWK 467, SOWK 480) are unique. At first glance, it appears that Missouri State University has a program similar to our proposed certificate. However, the MSU “Spanish for the Health and Human Services” certificate includes only six hours of Spanish and only three hours of Social Work coursework that addresses minority and/or Latino communities. Moreover, the MSU certificate lacks an applied or practical component like the SOWK 480 in our proposal.

Another existing regional program that overlaps partially with our proposed certificate is the University of Iowa’s “Certificate in Critical Cultural Competence.” This program is intended to develop students’ appreciation of cultural difference and improve their ability to interact with people of diverse backgrounds; however, there is no linguistic component, and the program does not appear to address a particular demographic the way our proposal attempts to address the rural Spanish-speaking population of Nebraska and the surrounding region. Likewise, the University of Denver has a “Certificate in Latinx Social Work,” but it is restricted to graduate students. We hope that our certificate will provide a route to language and cultural competency for early-career social workers, not just returning or graduate students, in order to address rural Spanish speakers' lack of access to social workers and social work resources in their language. Aside from these partial exceptions, which demonstrate the growing need for such programs in our region, one must go farther afield (the Southwest, Florida, East and West coasts) to find programs that integrate Spanish and Social Work in a systematic way. The University of Nebraska at Omaha has a Spanish certificate proposal that is undergoing revision. The UNO proposal is a graduate certificate for medical professionals, and it doesn't overlap significantly with our proposal. Rather, its existence demonstrates the continuity of workforce demand for Spanish-speaking professionals in a variety of fields.

The interdisciplinary nature of the certificate (Spanish and Social Work) will prepare students to combine knowledge from both disciplines. The requirement of service/volunteer coursework in an actual agency using Spanish also provides students with community-connected, hands-on learning. The certificate option is also unique in that it can serve a broad population. It could serve current UNK students in addition to those who already hold bachelor’s as well as advanced degree holders.

As a university that offers full four-year undergraduate programs, UNK is the most appropriate institution to host this certificate program, which requires intermediate-mid to advanced level study of Spanish. Community colleges do not offer courses at this level of proficiency.

I am writing to express my support for the University of Kearney’s proposed Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate. This innovative program epitomizes the direction of our state’s World Language Standards by combining high-level language learning and intercultural understanding with the professions. I believe it is the first to combine Spanish with a focus on Social Work and one of only a few dual language certificate programs in higher education in Nebraska.

Career or technical dual-language instruction in higher education offers college or university students a unique opportunity to apply language skills to a specific content area. The goal of this instruction is to provide students with an advanced level of proficiency that cannot be attained in a traditional second-language classroom. Mastering technical or career-based language enables future professionals to provide better service to a wider clientele, to avoid misunderstandings, and to acquire client trust. By creating the Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate, UNK is poised to produce students that meet an ever-increasing need to provide appropriate, individualized care that helps those marginalized by insufficient language proficiency to access resources, improve their well-being, and strengthen their social conditions.

I strongly applaud the work of the Department of Modern Languages and the Department of Social Work at the University of Nebraska Kearney for their foresight and ability to plan for the needs of future students.

I am writing this letter to express my support for the University of Nebraska at Kearney’s proposed Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate. This program is the exact direction that we need to be moving within the state of Nebraska. I believe this will be an added benefit for the Social Work program. We need this program as we are in dire need of bilingual professionals in the field of Social Work, more specifically, within the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services (NDHHS). It is imperative within the social work field to be trauma-informed and culturally humble when building professional relationships with clients. Having a vast pool of social work professionals that are able to interact with clients in their native language is a crucial component in providing quality social work.

The Social Work program at UNK is an active partner with NDHHS and this certificate program will help to continue to expand the existing partnership.

NDHHS would benefit from this certification being offered at UNK in many ways. NDHHS struggles to recruit and hire bilingual Social Workers to provide Child Welfare services, specifically in Central Nebraska. At this time, NDHHS staff rely on the language line, which is an amazing resource, however, does not compare to the impact of being able to have one on one communication between the social worker and the client.

To Whom It May Concern:

Community Action Partnership of Mid-Nebraska expresses our support for the University of Kearney’s (UNK) proposed Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate. Our private, non-profit agency serves 27 counties in south central Nebraska and two counties in Kansas. Many of the counties we serve have large Spanish speaking populations. In order to best serve our communities, we employ bi-lingual staff when possible and also utilize the Language Line to help our clients. The Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate would greatly enhance the skills of UNK students as they work in social services professions across Nebraska.

Through creating the Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate, UNK is posed to produce students that meet an ever-increasing need to provide appropriate, individualized care that helps those marginalized by insufficient language proficiency to access resources, improve their well-being, and strengthen their social conditions.

We strongly applaud the work of the Department of Modern Languages and the Department of Social Work at the University of Nebraska Kearney for their foresight and ability to plan for the needs of future students.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my support for the University of NE-Kearney’s proposed Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate. This program supports the core values of social work practice---cultural competence, integrity and respect, and providing valuable service while recognizing the dignity and worth of a person. Every day in the helping professions we discover barriers that diverse populations of people experience which limits their ability to thrive in a healthy manner. This program is a great start to breaking down those barriers for our community members as well as our helping professions.

I currently serve as the Director of Social Work/Case Management in an acute care hospital setting, settled in the middle of rural NE. Our hospital currently has one interpreter to serve our growing, diverse population of people. What we have observed is that technological support for interpretation and translation needs does not adequately support our efforts to provide patient-centered, quality care. To adequately support our patients, we have a duty to provide top-notch, competent professionals with a diversity of skills who will establish a trusting relationship. This program strives to do just this---provide a valuable opportunity to enhance the solid educational foundation of the helping profession by collaborating with the Modern Languages Department. This creative venture is likely one of a kind and rare.

I highly encourage full-on support for this proposed program between the Department of Modern Language and Department of Social Work. Both these programs have a tremendous reputation for producing top quality students; I do not anticipate anything less than that with this venture.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to express my support for the University of Kearney proposed Spanish for the Helping Professions Certificate. Social work is all about helping individuals in any way or form. By allowing such certificate to exist will help helping professions do just that with the Latino population.

I currently work in an agency where I am in constant contact with the Latino population. I have noticed that when there is not a Spanish speaking individual working, our agency does not help as many Latino individuals. My coworkers have mentioned to me that many Latino individuals leave and say they will be back another time when there is a Spanish-speaking worker available. Personally, I believe this is unfair and it upsets me that they feel they must leave and come back until there is someone who may understand them a little more. The look a relief a Spanish-speaking individual gets when they realize I speak Spanish is saddening and heartwarming at the same time. Their level of comfort seems to go up and they no longer walk around looking as if they are too scared to ask their questions. As helping professions, we all know that some individuals do not like asking for help. Unfortunately, we are one of those agencies where some individuals feel ashamed to set foot in. So now imagine walking in feeling ashamed and feeling scared due to a language barrier. I am sure the language barrier prevents many individuals from coming in and asking for the help they need and that is not right. By creating a new course entitled Social Work with Latino populations to exist, you will also be creating a new door for many Latinos to feel comfortable to seek the help they may need. Even just a few words in Spanish could honestly make such a difference in a Latino’s life. Not only this but a course in Spanish language proficiency and cultural competence will help social workers grow and allow helping professions help more of the world’s population.

I really admire the effort the language department and the social work department are putting forth to make such certificate exist. As a person who grew up seeing her parents struggle with the language barrier, I thank you for considering such course and for thinking about the Latino population.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Segura

Academic Affairs Committee

Addendum XI-A-3

MEETING DATE: October 8, 2021

SUBJECT: Creation of a Perioperative Nursing Undergraduate Certificate in the College of Nursing at the University of Nebraska Medical Center

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval to create a Perioperative Nursing Undergraduate Certificate in the College of Nursing at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC)

PREVIOUS ACTIONS: April 10, 2015 – The Board approved the creation of an Internationally Educated Nurses Undergraduate Certificate in the College of Nursing at UNMC.

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing at UNMC was established prior to modern records of Board approvals.

EXPLANATION: The proposed 14-credit hour UNMC Perioperative Nursing Undergraduate Certificate is designed to prepare registered nurses to function at a staff nurse level in perioperative nursing. Perioperative nursing is the term used to include patient pre-operative care, the actual time in the operating room, and the time patients spend in post-anesthesia recovery. Most nursing pre-licensure programs offer very limited, if any, exposure to highly specialized perioperative nursing within their curricula. This program will help address shortages of nurses in this specialty. Classroom instruction will be delivered in a hybrid modality (online, distance, synchronous, asynchronous), with intermittent intensive face-to-face sessions for simulation and clinical exams. Students also will engage in supervised clinical practice in hospitals in their geographic area.

This proposal has been reviewed by the Council of Academic Officers; it also has been reviewed by the Academic Affairs Committee.

PROGRAM COST: $105,840 for Year 1; $546,840 over five years

Dear Provost Gold:

I am forwarding you the materials relating to the creation of a Perioperative Nursing Certificate, administered by the College of Nursing. This 14-credit certificate program is designed to prepare registered nurses to function at a staff nurse level in perioperative nursing. Perioperative nursing is the term given to care delivered during the perioperative continuum, which includes pre-operative care, the actual time in the operating room, and time patients spend in post-anesthesia (recovery room). This certificate will encompass all three areas of care delivery but will focus primarily on care delivered in the operating room. Over the last several years, multiple authors, and our clinical partners, have documented a looming shortage of qualified perioperative nurses. This one-semester program aims to alleviate this shortage in our state and region.

This proposal has been reviewed by us, and it has our approval. We are requesting your review and approval, that of the Chief Academic Officers, and that it be reported to the Board of Regents at an upcoming meeting.

Sincerely,

H. Dele Davies, MD, MS, MHCM
Senior Vice Chancellor

Proposal to Create an Undergraduate Certificate in Perioperative Nursing

University of Nebraska Medical Center

College of Nursing

I. Descriptive Information

Name of the institution proposing the program: The University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC)

Name of the program being proposed: Perioperative Nursing Certificate (PNC) Program

CIP code: 51.3812

Degree/credential to be awarded graduates of the program: Undergraduate Perioperative Nursing Certificate (PNC)

Other approved programs offered in this field by the institution: Other currently approved UNMC nursing programs include BSN, MSN, PhD, DNP, and Post (Master’s) Graduate Certificates.

Administrative unit for the program: College of Nursing (CON)

Proposed delivery site(s) and type(s) of delivery, if applicable: The didactic (classroom) curriculum for this program will be delivered in a hybrid modality (online, distance, synchronous, asynchronous), with intermittent intensive face-to-face sessions for simulation and Objective Structured Clinical Exams (OSCEs). Students will also engage in supervised clinical practice in hospitals in their geographic area. Currently, operating room (OR) simulation rooms exist in Omaha and Lincoln. Other sites may be added at a later date.

Date approved by governing board: Pending

Proposed date (term/year) the program will be initiated: Upon Approval. Clinical partners are advocating for first offering in January 2022, with transition to summers only in subsequent years.

Description, including credit hours and other requirements (program of study), and purpose of the proposed program:

This 14 credit certificate program is designed to prepare registered nurses (RN) to function at a staff nurse level in perioperative nursing. Perioperative nursing is the term given to care delivered during the perioperative continuum, which includes pre-operative care, the actual time in the operating room, and time patients spend in post-anesthesia (recovery room). This certificate will encompass all three areas of care delivery, but will focus primarily on care delivered in the operating room. Over the last several years, multiple authors have documented a looming shortage of qualified perioperative nurses (AORN, 2015; Beitz, 2019; Gallegos, 2018; Sadler, 2017). While the general nursing shortage and retirement of nurses with multiple years of experience is a large part of this shortage, it is exacerbated by the fact that most pre-licensure programs of nursing offer very limited, if any, exposure to highly specialized perioperative nursing within their curricula. It is further complicated by the fact that orientation for perioperative positions takes a minimum of six months, and often more, in most acute care hospitals. Thus, new nursing graduates are often not aware of perioperative opportunities, and once there, may decide that this clinical area is not for them, resulting in a workforce loss for the institution. This program is designed to give the student didactic knowledge, as well as simulation and supervised clinical experiences such that graduates feel they have been prepared for this clinical area. They will come to the employer with knowledge and skills that will shorten the time required to be oriented to a specific organization, and able to function more independently in significantly less time.

The program includes 14 credits which will be completed in a 15 week semester and includes 225 hours (5 credits) of lab, simulation and supervised clinical experience. Laboratory and simulation experiences will take place virtually or in OR simulation rooms within institutions available to UNMC CON. Perioperative care requires teamwork with other health professionals; this program is focused on preparing RNs for the perioperative roles and competencies within the operating room team setting. This curriculum was approved by the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee of the CON on October 4, 2020, and by the full faculty through the General Faculty Organization on November 16, 2020. In response to requests from clinical partners, ideally this program would be offered in January 2022 and transition to summer session only thereafter.

The program description is: “The PNC program provides an interprofessional patient-centered approach to the principles and practice of perioperative care. Using the perioperative continuum as the basis for learning, students explore the essentials of communication (TeamSTEPPS™), and principles of interprofessional practice in perioperative areas (preoperative, intraoperative and postoperative areas) and support of the patient and family as they move through the continuum. Case studies, simulations in an OR lab and clinical experience with preceptors in selected clinical sites will assist in applying theory to practice. At the end of the semester, the student will be able to identify the principles of interprofessional perioperative care, the perioperative environment, safety in the perioperative area, aseptic technique, equipment and instrumentation, roles of the perioperative team, including circulating and scrubbing, and the collaborative team approach to care. At the successful completion of the didactic and clinical components of the program, the student will be able to function at a baseline perioperative nurse level within the perioperative environment and will receive a PNC.”

Competencies of the Program include:

1. Utilize the concepts of safety, asepsis, advocacy, teamwork, communication and patient centered care to improve outcomes in the perioperative setting.

2. Correlate critical thinking and systematic inquiry with patient care practices throughout the perioperative continuum.

3. Demonstrate the clinical competency criteria in the key roles of the perioperative nurse: scrub, circulator and manager of care.

4. Manage patient care activity throughout the perioperative continuum that is based on respect for the patient’s preference, values and needs.

5. Collaborate with the interprofessional team to inform decision-making regarding the care of patients, families and groups.

6. Integrate leadership in the provision, coordination and evaluation of safe, quality care in a variety of settings.

7. Analyze the impact of information technology when planning and caring for patients and families.
A student in the program must already be a nurse, but there is no restriction of which type of pre-licensure program completed by the applicants. Students may be admitted as new graduates, or RNs with an unencumbered license in Nebraska, and a minimum graduation GPA of 2.0 from their pre-licensure program. Those who enter as new graduates must have completed their pre-licensure program before the program begins. In order to be licensed as an RN in Nebraska, the graduate must successfully pass the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX). The new graduate may complete the program, but transcripts and certificates of completion will not be released until NCLEX certification is complete and the individual is licensed as an RN.

A program of study, and course descriptions can be found in Appendix A.

II. Review Criteria

Relationship of the proposal to NU Five-Year Strategy

This proposed program meets several of the Five-Year Strategy Priorities as explained below.

Accessible, Affordable and Attainable Education: Currently there are two paths to RN licensure – the Associate Degree in Nursing (ADN) graduate and the Baccalaureate of Science in Nursing (BSN) graduate. Both may function as perioperative nurses; thus, the admission criteria for this new certificate program do not specify which of the two pre-licensure educational programs applicants must have completed. We are using a hybrid model and virtual resources to make the didactic portion available wherever students live, while ensuring competence through immersive in-person simulation and labs. Precepted clinical experiences can also be fulfilled where students live.

Fulfilling Nebraska’s Workforce Needs: While this program does not increase the total number of nurses in the state, it does provide Nebraska hospitals with individuals who have completed learning for a specialized role in nursing. As noted, this nursing specialty is rarely included in pre-licensure nursing education, but is a specialty required in almost every hospital. Chief nursing officers at a number of Nebraska’s hospitals have told us they would benefit from students learning this material in an organized program (for example, see the two letters of support that are attached).

Fostering an Inclusive Culture and Environment: All RNs are eligible to register in this program. Successful completion of this program may encourage participants to consider additional education and skills in nursing at a later date.

Amplifying our Impact Through Partnerships: We have heard in the College of Nursing Community Advisory Meetings on each of our five campuses of the shortage of nurses competent in this specialty. We are responding and partnering with clinical agencies across the state to provide nurses with the preparation necessary to meet the need.

Maximizing Efficiency and Effectiveness: The people of Nebraska have demonstrated trust by helping to fund the simulation and laboratory resources on our campuses. We are aiming to maximize use of these resources for another type of health student – nurses. Graduates of this program will need less orientation time in their employment setting, thus assisting clinical agencies to also be more efficient and effective.
A. Centrality to Role and Mission:
   The mission of UMNC is to “lead the world in transforming lives to create a healthy future for all individuals and communities through premier educational programs, innovative research and extraordinary patient care.” Within the UNMC strategic plan, attention to innovative educational opportunities is noted. This program meets two of the strategies outlined in the mission – it is a premier and innovative educational program, and contributes to extraordinary patient care. As delineated under the need and demand section of this proposal, our clinical partners view this program as assisting them to meet the needs of their patients. In addition, the interprofessional focus of the program assists in moving OR nursing to a more holistic vision.

   In the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Postsecondary Education, UNMC is noted as “the primary unit of the University of Nebraska for programs in health–related disciplines.” It further goes on to state “UNMC’s areas of specialization serve as an excellent model to other institutions.” Thus, it is fitting that UNMC should lead the state in creating this innovative certificate and internship.

B. Evidence of Need and Demand:
   The literature cited earlier in this document outlines a national need for this program. Our Nebraska assessment of need is based on requests from our clinical partners. As part of the CON relationship with our partners across the state, the CON holds annual Advisory Committee meetings in each of our five campuses (Kearney, Lincoln, Norfolk, Omaha, Scottsbluff). Advisory Committee members in each city come from local and surrounding institutions. In meetings on each campus over the last few years, conversations have been held about nursing shortages in general, and specifically for perioperative nurses. Retirements of nurses with significant experience have been noted. Difficulty in recruiting replacement nurses have been cited – including the need to pay premium salaries due to on call requirements. The lengthy time required to orient a nurse new to the perioperative setting has been identified as a problem. As we talked about this proposal, there was strong interest noted; in fact, two of the most common questions were “when will it start?” and “how many seats will you have?” Several institutions have indicated that they would be willing to assist students with costs, as they envision this program helping them to orient new staff at a much quicker pace. Several clinical partners have also contributed significantly to the curriculum plan. Two letters of support from chief nursing officers in large Nebraska hospitals are included in the supporting documentation file.

   There are nurse credentials for perioperative nurses to apply for certification by the Competency and Credentialing Institute (CCI). The eligibility criteria focus on possession of a Registered Nurse license and two years (2,400 hours) of documented clinical experience in a perioperative setting (https://www.cc-institute.org/cnor/learn/#eligible). Completing eligibility requirements allows the candidate to receive study materials in preparation for sitting the perioperative credentialing examination. Once certified, the certification must be renewed every five years. Nurses who achieve certification receive the credential Certified Perioperative Nurse (CNOR). There are additional levels of certification, generally at the management/leadership levels. While this program will not shorten the time to credential eligibility, it is believed that this program will better prepare the nurse to enter the perioperative field, and will shorten the preparation time required once eligibility criteria have been met.
C. Adequacy of Resources

1. Faculty and Staff Resources

Faculty resources for this program include resources for teaching and clinical supervision. Ms. Jane Miller and Ms. Sarah Dillon are already on faculty, and there are additional potential faculty who have contributed to this proposal, and who are willing to teach. As noted in the budget, we anticipate requiring 1.5 FTE at the instructor level and .5 FTE at the assistant professor level for 20 enrolled students. We plan to schedule it for Summers only, so faculty needs can be filled through summer contracts, or extending current academic year faculty into a summer contract. The CON is currently working with our clinical partners to ensure quality precepted clinical experiences, as well as contributions to the curriculum. Our clinical partners have indicated support in providing preceptors and quality clinical experiences. As we continue to add programs to the College of Nursing, additional support and admissions staff are added as required. The budget outlines that we anticipate a small increase in student services and simulation staff. For the short term, these assignments can be handled as part of the current complement. However, as we implement additional academic programs, these small amounts of staff time will add up to an advertised part-time or full-staff member. This would also occur if the CON experiences a large increase in student enrollment.

2. Physical Facilities

The CON currently offers nursing programs in five locations in Nebraska – Kearney, Lincoln, Omaha, Norfolk and Scottsbluff. In addition, students access programs using distance technology such as Zoom or IP Video. It is planned that this program will be delivered as a hybrid, utilizing synchronous and asynchronous distance delivery, as well as in-person labs and simulations, and finally, supervised clinical practice. The in-person sessions will be planned within each course, and communicated to the students well ahead of time. The in-person sessions may take place in Omaha, or Lincoln, as each have OR simulation rooms. Should demand increase, the CON is planning to invest in further OR simulation sites, beginning with Kearney. The clinical hours will be precepted in hospitals within the students’ geographic locale, with faculty visits in person or by Zoom with the student and the preceptors.

3. Instructional Equipment and Informational Resources

As noted, two of the divisions currently have OR simulation equipment, and all campuses have Zoom connectivity, as courses are often shared amongst the divisions. Thus, at least initially, there would be no need for additional equipment. Two of the other divisions outside of Omaha and Lincoln have expressed interest in creating simulation space for this program, so there is the potential to expand using simulation resources on those campuses.

4. Budget Projections

Please see Tables 1 and 2, with accompanying explanation.
D. Avoidance of Unnecessary Duplication
The Association of periOperative Registered Nurses (AORN) currently offers an OR101 course that can be accessed by hospitals. Multiple internet searches resulted in only one university-based hospital system (Mayo Clinic) that offered the course. There was one site that listed the “top 10” schools for perioperative nursing; however, extensive review of several of the school websites showed that the schools listed offered an anesthesia advanced practice RN program (CRNA), rather than a perioperative program for RNs. A call to AORN elicited the information that they do NOT keep a list of schools and/or hospitals that use the curriculum, and they declined to share any aspects of the curriculum or where one might go to take the course. We were unable to find a university-based academic program such as this perioperative certificate we are proposing and there is definitely not a program available at any schools of nursing in Nebraska.

As noted previously, eligibility for initial certification as a CNOR is the completion of a pre-licensure RN degree, RN licensure, and documented hours of perioperative experience. A phone call to the accreditor (Competency and Credentialing Institute) elicited the information that no additional education was required.

E. Consistency with the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Postsecondary Education
The program that is proposed herein meets all of the major statewide goals. It meets the needs of students by enabling them to be more successful in achieving fewer barriers in successful practice as a perioperative nurse. It meets the needs of the state in that it provides nurses who know they will find satisfaction in the perioperative environment and are more than ready for orientation to that nursing workforce in Nebraska. It builds exemplary institutions through the preparation of nurses who elect to enter this field of nursing, working in interprofessional teams, and demonstrating exemplary care of patients and families. While this program is aimed at Nebraska nursing needs, out-of-state students may be part of the program. Finally, UNMC and the CON have been consistent in facilities planning to meet educational needs. The ability of the CON to use simulation facilities to support the Perioperative Nursing Certificate makes it possible to meet this unique and important educational need.

Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Programs
UNMC College of Nursing

Dear Dr. Leeseberg-Stamler,

This letter is being sent to support the undergraduate certificate in Perioperative Nursing program at UNMC. As we have previously discussed, there is a need for perioperative nurses not only at Nebraska Medicine but across the state. This certificate program will certainly assist us in filling that need!

If this can all come together by January 2022, that would be ideal, but understand that the program might not be ready to start until summer 2022.

Thank you for collaborating with us!

Sincerely,

Suzanne L. Nuss, MBA, PhD, RN, CENP

Dear Dr. Leeseberg Stamler,

Please accept this as a letter of support for the initiation of an undergraduate certificate in Perioperative Nursing. This area of specialty nursing practice has a critical need for additional numbers of the nursing workforce, and it has a very long on-boarding requirement due to the complexities and variations in the practice setting. This program could make a significant impact in increasing the level of interest in this area of nursing practice as well as assist employers to get new employees to a point of clinical competence much sooner.

Bryan would be very happy to hire graduates who have completed such a course.

Respectfully,

Lisa Vail, RN, DNP, NEA-BC

II. Details

A. Purpose of the Proposed Major or Degree:

The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) proposes to establish a Master of Science (MS) degree in Medical Physiology (MEP). This new online, distance learning-only program will focus on educating students in all aspects of physiology, with a particular focus on medical physiology. The MEP MS degree is designed to meet the needs of several prospective student populations (Figure 1), including: 1) students seeking undergraduate college and university adjunct teaching positions, as well as junior/community college teaching positions in physiology; 2) students seeking to improve their competitiveness for admission into a physiology (or physiology-related) PhD program; 3) students seeking to enhance their knowledge in physiology to improve their rank and earning potential in physiology-based, basic science and/or clinical research laboratories; and, 4) students seeking to broaden and deepen their physiology knowledge base in their pursuit of medical school or health professional school admission. The program curriculum includes coursework focused on medical physiology, cell physiology, cardiovascular pathophysiology, advanced topics in physiology, and pharmacology for the physiologists. The curriculum is enhanced by coursework in scientific writing, biostatistics, and two courses focused on the foundation and instructional design of health professions education. The goal of this program is to provide this unique curriculum in an online, distance learning-only format to the student populations described above and all other individuals who wish to enrich and extend their understanding of physiology, and apply their new knowledge to their chosen career path.

B. Description of the Proposed Major or Degree:

Structure, objectives and plans to regularly review/revise the program:

The new MEP Master of Science degree will be a 30-credit hour, non-thesis, distance learning-only program that is designed to be completed in two academic semesters (i.e. approximately nine months). The online, distance learning-only program will include courses taught both synchronously and asynchronously. Students will enroll in four courses worth 16 credits in the fall semester and five courses worth 14 credits in the spring semester. Students will be required to pass a Comprehensive Exam near the end of the second semester (see Comprehensive Exam details below).

Leadership of the MEP MS program will include a program director and committee. Dr. Matthew Zimmerman, associate professor in UNMC’s Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology, will be the program’s inaugural director. The MEP Program Committee, which will also serve as the program’s curriculum committee, will consist of Dr. Zimmerman (chair) and four additional graduate faculty in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. Members of the first MEP Program Committee include, Drs. Erika Boesen (associate professor), Paras Mishra (associate professor), Harold Schultz (professor), and Irving Zucker (professor). The Program Committee will be responsible for the program’s overall strategy, developing policies, and formulating general requirements for the program. As chair of the MEP MS Program Committee, Dr. Zimmerman will report the progress, successes, and challenges of the MEP MS program to Dr. Merry Lindsey, Chair of the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. The program will receive administrative support from a full-time administrative assistant in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology.

The overall objective of the MEP program is to provide students from Nebraska and elsewhere an opportunity to broaden and deepen their knowledge in medical physiology to advance their individual career goals. As discussed above (Figure 1), the individual goals of students enrolled in the MEP MS program may include being an educator at an undergraduate college/university or junior/community college, or earning admission into a physiology (or physiology-related) PhD program, or working in a basic- or clinical-science research laboratory focused on physiology, health, and/or human disease, or improving ones preparedness for enrolling in medical or health professional school.

During the first five years, the program will be reviewed annually and revised, as needed, by the MEP Program Committee. This annual review is necessary to ensure the program is meeting the needs of enrolled and prospective students, and to reflect new developments in the discipline. The following categories will be reviewed: curriculum, faculty, leadership, and infrastructure required to maintain and enhance the online, distance learning-only learning experience for students. Of note, potential future online electives that already exist at UNMC and other University of Nebraska campuses may be added to the curriculum to meet the needs of Students. In addition to the annual review during the first five years, the MEP Program Committee will continue to periodically review and revise the program thereafter. Further, the program will be reviewed and revised, as needed, every five to seven years by UNMC’s Graduate Council. The Graduate Council review will include the categories listed above, and will also include review of the following: students (prospective, enrolled, and graduated); program reputation; and sustainability of the program.

The MEP Program Committee will receive guidance from an External Advisory Board (EAB). Members of the EAB will include directors of similar master’s programs at peer institutions and potential employers of graduates from the program. These potential employers likely will include CEOs/presidents of biotech companies, deans and department chairs of undergraduate universities and community colleges, and members of medical and/or professional school admission committees. The EAB will meet with the MEP Program Committee annually to discuss successes and challenges to ensure the program continues to serve students’ career goals.

Primary student learning outcomes (SLOs) of the proposed major or degree:

1. Knowledge of the Discipline: Graduates demonstrate broad knowledge and deep knowledge of physiology.
2. Critical Thinking: Graduates are able to critically analyze and synthesize new and complex information from diverse sources.
3. Professional Behavior: Graduates are committed to integrity within all aspects of their chosen profession and abide by existing professional standards. They are able to work in teams and assume responsibility for their actions and their career aspirations.
4. Communication Skills: Graduates demonstrate effective oral, written, and visual communication skills.

Admission criteria and selection procedures for students seeking admission to the major or degree:

Students applying to the MEP MS program will be required to follow the formal procedures established for admission to graduate programs at UNMC. Admitted students will matriculate only in the fall semester.

Admission to the MEP MS Program requires a bachelor’s degree, preferably in a science-related field, from an accredited undergraduate institution with a recommended minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 grading scale. Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended and three (3) letters of recommendation are also required. It is recommended that students should have completed the following undergraduate courses (or their equivalents): biochemistry; calculus; physics; two semesters of Biology. A one-page personal statement describing the applicant’s career goals and interests in the field of physiology is required. Admissions requirements may need to be adjusted for students depending on career goals; this will be assessed as part of the Program’s annual review.

For applicants whose native language is not English and whose undergraduate degree is not from a college or university where courses are predominantly taught in English, a minimum Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score of 95, or an International English Language Testing System (IELTS) minimum overall score of 6.5, is recommended. International students must also have their transcripts evaluated by a credential evaluation service, such as World Education Services (WES), for translation. The transcript evaluation must be course-by-course and identify and describe each diploma or certificate.

Identify new courses that will be needed to implement the program:

All of the online, distance learning-only courses needed to implement the program (see table below) have been approved by UNMC’s Graduate Council and the Executive Associate Dean of UNMC’s Graduate Studies.
Identify collaborative agreements with other postsecondary institutions to expand the curriculum, if applicable:

Although no collaborative agreements with other postsecondary institutions to expand the curriculum are currently in place, it should be noted that students in the MEP MS program will be required to enroll in one course offered by the College of Public Health at UNMC, and two courses offered by the College of Allied Health Professions at UNMC. Additionally, the recently approved online Master of Science Degree in Health Sciences at the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK) opens the door for future potential collaborations to expand the curriculum. For example, students enrolled in UNK’s program may be interested in taking a course offered by the MS in Medical Physiology Program, and vice-versa. Please see letter of support (Appendix C) from Dr. Janet Steele, Director of UNK’s MS in Health Sciences Program.

Credit hour and course requirements, program of study, and other academic requirements:

The Program of Study for students enrolled in the MEP MS program consists of 30 credit hours of coursework designed to be completed in two consecutive semesters (i.e. approximately 9 months) by full-time students. Part-time students will be allowed to complete the MS in Medical Physiology degree over a maximum of five consecutive years, which is the maximum time frame to complete a master’s degree, as established by UNMC’s Graduate Studies. Students will be required to pass Comprehensive Exam (see below for details) near the end of the second semester. To receive the MS degree, students are required to pass the Comprehensive Exam and maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA on the required curriculum. The proposed program consists of the following existing courses:

* All required courses are offered online. ¹ Required courses in the 1st semester (fall); ² Required courses in the 2nd semester (spring)

It should be noted that these required courses would be applicable and transferable to a physiology PhD program, particularly the Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral Program hosted by the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC.

Further, as mentioned above, the MEP Program Committee may decide to add electives to the curriculum in future years to meet the needs and demands of students. It is likely that these electives would be selected from current online courses offered by the UNMC or other University of Nebraska campus, including UNK.
Comprehensive Exam:

Students are required to pass a Comprehensive Exam covering topics from all coursework within the MEP MS curriculum. The Comprehensive Exam must be completed six to seven weeks prior to commencement/graduation. This deadline is within that set by UNMC’s Graduate Studies for non-thesis master’s students. The student’s Advisory Committee serves as the Comprehensive Exam Committee.

The Comprehensive Exam will be a two-part exam with students having two options for the second part. All students will complete the same Part 1 of the Comprehensive Exam. For Part 1, students will be given two consecutive hours to complete an exam consisting of multiple choice and short answer questions designed to evaluate the student’s knowledge of all of the course objectives of the Program’s required courses. Part 1 of the exam will be a closed book/closed note/closed resource exam and will be proctored virtually. For the second part of the Comprehensive Exam, students will select either Part 2A or Part 2B based on their career goals. The student’s Advisory Committee will provide input as to which Part 2 of the exam a student should complete. Students with a career goal of becoming an educator at a community college or undergraduate institution will complete Part 2A of the exam. For Part 2A, students will give a 45-50 minute lecture on a physiology-related topic selected by the Comprehensive Exam Committee. Students with a goal of entering a PhD program, being a researcher, or enrolling in medical or health professional school will complete Part 2B of the exam. For Part 2B, students will be given two consecutive hours to complete an exam consisting of all essay questions designed to evaluate the student’s in-depth knowledge of physiology and ability to integrate physiology and pathophysiology concepts. Part 2B of the exam will be an open book/open note/open resources exam with a two-hour time limit. Notably, as described above, the MEP MS program will be reviewed annually and revised, as needed, by the MEP Program Committee. This review will include evaluation of the Comprehensive Exam format to ensure the exam is a proper assessment tool for all students. If needed, revisions to Part 2 of the exam will be made to meet the specific needs of students with different career goals.

To pass the comprehensive exam, students must earn a score of 70% or higher on both Part 1 and Part 2. If a student fails to earn a 70% or higher on either Part 1 or Part 2 on his/her first attempt, the student is allowed a second attempt on the Part(s) he/she failed the first time. Students must wait at least one month before retaking a failed comprehensive exam. The second attempt must be completed at least two weeks prior to commencement/graduation per the UNMC Graduate Studies’ policy. Failure to earn a score of at least 70% on both Part 1 and Part 2 on the second attempt will result in the student being dismissed from the program.

How and when advisors are assigned for students in the major or degree:

In the first two years of the program, when the number of enrolled students is expected to be less than 10 per year, the MEP MS Program Director will serve as each student’s faculty advisor (i.e. mentor). After the second year, or when the number of incoming students is greater than ten, whichever comes first, each student will be appointed a faculty advisor, who is a member of UNMC’s graduate faculty and holds a primary faculty appointment in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. The faculty advisor and student will meet at least monthly to discuss the student’s progress toward earning the MS degree.

In addition to the faculty advisor, students in the MEP MS program will be mentored by an Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee for every student will be the MEP MS Program Committee (see above for description of MEP MS Program Committee). The Advisory Committee along with the faculty advisor will meet with the student twice per semester (approximately every two months); once at mid-term and once at the end of the semester. The Advisory Committee will administer the Comprehensive Exam. The Advisory Committee will also advise part-time students on the order of courses that each part-time student should follow based on the student’s planned length of time to complete the degree.

All students will be required to complete an Individual Development Plan (IDP) by their first advisory committee meeting (i.e. midterm of first semester). It is recommended that students use myIDP. Based on the student’s IDP, the Advisory Committee will invite an expert in the student’s planned career path to be an ad hoc member of the advisory committee. This ad hoc member will not be a voting member of the committee, but would provide advice and networking opportunities to the student. At the end of each fall semester, ad hoc members of the students’ advisory committees will be invited to participate on an expert panel at a synchronous “career fair,” in which all students will be able to gain insight from experts in multiple career paths.

Impact on Course Subject Codes; will any subject codes need to be created, modified, or deleted:

In June 2020, UNMC’s Registrar’s office created the “MEP” course subject code. At this time, no additional subject codes need to be created, modified or deleted for the MEP MS program.

III. Review Criteria

A. Centrality to UNMC Role and Mission:

UNMC’s mission is “to lead the world in transforming lives to create a healthy future for all individuals and communities through premier educational programs, innovative research and extraordinary patient care.” The proposed MEP MS program directly addresses this important mission by providing a new, unique and premier educational program to students in Nebraska and elsewhere who seek to broaden and deepen their knowledge in medical physiology. By achieving the program’s objective, students who complete and graduate from the MEP MS will undoubtedly be able to, in their own chosen career path, contribute to “premier educational programs, innovative research, and extraordinary patient care.” As such, the proposed MEP MS program creates this perpetual feed-forward cycle in which the program itself directly aligns with and supports UNMC’s mission, followed by graduates of the program who subsequently contribute to the “healthy future for all individuals and communities” by participating in health (i.e. physiology) education, research, and/or patient care.

B. Relationship of the proposal to the NU Strategic Framework

In August 2020, the University of Nebraska published a new five-year strategy for growth and success across the University of Nebraska system, including UNMC (https://nebraska.edu/-/media/unca/docs/offices-and-policies/documents/strategic-plans/university-of-nebraska-five-year-strategy.pdf?la=en). The proposed MEP MS program will directly contribute to the strategic theme to ensure that higher education is accessible, affordable, and attainable to Nebraskans. In particular, our deliberate and intentional plan to develop a completely online, distance learning-only MS degree program with a focus on medical physiology will provide an opportunity for Nebraskans living in rural communities to obtain the same robust education as those Nebraskans living within miles of UNMC. Further, the MEP MS degree program includes a unique curriculum with achievable student learning outcomes that will prepare students for success in their chosen career path.

The MEP MS program also directly addresses the workforce development theme described in the University of Nebraska’s five-year strategy. As briefly discussed previously in this document, the MEP MS program is designed to meet the needs of several populations of prospective students, who upon completion of the MEP MS degree will certainly contribute to Nebraska’s workforce in multiple industries. First, the MEP MS program will be of great interest to prospective students who are seeking a career in science/healthcare education. In particular, Nebraskans interested in adjunct faculty positions teaching physiology and physiology-related topics in undergraduate colleges and universities, as well as teaching positions at junior/community colleges will have great interest in the MEP MS program. Second, Nebraskans wanting to earn their PhD in physiology, or a physiology-related field will improve their competitiveness for admission into such a program by obtaining a MS degree in MEP. As indicated above, it is worth noting that the required courses for the MS in MEP Program will be applicable and transferable to a physiology PhD program, particularly the Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral Program hosted by the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC. Third, Nebraskans wanting to work as researchers in basic science and/or clinical research laboratories focused on physiology and human disease in either in academia or industry will be able to enhance their earning potential by obtaining a MS degree in MEP. Lastly, Nebraskans with a desire to pursue further education in medical school or health professional schools will benefit tremendously by completing the MEP MS degree.

C. Consistency with the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Post-Secondary Education

The proposed MEP MS program is consistent with the Comprehensive Statewide Plan for Post-Secondary Education (https://ccpe.nebraska.gov/sites/ccpe.nebraska.gov/files/CompPlan.pdf). The MEP MS directly aligns with the vision statement for Nebraska Postsecondary Education as it will provide “accessible and high-quality postsecondary education” to Nebraskans. In addition, and as described elsewhere in this document, the MEP MS program is an educational opportunity for Nebraskans with diverse needs and career goals.

Meeting the Needs of Students: The MEP MS program will meet the needs of students by providing broad and in-depth knowledge of all aspects of physiology, particularly medical physiology. In addition, the inclusion of coursework focused on the foundation and instructional design for health professions education provides a diverse educational opportunity for students who wish to pursue a career in health/physiology education.

Importantly, the online, distance learning-only feature of the MEP MS program directly addresses one of the sub-themes under the “Meeting the Needs of Students” umbrella, that is, Use of Instructional Technology to Broaden Access. There are no geographical barriers with an online program and students can access the courses from nearly anywhere. As such, this new online program will ensure that all Nebraskans, particularly those living in rural communities, are able to access this post-secondary educational program. The MEP MS Director and Program Committee will work with Dr. Shirley Delair, UNMC’s College of Medicine’s Associate Dean of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion to develop strategies to recruit all Nebraskans interested in expanding their knowledge in physiology regardless of age, culture, disabilities, religion, race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, nationality, socioeconomic status, or geographic location.

Meeting the Needs of the State: The MEP MS program will contribute to the State’s Workforce Development by producing knowledgeable, trained, and skilled graduates who will contribute to the State’s workforce in multiple industries, particularly education, biomedical research, and patient care. As discussed previously in this document, the MEP MS program will be reviewed annually by the MEP Program Committee to ensure the program continues to meet the evolving needs and priorities of prospective students. The MEP Program Committee will receive guidance from an External Advisory Board (EAB). Members of the EAB will include directors of similar master’s programs at peer institutions and potential employers of graduates from the program. These potential employers likely will include CEOs/presidents of biotech companies, deans and department chairs of undergraduate universities and community colleges, and members of medical and/or professional school admission committees. The EAB will meet with the MEP Program Committee annually to discuss successes and challenges to ensure the program continues to serve students’ career goals. The MEP MS Program Committee has the ability to adopt new strategies and utilize new technologies to address the changing needs of the students. See Section D: Evidence of Need and Demand below for details on how the MEP MS Program will meet the needs and demands of education and health service positions in Nebraska.

Meeting Needs by Building Exemplary Institutions: The MEP MS program will be efficient in its expenditure of the State’s resources by leveraging existing resources in UNMC’s Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology to minimize program expenses. Funding required to sustain the program’s long-term success will come directly from tuition dollars collected by the program.

Statewide Facilities Plan: The MEP MS program is offered entirely online, and thus will not require the use of additional statewide facilities.

D. Evidence of Need and Demand

The MEP MS program will meet the increasing need for: 1) physiology educators at the undergraduate/junior college level; 2) students seeking to improve their competitiveness for admission into a physiology (or physiology-related) PhD program; 3) research technologists and/or coordinators with expertise in medical physiology; and 4) students preparing for admission into medical or health professional school.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics (https://www.bls.gov/oes/current/oes251042.htm), in January 2021, there were 155,300 education and health service jobs in Nebraska. Although this was a slight decrease from January 2020, likely due to COVID-19, the preliminary data for March 2021 shows that the upward trend is continuing with a total of 157,500 jobs. Additionally, in regards to the highest concentration of jobs and location quotient in “Biological Science Teachers, Postsecondary”, Nebraska is ranked 4th highest in the country. Of note, the annual mean wage of “Biological Science Teachers, Postsecondary” in Nebraska is $81,760-$87,910. See Appendix D for more information on education and health service positions, and teaching opportunities in the biological sciences in Nebraska.

In addition to information provided by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, evidence of need and demand for an online, distance learning MEP MS program is provided in a market assessment performed by the University of Nebraska Online (NU Online). Notably, NU Online commented that the proposed MEP MS program is “unique to the NU Online portfolio” (please see Appendix D). Further, the NU Online market assessment revealed that “few schools appear to be offering equivalent online programs and completions overall appear to be trending positively. UNMC has opportunity to market the Medical Physiology, MS program nationally.” The University of Florida, College of Medicine offers an online MS degree in Medical Physiology and Pharmacology. This program markets itself as “for individuals who want to enhance their medical school application”, and students enrolled in this program take 15 credits of courses focused on physiology and 15 credits focused on pharmacology. The Medical College of Wisconsin (MCW) also offers a one-year Master’s in Medical Physiology. But, similar to Florida’s program, the MCW program is “designed for a college graduate looking to strengthen their academic credentials in preparation for applying to U.S. medical schools.” Case Western Reserve University also offers an online master’s degree in physiology; however, tuition is more than three times the tuition of the MEP MS program. Importantly, the occupational outlook for numerous education and health service positions in Nebraska, including Medical Scientists, Exercise Physiologists, and Health Educators are projected to increase 7.5-9.98% from 2018-2028 (see Appendix D: NU Online Market Assessment for details).

Clearly, the quantitative analyses provided by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics and NU Online demonstrate the need and demand for an online MEP MS program. There is also qualitative information that provides strong evidence of need and demand for this program. For example, numerous community colleges and undergraduate institutions in Nebraska frequently reach out to faculty in UNMC’s Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology to gauge their interest in accepting an adjunct position at their institution to teach physiology to their undergraduate students. However, UNMC faculty are often too busy with their own teaching, research, and/or administrative responsibilities to accept the adjunct position. When alternative options are presented to the undergraduate colleges/universities, such as having a senior graduate student in the Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral Program serve as an adjunct instructor, the undergraduate institutions decline because they require the adjunct instructor/professor to have at least a master’s degree. Most of the PhD students enrolled in the IPMM Doctoral Program enter the program directly from their undergraduate training, and without a master’s degree. As such, the undergraduate colleges/universities are unable to fill their open positions. The MEP MS program is designed to directly meet the need for physiology educators at the undergraduate level. See letters of support (Appendix C) from Wayne State College (Wayne, Nebraska) and Metropolitan Community College (Omaha, NE).

As mentioned throughout this proposal, the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC will be the “home” department for this new MEP MS program. This department is also “home” to the Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral Program. Dr. Matt Zimmerman, the inaugural director of the proposed MEP MS program, is currently the director of the IPMM doctoral program and chair of its admissions committee. As such, he is familiar with the qualifications of applicants to the doctoral program that get accepted, and those that do not. Each year, the IPMM doctoral program denies admission to multiple applicants because there is some concern regarding the student’s previous academic performance. For example, perhaps the student struggled for one to two semesters as an undergraduate student resulting in their GPA being at, or slightly below, the recommended minimum of 3.0. These students, who have or are about to complete their undergraduate degree, often ask Dr. Zimmerman and the IPMM admissions committee what they can do to demonstrate their academic ability. Ideally, these students would complete an MS degree in physiology to demonstrate their ability to successfully complete graduate-level coursework. Until now, the IPMM program admissions committee could only recommend students enroll in an MS in physiology program outside of Nebraska. It is expected that the proposed online MEP MS program will be of great interest to those students who are on the border of admission to a PhD program. By successfully completing the MEP MS program, these students will clearly demonstrate their academic aptitude, which will undoubtedly improve the likelihood of their admission to the IPMM doctoral program (or other physiology PhD programs).

Many biomedical research laboratories in industry and academia focused on pathophysiology and human disease seek research technologists and/or research coordinators with a strong educational background in physiology. Research laboratories in UNMC’s Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology as well as those in the recently established Center for Heart and Vascular Research, among many other labs in Nebraska and across the country, often examine physiological and pathophysiological responses in animal models and human patients to better understand the pathogenesis of human disease. Individuals interested in working as research technologists and/or coordinators in such labs can improve their competitiveness for these positions, and their earning potential, by completing the MEP MS degree. See letters of support (Appendix C) from two current research technologists who have expressed interest in the MEP MS program.

The fourth group of individuals that the MEP MS program fulfills a need for are students seeking enrollment in medical school or health professional school. Many students across Nebraska and the country apply to medical school or health professions programs each year, but are denied admission for a variety of reasons. One common reason is that the student’s undergraduate academic record does not meet the minimum requirement of the desired program. To enhance their competitiveness for admission into their desired program and to demonstrate their academic ability, these students seek additional short-term academic opportunities such as post-baccalaureate or certificate programs. We believe the MEP MS program will be a desirable educational opportunity for these students as it is designed to be short-term (i.e. completed in two consecutive academic semesters), and its educational focus is physiology, “a branch of biology that deals with the functions and activities of life” (as defined by Merriam-Webster). Undoubtedly students seeking enrollment in medical and health professional schools will benefit from the broad and in-depth knowledge of physiology they will gain by completing the MEP MS program. See letters of support (Appendix C) from two students who believe that, if already available, the MEP MS program would have helped them gain admission to medical school more quickly and would have prepared them well for medical school courses.

Based on the needs described above, job opportunities and NU Online market assessment (Appendix D), and letters of support (Appendix C), we predict the following number of students to enroll in the MEP MS program in each of the first five years:

- Year 1: 5 students
- Year 2: 10 students
- Year 3: 15 students
- Year 4: 25 students
- Year 5: 40 students

These estimates are also supported by conversations with directors of other MS programs at UNMC. For example, the one-year, in-person MS in Medical Anatomy (Dr. Karen Gould, director; see letter of support) program receives 60-80 applications per year. However, this program can only admit 16-18 students per year, and thus, denies admission to many strong applicants each year. Further, these estimates are supported by the fact that each year the IPMM doctoral program denies admission to 5-10 applicants due to mediocre academic performance as an undergraduate student. It is anticipated that some, perhaps many, of these students will enroll in and complete the MEP MS program to improve their chances of being accepted into IPMM (or another physiology PhD program). It should be noted that the relatively small number of students in Year 1 will likely be due to the limited amount of time between approval of the MEP MS program and the start of the 2022 academic year. By Year 3, we expect to enroll at least 15 students, which is approximately the minimum number of students required to make the program viable and sustainable.

During the first five years, there will be an enrollment cap of 40 students to ensure program quality and to protect faculty workload. If, after the fifth year, it is apparent that the program has the resources to enroll more than 40 students, the cap may be lifted. The decision to remove the cap will be made collectively by the MEP Program Committee, Chair of the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology, and MEP course directors.

E. Avoidance of Unnecessary Duplication

Currently, there is no MS in Medical Physiology degree offered in the State of Nebraska. As home to the University of Nebraska’s College of Medicine and the State’s only PhD program focused on human physiology (Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine), the UNMC campus is the ideal location for the MEP MS program.

There are other MS programs in health and natural sciences in Nebraska. In fact, UNMC offers a one-year Master in Medical Anatomy that is frequently used by students to improve their competitiveness for acceptance into medical or professional school. However, this program, as its name suggests, is focused on anatomy. Due to the hands-on nature of many of the courses in this program, this program is an on-campus only program. Additionally, enrollment in this program is capped at 16-18 students per year. Creighton University also offers one-year master’s programs in health and natural sciences. Although these programs may include one physiology-related course, none of these programs have an intentional and deliberate focus on medical physiology. Additionally, and of particular importance, none of these other programs are online, distance learning-only programs. As such, the unique structure and curriculum of the MEP MS program ensures avoidance of unnecessary duplication.

The University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK) recently received approval for a new one-year, online MS degree in Health Sciences. This UNK program is specifically designed to serve students preparing for a professional program in health sciences. The educational content between the UNK program and the MEP MS program is distinct. For example, the UNK program will require students to take only one course (three credits) in human physiology. Although the MEP MS program as described herein will also be able to serve pre-professional health science students, it is anticipated that these students will make up only 10% of the accepted students per year (Figure 1). It should be noted that there is potential future collaboration between UNK’s MS in Health Sciences Program and the proposed MEP MS Program. As described in a letter of support (Appendix C) from Dr. Janet Steele’s, director of UNK’s MS in Health Sciences Program, students enrolled in UNK’s program may be interested in taking a course offered by the MEP MS Program, and vice-versa.

UNK also offers an online Master of Science Degree in Biology. As indicated on their website, the Master in Biology program is “is designed for high school and middle school teachers to expand their breadth of biology knowledge for the classroom, scientists and researchers pursuing advanced expertise, or individuals who are preparing for professional schools or doctoral studies in biology fields.” Students usually complete this program in two and one-half to three years, which is unlike the proposed MEP MS program that can be complete in two consecutive semesters (i.e. approximately nine months). Students in the Master in Biology program complete 12 credit hours of required coursework and 24 credit hours of electives. Of the required courses, only one is similar to the required courses for the MEP MS program, that is, biostatistics. Of the 79 elective courses (some of which have undergraduate counterparts) students in the Master in Biology program can take, only one appears to be focused on general human physiology, that is BIOL 839 – Human Physiological Systems (three credits). Although there are few other physiology-related courses, such as Reproductive Physiology (BIOL 830P; three credits) and Plant Physiology (BIOL 803P; three credits), it is clear that the Master in Biology Program at UNK is designed to serve students with broad interests in science and biology. In contrast, the proposed MEP MS Program is designed to provide students with focused and in-depth knowledge of human physiology as it relates to health and disease.
F. Adequacy of Resources:

The MEP MS program will be administered and operated by the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology in the College of Medicine at UNMC. Adequate resources to develop, implement, review/revise the program are available:

1. Faculty/Staff:
The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology has 12 full-time graduate faculty, three instructors, 12 courtesy-appointed graduate faculty, three full-time administrative staff members, and one part-time administrative assistant. The department is the “host” department of the Interdisciplinary Graduate Program in Biomedical Sciences (IGPBS) – Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral (PhD) Program. The proposed MEP MS curriculum was largely developed based on the successful courses of the IPMM doctoral program, with a major difference being all of the MS courses will be online. Within the first year of the MEP MS program, it is expected that a new assistant professor dedicated to the implementation and maintenance of this program will be hired by the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. As detailed in the budget projections below, the College of Medicine’s Dean’s office has committed support for the new assistant professor’s salary for the first two years. No additional faculty resources are needed to implement and administer the MEP MS program.

2. Library/Information Resources:
In fall 2020, an extraordinary renovation of the Leon S. McGoogan Health Science Library on the UNMC campus was completed. The newly renovated space includes individual study rooms, small conference rooms, as well as a writing and e-learning center. The Leon S. McGoogan Health Science Library provides access to over 27,000 journals, including 6,100 health care and research-related e-journals, more than 40 databases, and 100,000 books and e-books. Services provided by the library to all UNMC students include how to search online for published literature and how to appropriately cite references and avoid plagiarism. Considering the MEP MS program will be an online, distance learning-only program, it is particularly important that the electronic services offered by the library can be assessed remotely. Remote students are able to access full-text biomedical research publications, databases, and tutorials via the library’s website and their secured login credentials. Also of note, support from UNMC’s Chancellor’s Office ensures that each academic year all UNMC students are able to receive up to 50 free digitally delivered or interlibrary loaned books and/or journal articles.

To deliver the online, distance only learning material/content, the MEP MS program will utilize the Canvas Learning Management System, which is widely used on the UNMC campus and by the MEP MS program graduate faculty. Access to all Canvas course pages require secure logins, and are only accessible to students (and faculty/staff) enrolled in the courses.

3. Physical Facilities and Equipment:
The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology is housed in the Durham Research Center (DRC) building located on the UNMC campus. The DRC is a state of the art 10-story, 285,000 square feet building, and the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology occupies 27,000 square feet of space on the fifth and sixth floors of the building. Graduate faculty in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology have individual office space. The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology administrative offices, located on the fifth floor of DRC, houses program support functions (mail, copying, printing, etc.). Just outside of the administrative offices on the fifth floor of DRC are two small conference rooms that were recently (fall 2020) equipped with state-of-the-art audio/visual technology. If needed, faculty in the MEP MS program can utilize these conference room to teach their online synchronous classes.
4. Instructional Equipment and Informational Resources:
The MEP MS program is a completely online, distance learning program. Graduate faculty who teach in the MEP MS program will use their office computers and/or laptops and/or tablets equipped with two-way video conferencing and streaming internet video to deliver their lecture content. If needed, the MEP MS program will provide faculty with web cameras to interact online with students and to create their audio/video lecture recordings. As noted above, small conferences rooms on the 5th floor of DRC are equipped with state-of-the-art audio/visual technology. Graduate faculty participating in the coursework may choose to use these conference rooms, instead of their individual offices, to deliver their lecture content if a larger space is needed; for example, for a demonstration.

5. Budget Projections see Table 1 and Table 2.

IV. Appendices

APPENDIX A: Additional Details for Distance Programs Only

About the Program

1. Program Description
The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) proposes to establish a Master of Science (MS) degree in Medical Physiology (MEP). This new online, distance learning-only program will focus on educating students in all aspects of physiology, with a particular focus on medical physiology. The new MEP Master of Science degree will be a 30-credit hour, non-thesis, distance learning-only program that is designed to be completed in two academic semesters (i.e. approximately 9 months). The online, distance learning-only program will include courses taught both synchronously and asynchronously. Students will enroll in four courses totaling 16 credits in the fall semester and five courses totaling 14 credits in the spring semester. Students will be required to pass a Comprehensive Exam near the end of the second semester.

2. Licensure and Accreditation
The program is a MS degree program that will not lead to licensure. The program will not be accredited by a specialized accrediting agency.

3. Marketability and Duplication
Currently, there is no online MS in Medical Physiology degree offered in the State of Nebraska. As home to the University of Nebraska’s College of Medicine and the State’s only PhD program focused on human physiology (Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine), the UNMC campus is the ideal location for the MEP MS program.

The University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK) recently received approval for a new one-year, online MS degree in Health Sciences. This UNK program is specifically designed to serve students preparing for a professional program in health sciences. The educational content between the UNK program and the MEP MS program is distinct. For example, the UNK program will require students to take only one course (three credits) in human physiology. Although the MEP MS program as described herein will also be able to serve pre-professional health science students, it is anticipated that these students will make up only 10% of the accepted students per year (Figure 1). It should be noted that there is potential future collaboration between UNK’s MS in Health Sciences Program and the proposed MEP MS Program. As described in a letter of support (Appendix C) from Dr. Janet Steele’s, director of UNK’s MS in Health Sciences Program, students enrolled in UNK’s program may be interested in taking a course offered by the MES MP Program, and vice-versa.

UNK also offers an online Master of Science Degree in Biology. As indicated on their website, the Master’s in Biology program is “is designed for high school and middle school teachers to expand their breadth of biology knowledge for the classroom, scientists and researchers pursuing advanced expertise, or individuals who are preparing for professional schools or doctoral studies in biology fields.” Students usually complete this program in two and one-half to three years, which is unlike the proposed MEP MS program that can be complete in two consecutive semesters (i.e. approximately 9 months). Students in the Master in Biology program complete 12 credit hours of required coursework and 24 credit hours of electives. Of the required courses, only one is similar to the required courses for the MEP MS program, that is, biostatistics. Of the 79 elective courses (some of which have undergraduate counterparts) students in the Master in Biology program can take, only one appears to be focused on general human physiology, that is BIOL 839 – Human Physiological Systems (three credits). Although there are few other physiology-related courses, such as Reproductive Physiology (BIOL 830P; three credits) and Plant Physiology (BIOL 803P; three credits), it is clear that the Master in Biology Program at UNK is designed to serve students with broad interests in science and biology. In contrast, the proposed MEP MS Program is designed to provide students with focused and in-depth knowledge of human physiology as it relates to human health and disease.

In the first one to two years of the program, we plan to enroll 5-10 students. In years 3-4, we expect to enroll 15-25 students. In year 5, we expect to enroll up to 40 students. During the first five years, there will be an enrollment cap of 40 students to ensure program quality and to protect faculty workload. If, after the fifth year, it is apparent that the program has the resources to enroll more than 40 students, the cap may be lifted. The decision to remove the cap will be made collectively by the MEP Program Committee, Chair of the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology, and MEP course directors. If we matriculate more than 40 students after the fifth year, we will create additional course sections.
Senior graduate students (i.e. PhD candidates) in the Integrative Physiology and Molecular Medicine (IPMM) Doctoral Program at UNMC may serve as teaching assistants.

BIOS 806 will be offered by the Department of Biostatistics in the College of Public Health at UNMC. HPME 801/802 will be offered by the College of Allied Health Professions at UNMC. These are required courses for students enrolled in the MEP MS program and will be offered either every fall semester (HPME 801) or spring semester (BIOS 806, HPME 802). Dr. Merry Lindsey, Chair of the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC will establish agreements for tuition sharing with the Dean of the College of Public Health and the Dean of the College of Allied Health Professions.

2. Program Requirements
To receive the MEP MS degree, students are required to pass the Comprehensive Exam and maintain a minimum 3.0 GPA on the required curriculum.

3. Completion Plan
The MEP MS degree will be a 30-credit hour, non-thesis, distance learning-only program that is designed to be completed in two consecutive semesters (i.e. approximately nine months) by full-time students. Part-time students will be allowed to complete the MS in Medical Physiology degree over a maximum of five consecutive years, which is the maximum time frame to complete a master’s degree, as established by UNMC’s Graduate Studies. The online, distance learning-only program will include courses taught both synchronously and asynchronously. Students will enroll in four courses worth 16 credits in the fall semester and five courses worth 14 credits in the spring semester. See table above for which courses are taught the fall versus spring semester. Students will also be required to pass Comprehensive Exam near the end of the second semester.

4. Accessibility
Due to the synchronous learning activities in some of the required courses, the MEP MS program may not be suitable for all distance learners. The synchronous learning activities will take place during 9am-5pm central standard time Monday - Friday. As such, distance learners in time zones outside of the United States may find it difficult to attend the synchronous learning activities and thus may not be able to enroll in the program. It should be noted that the MEP MS program initial goal is to provide an educational opportunity for Nebraskans, including those in rural communities, who are interested in expanding their physiology knowledge base for the advancement of their chosen career. If, after a few years, the program gains significant interest from prospective students outside of the United States, the required courses can be revised to be completely asynchronous.

All courses will follow campus policies and will be ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) compliant. Students with disabilities who are in need of accommodations will contact the Student Disability Services office at UNMC. In order to be eligible for accommodations, the student is responsible for registering with this office and providing documentation of disability. The student must register and provide documentation well in advance of the semester for which the accommodation is needed (six weeks is suggested). Once the request has been approved, an individualized accommodation plan will be formulated, and an official “Letter of Disability Accommodation” will be issued to the student. The student must deliver the letter to the instructor before accommodations can be made.

Recruitment and Admissions

Students applying to the MEP MS program will be required to follow the formal procedures established for admission to graduate programs at UNMC. Admitted students will matriculate only in the fall semester.

Admission to the MEP MS program requires a bachelor's degree, preferably in a science-related field, from an accredited undergraduate institution with a recommended minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 grading scale. Official transcripts from all colleges/universities attended and three (3) letters of recommendation are also required. It is recommended that students should have completed the following undergraduate courses (or their equivalents): biochemistry; calculus; physics; two semesters of biology. A one-page personal statement describing the applicant’s career goals and interests in the field of physiology is required. Admissions requirements may need to be adjusted for students depending on career goals; this will be assessed as part of the Program’s annual review. The MEP MS program will follow the credit transfer policy as set-forth by UNMC’s Graduate Studies.

We predict the following number of full-time students to enroll in the MEP MS program in each of the first five years:

- Year 1: 5 students
- Year 2: 10 students
- Year 3: 15 students
- Year 4: 25 students
- Year 5: 40 students

It should be noted that the relatively small number of students in Year 1 will likely be due to the limited amount of time between approval of the MEP MS program and the start of the 2021 academic year. By Year 3, we expect to enroll at least 15 students, which is approximately the minimum number of students required to make the program viable and sustainable. During the first five years, there will be an enrollment cap of 40 students to ensure program quality and to protect faculty workload. If, after the fifth year, it is apparent that the program has the resources to enroll more than 40 students, the cap may be lifted. The decision to remove the cap will be made collectively by the MEP Program Committee, Chair of the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology, and MEP course directors. Within the first year of the MEP MS program, it is expected that a new assistant professor dedicated to the implementation and maintenance of this program will be hired by the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. In addition, a full-time administrative assistant fully dedicated to the MEP MS program will help manage the growth of the program. The current 12 graduate faculty members in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology will serve as course directors and members of the MEP MS Program Committee. The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology Recruitment Committee will recruit additional graduate faculty to help accommodate and manage the program’s growth.

Student Support Services

1. Learner Orientation
   All incoming MEP MS students will participate in a three-day online orientation during the first week in August. All faculty who are involved in the MEP MS program will participate in the new student orientation. In addition, Dr. Analisa McMillan, Director of Distance Learning at UNMC, and administrators involved in NU Online will be invited to participate in orientation to provide their insight and guidance to all incoming MEP MS students. Further, the professional staff from UNMC’s Academic Success Program will be invited to participate in orientation to ensure students are fully aware of the services they provide.

2. Advising
   In the first two years of the program, when the number of enrolled students is expected to be less than 10 per year, the MEP MS Program Director will serve as each student’s faculty advisor. After the second year, or when the number of incoming students is greater than ten, whichever comes first, each student will be appointed a faculty advisor, who is a member of UNMC’s graduate faculty and holds a primary faculty appointment in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. The faculty advisor and student will meet virtually at least monthly to discuss the student’s career goals and his/her progress toward earning the MS degree.

   In addition to the faculty advisor, students in the MEP MS program will be mentored by an Advisory Committee. The Advisory Committee for every student will be the MEP MS Program Committee. The Advisory Committee along with the faculty advisor will meet with the student twice per semester (approximately every two months), once at mid-term and once at the end of the semester, to provide career guidance and support towards completing the MEP MS degree. The Advisory Committee will also administer the Comprehensive Exam. Further, the Advisory Committee will advise part-time students on the order of courses that each part-time student should follow based on the student’s planned length of time to complete the degree. Graduation outcomes will be tracked by the full-time administrative assistant in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology who is fully dedicated to the coordination and management of the program.

All students will be required to complete an Individual Development Plan (IDP) by their first advisory committee meeting (i.e. midterm of first semester). It is recommended that students use myIDP. Based on the student’s IDP, the Advisory Committee will invite an expert in the student’s planned career path to be an ad hoc member of the advisory committee. This ad hoc member will not be a voting member of the committee, but would provide advice and networking opportunities to the student. At the end of each fall semester, ad hoc members of the students’ advisory committees will be invited to participate on an expert panel at a synchronous “career fair”, in which all students will be able to gain insight from experts in multiple career paths.

3. Program Coordination

The program coordinator will be the administrative assistant in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology who is fully dedicated to the coordination and management of the program. The role of the program coordinator will include: 1) initial communication contact for prospective and enrolled students; 2) recruitment and attendance at career fairs, etc.; 3) assist faculty, as needed, with the Canvas Learning Management System and Examplify/Examsoft testing software; and 4) report final semester grades to UNMC Graduate Studies.

Evaluation/Assessment

During the first five years, the program will be reviewed annually and revised, as needed, by the MEP MS Program Committee. The MEP Program Committee, which will also serve as the program’s curriculum committee, will consist of the MEP MS Program Director (Dr. Matthew Zimmerman) and four additional graduate faculty in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology. Members of the first MEP Program Committee include, Drs. Erika Boesen (associate professor), Paras Mishra (associate professor), Harold Schultz (professor), and Irving Zucker (professor). The annual review is necessary to ensure the program is meeting the needs of enrolled and prospective students, and to reflect new developments in the discipline. The following categories will be reviewed: curriculum, faculty, leadership, and infrastructure required to maintain and enhance the online, distance learning-only learning experience for students. Of note, potential future online electives that already exist at UNMC and other University of Nebraska campuses may be added to the curriculum to meet the needs of students. In addition to the annual review during the first five years, the MEP Program Committee will continue to periodically review and revise the program thereafter. Further, the program will be reviewed and revised, as needed, every five to seven years by UNMC’s Graduate Council. The Graduate Council review will include the categories listed above, and will also include review of the following: students (prospective, enrolled, and graduated); program reputation; and sustainability of the program.

The MEP Program Committee will receive guidance from an External Advisory Board (EAB). Members of the EAB will include directors of similar master’s programs at peer institutions and potential employers of graduates from the program. These potential employers likely will include CEOs/presidents of biotech companies, deans and department chairs of undergraduate universities and community colleges, and members of medical and/or professional school admission committees. The EAB will meet with the MEP Program Committee annually to discuss successes and challenges to ensure the program continues to serve students’ career goals.
Resources

To get this new program online, the program director and committee will need help from NU Online and from the Director of Distance Learning at UNMC. We anticipate NU Online and the Director of Distance Learning at UNMC can provide insight on marketing and student recruitment strategies. In addition, some of the course directors may need help to improve the online instructional design of their course. All of the required courses for the MEP MS program have been reviewed and approved by UNMC’s Graduate Council and the Executive Associate Dean of UNMC’s Graduate Studies. However, as indicated in the table above, some of the courses will be taught for the first time online when the program goes live for the first time in fall 2022.

APPENDIX B: Abstract of Proposal (1-2 page summary of the proposed degree program):

The Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC) proposes to establish a Master of Science (MS) degree in Medical Physiology (MEP). This new online, distance learning-only program will focus on educating students in all aspects of physiology, with a particular focus on medical physiology. The MEP MS degree is designed to meet the needs of several prospective student populations, including: 1) students seeking undergraduate college and university adjunct teaching positions, as well as junior/community college teaching positions in physiology; 2) students seeking to improve their competitiveness for admission into a physiology (or physiology-related) PhD program; 3) students seeking to enhance their knowledge in physiology to improve their rank and earning potential in physiology-based, basic-science and/or clinical research laboratories; and, 4) students seeking to broaden and deepen their physiology knowledge base in their pursuit of medical school or health professional school admission. The program curriculum includes coursework focused on medical physiology, cell physiology, cardiovascular pathophysiology, advanced topics in physiology, and pharmacology for the physiologists. The curriculum is enhanced by coursework in scientific writing, biostatistics, and two courses focused on the foundation and instructional design of health professions education. The goal of this program is to provide this unique curriculum in an online, distance learning-only format to the student populations described above and all other individuals who wish to enrich and extend their understanding of physiology, and apply their new knowledge to their chosen career path.

The new MEP Master of Science degree will be a 30-credit hour, non-thesis, distance learning-only program that is designed to be completed in two academic semesters (i.e. approximately nine months). The online, distance learning-only program will include courses taught both synchronously and asynchronously. Students will enroll in four courses worth 16 credits in the fall semester and five courses worth 14 credits in the spring semester (see table below). Students will also be required to pass a Comprehensive Exam near the end of the second semester.

RE: New online MS in Medical Physiology at UNMC

Dear Dr. Zimmerman,

Thank you for reaching out to me and sharing the curriculum for the new online M.S. Degree in Medical Physiology being proposed by your department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. As you know, the University of Nebraska at Kearney's (UNK) Biology Department, in collaboration with the Office of Health Sciences, recently received approval for an online M.S. Degree in Health Sciences. I am the director of this new online program. The M.S. in Health Sciences at UNK is specifically designed to serve pre-professional health science students preparing for a professional program in health sciences. After learning more about your proposed program in medical physiology, it is clear to me that your program will mostly serve different groups of students. Although your program may attract some pre-professional students, your program’s specific concentration on physiology is much different than our program in health sciences at UNK. In addition, I noticed your program requires two courses in health education, which is certainly unique and different than our program. Due to these differences, taken together with our program’s maximum enrollment of 24 students per year, I highly doubt our programs will compete for the same prospective students. In the future, I think our programs can work together to offer electives that students in the other program may be interested in taking. For example, I noticed you have a course on cell physiology and signaling, which might be of interest to students in our program. Additionally, we have an essential human anatomy course that may complement your students’ coursework in physiology. These possibilities are a “win-win” for students enrolled in each of our programs. I look forward to discussing these and other collaborations with you after your program gets approved and you start recruiting your first class of students.

Sincerely,

Dear Matt,

It is my pleasure to write this letter of support for your proposed online Masters of Science Degree Program in Medical Physiology at UNMC. Having experience as the current director of the M.S. in Medical Anatomy Program at UNMC, I am confident you and your colleagues will be able to develop and maintain a successful and well-respected program that will be sought after by many students. From our numerous conversations, you are well-aware that the M.S. in Medical Anatomy Program at UNMC receives 60-80 applications each year. We currently cap our enrollment at 16-18 student per year; thus, leaving many strong applicants looking for other options. I fully anticipate that some of these strong applicants will be quite interested in your new medical physiology program. That being said, considering that your program is 100% online, is focused on physiology, and requires courses in education, I suspect your program will also appeal to additional prospective students that may not be interested in or able to participate in our medical anatomy program. Because your program is fully online, I believe that, by and large, our two programs will not be competing for the same applicants. In fact, I anticipate collaboration between our two programs that will help to strengthen each of them. If I can be of any help as your new program proposal moves through the approval process, or once you are ready to recruit students, please do not hesitate to ask. I am happy to help.

Dear Matt,

It is my pleasure to write this letter of support for the Masters of Science in Medical Physiology Program that you are developing at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC). For decades the physiology faculty here at Wayne State College have collaborated with many of the faculty in your department at the UNMC, particularly through the Nebraska Physiological Society (now known as the Midlands Society of Physiological Sciences). Additionally, Wayne State and UNMC work closely together for the Rural Health Opportunities Program, a cooperative program between our two institutions that recruits and educates students from rural Nebraska to become health care providers and return to a rural community.

After reviewing the Program of Study for your proposed Medical Physiology Master’s Program, I believe this will be another opportunity for collaboration. As you know, here at Wayne State we offer bachelor degrees (B.A. or B.S) in Applied Human and Sport Physiology, Exercise Science, and Life Sciences. I anticipate graduates from your Medical Physiology Master’s Program will likely be strong candidates for adjunct faculty positions at Wayne State to teach physiology and/or a related field in these degree programs. I applaud and support your efforts in developing a new, completely online Medical Physiology Master’s Program, and I look forward to yet another opportunity for collaboration between the UNMC and Wayne State College.

RE: Masters of Science Degree in Medical Physiology at UNMC

Dear Matt,

I am excited to learn about the new online Masters of Science Degree in Medical Physiology that you and your colleagues in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC are developing. I am delighted to write this letter expressing my full support for this new program. Here at the Metropolitan Community College (MCC), we hire individuals with Master’s degrees to educate our students. As you and I have discussed, our largest area of need is often in biology, anatomy & physiology, and microbiology. As such, I believe students who graduate from your Medical Physiology Program with a M.S. degree have the potential to be great candidates for teaching positions at MCC.

Thank you for making me aware of your plans to develop this new, and much needed, online degree program in physiology. I hope graduates from your program will consider applying for open positions at MCC as they become available in the future.

Best regards,

RE: New online Master’s degree in Medical Physiology at UNMC

Dear Dr. Zimmerman,

I am thrilled to write this letter in support of the new, online Master’s in Medical Physiology Program you are creating at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. As you know, I graduated in the Class of 2018 from Rockhurst University in Kansas City. My career goal at that time was to enroll in medical school. Unfortunately, I was not immediately accepted after my undergraduate career and decided to look for opportunities to improve my medical school application. I spent time volunteering in the emergency department and in a research laboratory at UNMC. Then, I was hired as a research technologist in a lab. I looked into post-baccalaureate and master’s programs; however, I could not find one that could be completed in a timely manner and allowed me to continue my volunteer work. When you told me about your planned online Master’s in Medical Physiology Program, I immediately thought to myself, “where was this two years ago?” The flexibility of your new program would have allowed me to earn a Master’s degree in Medical Physiology in 1-2 years while continuing to volunteer and improve my medical school application in other areas.

I was accepted into the College of Medicine Class of 2024 at Kansas City University. I am having a great time and enjoying this learning process. I have no doubt that the required courses in your program would have prepared me to be more comfortable with and have better success in my current medical school courses.

I hope you are able to get your new program approved soon, and I expect you will have great interest from prospective students.

Sincerely,

Jake

Dear Dr. Zimmerman,

I am more than happy to write this letter of support for the Master's in medical Physiology Program at UNMC that you are developing. I currently work in a biomedical research laboratory at UNMC, but my immediate career goal is to be accepted into medical school at UNMC. I graduated with B.S. degree in Biological Sciences from the University of Missouri - Columbia in December of 2019. To improve my medical school application, I decided to get some biomedical research experience and strongly considered joining a Master's program. I decided against joining a Master's program due to the length of time these programs take. I started working at UNMC in September and I will be applying to medical school beginning in May. Since I was only planning on working in biomedical research for only a little over one year, I did not believe that I could finish a Master’s program before my plans to apply and hopefully begin medical school. However, if the Master’s program you are creating would have already been offered, I would have been very much interested in enrolling as this would have fit my career schedule much better. I think that this is a phenomenal idea and the courses you have included in the curriculum would have prepared me for the courses I will take in my first 1-2 years of medical school, significantly increasing my chance of acceptance and success in the beginning of medical school. The online aspect of your program would have also been great for me, as I could have enrolled in the program while still spending some time in a research laboratory.

I wish you all the best in finalizing the details of your new program. I anticipate future students who ultimately want to attend medical school, like me, or other health-related professional schools will be very interested in completing your program.

Dear Dr. Zimmerman,

I am extremely excited to hear about the Master’s in Medical Physiology Program. From the sounds of it, this program would be an ideal fit for me. As you know, I graduated from the University of Nebraska – Lincoln (UNL) in 2018 with a B.S. in Biological Sciences. After graduating, I worked for about one year as a research technician in a biomedical research lab at UNL. Currently, I am a Research Technologist I in the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology at UNMC. I really enjoy doing physiology- and pathophysiology-related research. However, I am still a bit undecided what I want to do for my long-term career path. I am very interested in the potential of enrolling in your Master’s in Medical Physiology Program for numerous reasons. First, if I decide to continue as a research technologist, having a stronger background in physiology would help me have a greater impact in the lab. Second, with a Master’s degree, I would have a higher earning potential. I know that at UNMC, if I had my Master’s, I could apply for Research Coordinator or Research Manager position, both of which have a much higher salary than my current research technologist position. Third, I have thought about applying to doctoral programs and earning my PhD. Certainly, having a Master’s in Medical Physiology would make me a more competitive applicant. Plus, I predict some of my Master’s courses could be transferred to my PhD program of study. Lastly, I am very interested in the online aspect of your program. I like the idea of being able to work while enrolled in the program. I understand that with a full-time job it may take me 2 or more years to complete the program, but I am okay with that, as I would need the flexibility to continue to work. Please keep me updated on your plans for this new program. I am excited about the possibility of enrolling.

Re: Online Masters Program in Medical Physiology

Dear Dr. Zimmerman:

I am sending you this letter as a follow up to our discussion about the online masters program in medical physiology being developed by you and the Department of Cellular and Integrative Physiology here at UNMC. I graduated with a bachelor’s degree in Biochemistry in May 2018 from Simpson College and have been working as a research technologist in the physiology department since February of 2019. I would potentially be interested in enrolling in this program to earn a masters, which would enhance my physiology knowledge and increase my earning potential as a research technician. Please let me know when the program starts.

Sincerely,

In January 2021, there were 155,300 education and health service jobs in Nebraska. The preliminary data for March 2021 shows that the upward trend is continuing with a total of 157,500 jobs.

The Omaha-Council Bluffs metropolitan area had an average (mean) hourly wage for these positions of $26.59 in May 2019.

The Lincoln metropolitan area has the highest concentration of Biological Science teacher jobs in Nebraska with an annual mean wage of $90,130.

SUBJECT: Program Statement for Calvin T. Ryan Library LB384 Renovation at the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK)

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval of LB384 funding and Program Statement for Calvin T. Ryan Library Renovation at UNK

PREVIOUS ACTION: None

EXPLANATION: First built in 1963, Calvin T. Ryan Library is home to the library, learning commons, and Mitchell Center. It has remained largely unchanged for the past 30 plus years. The project will replace aging systems and restore the almost 60-year-old facility. The renovation will update the lighting, flooring, ceilings, paint, furniture, restrooms, IT infrastructure and HVAC systems, extending the building’s useful life and increasing energy efficiency. During design, the collections and best storage options will be carefully considered. Spaces will also be renovated for Academic Success and Academic Advising to relocate from MSAB.

The purpose of the project is to renovate and renew the facility, resulting in a library facility that is engaging, inspiring, and draws people into its spaces.

SUBJECT: Acquisition of improvements at 2900 West 24th Street, Kearney, Nebraska

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval to acquire of improvements at 2900 West 24th Street, Kearney, Nebraska for the University of Nebraska at Kearney

PREVIOUS ACTION: None

EXPLANATION: The subject property is a large commercial structure that has formerly been used as an office/warehouse building. The building is located adjacent to West 24th Street or US Highway 30 approximately one mile west of the primary campus. This area is largely commercial in character.

UNK will utilize the structure to consolidate facilities operations into a single unified location. The effort will save operational expenses and provide a safer site for trucks making deliveries, and for the storage and maintenance of equipment. The improvements are located on a ground lease that will be assigned to the University.

The proposed use is compatible with the neighborhood.

SUBJECT: Utilization of LB384 funding to complete the Medical Sciences Building (MSB) Air Handler Replacement Project.

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval of LB384 funding to complete the MSB Air Handler Replacement Project at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC).

PREVIOUS ACTION: None

EXPLANATION: The MSB was built in 1975 and the air handlers are original to that construction. The units are in poor condition and do not have the preheat, humidification and filtration capabilities to meet current industry standards or UNMC Campus Standards. In conjunction with these replacements, modern digital controls will be added in lieu of the existing pneumatic controls. The combination of modern air handling equipment and controls systems will vastly improve the energy efficiency of the building. As it is constructed immediately adjacent to the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center, it is critical to maintain this asset for many years to come.

Upon receipt of funding through LB384, the project would immediately select a design firm from the University’s 4-Year List and look to purchase construction services utilizing a Construction Manager at Risk (CMAR) process. This will be necessary to maintain schedule, utilize early equipment procurement and operate in a land-locked portion of campus surrounded by hospital activities.

Proposed timeline:

- LB384 Funding in Place: January 2022
- Consultant Selection: January 2022
- Contractor Selection: February 2022
- Documents Complete: May 2022
- Commence Construction: July 2022
- Compete Construction: December 2023

Project timeline and budget will be finalized as design/construction vendors are selected and material lead times are fully understood.

SUBJECT: Utilization of LB384 funding to complete the Campus Heating Hot Water Expansion Project.

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval of LB384 funding to complete the Campus Heating Hot Water Expansion Project at the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC)

PREVIOUS ACTION: None

EXPLANATION: UNMC and Nebraska Medicine utilize both High Pressure Steam and Heating Hot Water to meet heating needs throughout the campus. The vast majority of campus is served by a steam boiler system installed in the 1970s. Many of the critical components of this system, namely the boilers themselves, are operating in excess of their useful life. Campus demand for steam has grown to the point where removing a boiler for replacement is not feasible.

Over the past few years, the campus has started to convert buildings from the boiler system (“high pressure steam”) to heating hot water. The heating hot water system reduces the load on the steam boilers and results in a significant reduction in energy usage.

Upon receipt of funding through LB384, the project would immediately select a design firm from the University’s 4-Year List and look to purchase construction services utilizing a Construction Manager at Risk (CMAR) process. This will be necessary to maintain schedule, utilize early equipment procurement and perform both demolition and installation activities within the Central Utility Plant while maintaining current operations.

October 25, 2019 – The Board of Regents approved the Program Statement for the Durham Science Center Renovation at UNO.

EXPLANATION: The renovation of the DSC on the Dodge Campus is a top facility development priority of UNO. The approximately 166,000 gross sq. ft. renovation will include:

- Building envelope, interior finishes, and code updates.
- Mechanical, electrical, plumbing, and technology system updates.

This project was identified as an immediate priority in the first round of state capital renewal funding. The affected items related to funding source have been revised. MEETING DATE: October 8, 2021

SUBJECT: Interlocal Agreement between the City of Omaha, Nebraska and the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO)

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approval of interlocal agreement between the City of Omaha and UNO granting University of Nebraska at Omaha Department of Public Safety (UNODPS) sworn law enforcement officers the right and ability to enforce the laws of the City of Omaha through citation or arrest based on violations of the Omaha Municipal Code

PREVIOUS ACTION: None

EXPLANATION: The sworn law enforcement officers employed by UNO have been deputized by the Governor of Nebraska, as “Special Deputy State Sheriffs,” which grants them the authority to “enforce the laws of the State on all properties under the jurisdiction, supervision, or control of the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska wherever such properties may be and any city and county where such properties are located; and within the State of Nebraska for offenses originating on said property.” UNODPS and the Omaha Police Department agree that it is in the best interest of the City, UNO, the student body and all the citizens of Omaha, to allow the UNODPS sworn law enforcement officers to also enforce the laws of the City of Omaha through issuance of citations or arrests based on violations of the Omaha Municipal Code as well on all properties as designated within the City of Omaha, Nebraska. This interlocal cooperation agreement creates a mutually beneficial relationship between the UNODPS and OPD.

This Agreement will be duly authorized and executed on behalf of the respective Parties to continue for a term of five (5) years or until terminated by either Party. UNO or City of Omaha may terminate this Agreement at any time to be effective ninety (90) days after written notice is sent to the other Party.

Addendum XI-B-9

Business Affairs

MEETING DATE: October 8, 2021

SUBJECT: Amend the Amended and Restated University Rights Agreement between the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Omaha Sports Properties, LLC (“Learfield”)

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Approve the First Amendment to the Amended and Restated University Rights Agreement between the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Learfield.

PREVIOUS ACTION: March 18, 2016 – The Board of Regents approved the amended and restated University Rights Agreement between the University of Nebraska at Omaha and Learfield through fiscal year 2026.

April 10, 2015 – The Board of Regents approved a five-year grant of additional rights to Learfield in securing a campus wide official bank partner program sponsorship.

April 13, 2012 – The Board of Regents approved a five-year agreement between the University of Nebraska at Omaha and NSM.

EXPLANATION: The Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) global pandemic and the resulting restrictions on large gatherings, including sporting events, had a tremendous impact on intercollegiate athletics. The restrictions in place affected the game inventory and merchandising elements that the UNO Athletics Department was able to provide. These reductions, as well as the general economic environment during the pandemic, had a negative impact on the revenue associated with media rights, sponsorships, and merchandising.

In recognition of these impacts, UNO Athletics and Learfield are proposing an amendment to the Amended and Restated University Rights Agreement to reduce the Guaranteed Rights Fee from $1,500,000 to $1,050,000 for Contract Year 2020-2021. In addition, in the event COVID-19 continues to negatively impact inventory and the resulting revenues in Contract Year 2021-2022, the parties propose a reduction in the Guaranteed Rights Fee equal to 50% of the amount by which the Adjusted Gross Revenue (AGR) in Contract Year 2019-2020 exceeded the AGR in Contract Year 2021-2022; provided, however, if the shortfall is greater than $300,000, the parties will negotiate a mutually agreeable reduction.

Vice Chancellor for Business and Finance
FIRST AMENDMENT TO UNIVERSITY RIGHTS AGREEMENT

THIS FIRST AMENDMENT TO UNIVERSITY RIGHTS AGREEMENT (this “First Amendment”) is entered into this __ day of _________________, 2021 (the “Effective Date”) by and between the BOARD OF REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA, on behalf of the University of Nebraska at Omaha (“University”) and OMAHA SPORTS PROPERTIES, LLC, a Missouri limited liability company (“Learfield”). University and Learfield may be referred to herein each individually as a “Party” or collectively as the “Parties.”

WHEREAS, University and Learfield are parties to that certain Amended and Restated University Rights Agreement with an effective date of July 1, 2016 (the “Agreement”), under which the University granted to Learfield certain sponsorship, broadcast and publication rights, and the right to use and license the use of University Marks relating to the Athletics Department of the University of Nebraska at Omaha, all as set forth in the Agreement; and

WHEREAS, University and Learfield desire to amend the terms of the Agreement to reflect changes to the amount of the Guaranteed Rights Fee thereunder due to the impacts of the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) global pandemic, the resulting restrictions on inventory and large gatherings, including sporting events, and the related economic impacts.

NOW THEREFORE, for and in consideration of the promises and the mutual covenants hereinafter contained, the Parties hereto covenant and agree as follows:

1. Defined Terms. In addition to the terms defined in this First Amendment and except as modified by this First Amendment, all capitalized terms used herein shall have the respective meanings set forth in the Agreement.

2. Contract Year 2020-21 Guaranteed Rights Fee. Section VII.C. of the Agreement is hereby amended to provide that instead of the Guaranteed Rights Fee of $1,500,000 for the Contract Year 2020-21, Learfield will pay the University a total adjusted Guaranteed Rights Fee of $1,050,000 in full satisfaction of amounts due and owing by Learfield to the University for Contract Year 2020-21. In addition, the University shall be deemed to have satisfied its requirements to provide inventory and merchandising elements for Contract Year 2020-21.

3. Contract Year 2021-22 Guaranteed Rights Fee. The Parties acknowledge that the impact of COVID-19 may continue into Contract Year 2021-22. Therefore, to the extent Learfield’s AGR for Contract Year 2021-22 is less than Learfield’s AGR for Contract Year 2019-20, then Section VII.C. of the Agreement will be amended to provide that the Guaranteed Rights Fee for Contract Year 2021-22 will be reduced by an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the amount by which the AGR in Contract Year 2019-20 exceeded the AGR in Contract Year 2021-22 (the “Contract Year 22 Shortfall”). Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Contract Year 22 Shortfall is greater than Three Hundred Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($300,000.00), the Parties will negotiate in good faith to mutually agree upon an appropriate reduction to the Guaranteed Rights Fee for Contract Year 2021-22.

4. Contract Year 2021-22 Inventory. To the extent (i) inventory and/or merchandising elements are impacted by COVID-19 during Contract Year 2021-22 and (ii) the Contract Year 22 Shortfall is less than Three Hundred Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($300,000.00), Learfield waives all right to assert any claim or action against the University under the Agreement for failure to provide the same. In the event the Contract Year 22 Shortfall is greater than Three Hundred Thousand and No/100 Dollars ($300,000.00), then any mutual agreement on an appropriate reduction to or elimination of the Guaranteed Rights Fee for Contract Year 2021-22 will include the waiver by Learfield any claim or action against the University under the Agreement for failure to provide such inventory and/or merchandising elements.

5. Ratification. To the extent there is any variance or inconsistency between the terms set forth in the Agreement and the terms set forth in this First Amendment, the terms of this First Amendment shall control. Except as amended by this First Amendment, all original terms and provisions of the Agreement shall continue in full force and effect and the Agreement, as amended by this First Amendment, is hereby ratified and confirmed.

6. Counterparts. This First Amendment may be executed in counterparts by facsimile or electronic signature, each of which shall be deemed an original and each counterpart together shall constitute one document.

7. Entire Agreement. This First Amendment, along with the Agreement, constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof/thereof and supersedes all other agreements, arrangements and understandings with respect to the subject matter hereof/thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties hereto have executed this First Amendment on the date first above written.

TO: The Board of Regents
Addendum XI-C-1
Academic Affairs

MEETING DATE: October 8, 2021

SUBJECT: Revisions and updates to the UNL Bylaws and the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee Procedures.

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Report

PREVIOUS ACTION: March 2, 2012

EXPLANATION: The revisions to the UNL Bylaws Section 3.1.5.2 entail identifying the Academic Rights and Responsibilities as the duly elected faculty committee that will be consulted when an administrative officer is seeking to impose an administrative leave on a member of the academic staff. This change is necessary to accommodate on the UNL campus the recently approved revisions to the Board of Regents Bylaws pertaining to the new procedures for administrative leave of academic staff members as outlined in the proposed revisions to Section 4.7 of the Regents Bylaws.

The Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee has recommended revisions and updates to the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee Procedures (including the Academic Freedom and Tenure-A Procedures, the Professional Conduct-A, the Grievance Procedures, and Academic Freedom and Tenure-B Procedures) with input from the Faculty Senate Executive Committee. The Faculty Senate approved the revisions and updates at their November 6, 2018, meeting, and on November 3, 2020, approved changes related to the Regents Bylaws, which were amended on April 9, 2021. The proposed revisions and updates have the full support of the UNL administration.

UNL Bylaw explanation and proposed changes

Summary of Changes: We propose changes to Section 3.1.5.2 of UNL Bylaws, which outline “Other Responsibilities of the ARRC.” The overall change to this section entails identifying the ARRC as the duly elected faculty committee that will be consulted when an administrative officer is seeking to impose an administrative leave on a member of the academic staff. This change is necessary to accommodate on the UNL campus the proposed revisions to BOR Bylaws pertaining to the new procedures for administrative leave of academic staff members as outlined in the proposed revisions to Section 4.7 of Regent Bylaws. The ARRC is a logical committee to serve in this capacity. First, it is an existing elected committee that is already in place to quickly decide upon whether or not formal complaints filed with the ARRC are moved forward to a Special Committee (i.e., AFT-A, Grievance or Professional Conduct). Second, administrative leave may come to the ARRC as an initial step before filing a formal complaint with the ARRC seeking termination, which is automatically transmitted to an AFT-B Special Committee.

To accomplish this we are proposing revisions to parts B and C of Section 3.1.5.2 of UNL Bylaws. We revised section B in two ways. First, what was the last sentence of this section is now the first sentence. Second, we removed the specific information about suspension in anticipation of dismissal as well as cancellation of speakers and speak only generally about policies and processes concerned with academic freedom. Then, we added a new part C to explicitly identify the ARRC as the duly elected faculty committee that will review Administrative leaves. The remaining alphabetic ordering in Section 3.1.5.2 is simply adjusted to accommodate adding a new part C.

The proposed revisions shown as tracked-changes below were approved by ASUN and Faculty Senate last year – recent revisions to this document in order to accommodate final changes to Regent Bylaws are highlighted in yellow below:

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE ACADEMIC RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES COMMITTEE
AND PROCEDURES FOR HANDLING MATTERS OF ACADEMIC FREEDOM AND TENURE, GRIEVANCE, AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT
University of Nebraska-Lincoln

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Responsibilities of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee. The Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee (ARRC) and its responsibilities are created by the UNL Faculty Senate, are described in its Syllabus of Campus-Wide Committees, and are approved by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents. Its Foundational Instruction, set forth in Section 3.4 3.1.5 of the UNL Bylaws, gives the ARRC both informational and quasi-judicial responsibilities.

1.1.1 The ARRC has significant responsibility to ensure that faculty members and administrators are appropriately apprised of rights, responsibilities, principles, and procedures pertaining to matters of professional relationships.

1.1.2 The ARRC has primary responsibility to ensure and to arrange an appropriate investigation or hearing when concerns or problems arise between a faculty member and the University and/or when concerns or problems related to academic freedom and tenure, grievance, and professional conduct occur in the professional relationships between faculty members and others in the University community, as stated in the Syllabus of Campus-Wide Committees and the Bylaws of the Board of Regents (Section 2.12.1).

1.1.3 The ARRC has other responsibilities assigned from time to time by the Faculty Senate, including but not limited to those set forth in UNL Bylaw 3.4.1.2 3.1.5.2 “Other Responsibilities of the ARRC”.

UNL Bylaw 3.4.1.2 3.1.5.2 sets forth these additional responsibilities:

3.4.1.2.1 A. To determine whether and to what extent recommendations of Special Committees convened by the chair of the ARRC to hear particular cases have been acted upon, and to report on the status of ARRC cases to the President of the Faculty Senate.

3.4.1.2.2 B. To provide for an effective process in representing the academic rights and responsibilities of the faculty including, but not limited to, those related to suspension in anticipation of dismissal and cancellation of presentations by properly invited speakers.

3.4.1.2.3 C. To act with respect to matters of general policies concerning academic freedom and tenure.

3.4.1.2.4 D. To recommend actions to appropriate bodies in order to ensure academic rights and responsibilities of faculty members.

3.4.1.2.5 E. To communicate to all members of the University community appropriate channels for conveying and dealing with concerns about actual or perceived violations of faculty rights and responsibilities.

3.4.1.2.6 F. To propose to the Faculty Senate changes in operating procedures and guidelines for each of the Special Committees in accord with relevant provisions of the Bylaws of the Board of Regents.

3.4.1.2.7 G. To submit committee minutes and make an annual report to the Faculty Senate, while maintaining confidentiality concerning individual cases.
1.2 Relationship of ARRC and ARRC Procedures to Special Committees and Codes of Procedures for Special Committees. Chapter 4 of the Regents’ Bylaws authorizes the faculty governing agency of each major administrative unit to create a faculty Grievance Committee, a faculty Committee on Academic Freedom and Tenure, and a faculty Professional Conduct Committee. The UNL Faculty Senate, with the approval of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, has vested that authority in Special Committees established under the aegis of the ARRC. A description of the committees can be found in the Syllabus of Campus-Wide Committees of the Faculty Senate, available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website.

This document (“ARRC Procedures”) indicates how complaints are to be received by the ARRC, assessed by it for sufficiency and jurisdiction, and transmitted to a Special Committee.

Other documents indicate how a complaint is to be handled after it has been transmitted to a Special Committee. Those documents are:

1.2.1 Code of Procedures for Special AFT-A Committees, applicable to Special Academic Freedom and Tenure Committees considering complaints by a member of the professional staff alleging that action taken or threatened violates the complainant’s academic freedom or academic tenure;

1.2.2 Code of Procedures for Special AFT-B Committees, applicable to Special Academic Freedom and Tenure Committees considering complaints in which the President or the Board of Regents seeks to terminate a faculty member’s Continuous Appointment or a faculty member’s Special or Specific-Term Appointment prior to its termination date;

1.2.3 Code of Procedures for Special PC-A PC Committees, applicable to Special Professional Conduct Committees investigating complaints charging a member of the professional staff with professional misconduct other than misconduct as defined by Federal Misconduct in Science Regulations, complaints against UNL as an institution seeking institutional action as a remedy to alleged discrimination, and complaints alleging that the complaining member of the professional staff has been wrongly accused of professional misconduct;

1.2.4 Code of Procedures for Special Grievance Committees, applicable to Special Grievance Committees considering complaints by a faculty member alleging a grievance not governed by any of the Codes of Procedures identified in Sections 1.2.1 to 1.2.3. 1.2.4.

1.2.5 Allegation of Professional Misconduct in Science should be submitted to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development. Charges of research misconduct are governed by the “University of Nebraska-Lincoln Policy on Procedures for Responding to Allegations of Research Misconduct” approved by the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, December 2, 2010.

The rules for determining applicability of these Codes of Procedures are set out in Section 5 of this document.

Any person contemplating filing a complaint with the ARRC should first consult not only this document, but also the Codes of Procedures for the various Special Committees, and, in appropriate circumstances, the relevant UNL policies pertaining to unlawful discrimination, sexual harassment, or other prohibited behavior. “Policy and Procedures on Unlawful Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Other Prohibited Harassment” administered by the UNL Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (IEC) or its successor if that office is renamed. Access and Diversity Programs (EAD).

All of these documents in their current form are available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website. For information and advice concerning these procedures, contact the Chair of the ARRC.
1.3 Academic Rights and Responsibilities. All professional staff (including administrators and faculty members) of the University of Nebraska are entitled to enjoy and to exercise, without penalty, all the rights of an American citizen and the rights of academic freedom as specified in Regents Bylaw 4.2. It is essential to the University that all administrators and professional staff exercise and respect the exercise of these rights by others, and uphold the attendant responsibilities outlined in Regents Bylaw 4.1.

1.4 Duty of University Officials to Investigate and To Take Action on Known or Alleged Discrimination. University officials have a duty promptly to investigate and to take appropriate action on all known or alleged incidents of illegal discrimination. 3. THE ARRC AND THE ARRC PANEL

3.1 Membership of the ARRC. The ARRC shall be composed of five tenured faculty members elected for staggered three–year terms by and from the Academic Assembly, and if appointed by the President of the Faculty Senate in accordance with the Syllabus of Campus-Wide Committees, a non-voting liaison member. At the time of their election, no two members of the Committee shall have a primary academic appointment in the same college or division of UNL. No member of the faculty who holds any administrative appointment (including that of department chair or head or equivalent) higher than department head or chair shall be eligible to serve as a member of the Committee during the term of such administrative appointment. Committee members may succeed themselves. The Chair and Vice-Chair of the ARRC shall be elected annually by the ARRC.

3.1.1 Voting. The ARRC may take action only on concurrence of at least three members of the ARRC. The Chair of the ARRC may vote.

3.1.2 Closed Meetings. Meetings of the ARRC are not open to the public.

3.1.3 Conflict of Interest for Members of the ARRC. Conflict of interest occurs when a member of the ARRC

3.1.3.1 is in the same department or equivalent unit as a party; or

3.1.3.2 answers directly to a party; or

3.1.3.3 has a direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party; or

3.1.3.4 has, or reasonably appears to have, a personal interest in the case or its outcome; or

3.1.3.5 has provided counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or

3.1.3.6 has participated in the efforts of an organization to provide counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or

3.1.3.7 has any other relationship with a party that might prevent impartiality.

When a member of the ARRC has a conflict of interest, the member shall voluntarily withdraw from participation in matters related to that case. When a member of the ARRC is alleged to have a conflict of interest and does not voluntarily withdraw, the other members of the ARRC shall review the allegation and, if a conflict of interest is found by a majority of the other members of the ARRC, shall bar that person from further participation in matters related to that case. If more than one member of the ARRC withdraws or is barred, the President of the Faculty Senate shall appoint experienced temporary replacements for matters related to that case.

12Rules governing eligibility and representation are set forth in the Syllabus of Campus-Wide Committees of the Faculty Senate.
3.2 Membership of the ARRC Panel. Each year the Academic Assembly shall elect 12 faculty members to three-year terms on the ARRC Panel. Of the 36 panel members, 28 must be tenured faculty, 4 must be faculty extension educators with equivalent rank of associate or full professor, and 4 must be non-tenure-track faculty other than extension educators with equivalent rank of associate or full professor. No member of the faculty who holds any administrative appointment (including that of department chair or head or equivalent) shall be eligible to serve as a member of the ARRC Panel during the term of such administrative appointment. Panel members may succeed themselves.

Panel members may succeed themselves.

3.3 Membership of Special Committees. The Chair of the ARRC is charged with selecting the members of any Special Committees that are convened. The members of these committees are chosen from the Academic Rights and Responsibilities (ARR) Panel. To the extent possible, assignment to Special Committees shall be based on a fair distribution of ARR Panel members by college, discipline, ethnicity, gender, and experience, taking account of recent service on past Special Committees. The Chair of the ARRC will determine which ARR Panel members are in their final year of service and communicate that information to the Faculty Senate Coordinator so that the Faculty Senate Committee on Committees can arrange an election for the succeeding year that will return an ARR Panel sufficiently diverse to ensure that Special Committees will be broadly representative of the faculty.

3.3.1 Special Committees convened as Special AFT-A or Special AFT-B Committees shall be composed only of tenured or tenure-leading faculty members.

3.3.2 If an extension educator is a party to a case being considered by a Special Grievance Committee or a Special Professional Conduct Committee, the Special Committee should include an extension educator from the ARR Panel, if possible. If one of the parties to a case before a Special Grievance Committee or a Special Professional Conduct Committee is a non-tenure-track faculty member other than an extension educator, the Special Committee should include a non-tenure-track faculty member other than an extension educator, if possible.

3.3.3 If a member of a Special Committee has to withdraw from the Committee because of illness, time-constraints, or other good cause, the Chair of the ARRC will identify an appropriate replacement among ARR Panel members who are not serving on another Special Committee at the time of the withdrawal.

3.3.4 Allegations of illegal discrimination and harassment should be submitted to the office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (IEC). Charges of illegal discrimination and harassment are governed by the UNL “Policy and Procedures on Unlawful Discrimination, Including Sexual and Other Prohibited Harassment” administered by the IEC. If a party to a case of illegal discrimination and harassment feels that the IEC has misinterpreted the relevant statutes or reached an inappropriate conclusion, that party may file a grievance with the ARRC as described in section 4 of these procedures.

Early in the fall semester of each academic year the ARRC shall designate six members of the ARRC Panel for each of four Special Committees, a reserve group to serve on special committees if needed and for a Special Resource Group. At least one member of the Special Resource Group shall be an Extension Educator. To the extent possible, assignment to Special Committees and to the Special Resource Group shall be based on a fair distribution of ARRC Panel members by college, discipline, ethnicity, gender, and experience with cases involving academic freedom and tenure, grievance, or professional conduct. As soon as possible thereafter, the Chair of the ARRC shall determine which members of the ARRC Panel have terms that will expire at the end of the current year. 7.1 Any suspension or administrative leave of absence of a professional academic staff member by an administrative officer not resulting from the outcome of a Special Committee hearing must be informally reviewed by the ARRC as specified under UNL Bylaws section 3.15.2(e) 3.1.5.2(c) in “Other Responsibilities of the ARRC.” What constitutes an immediate suspension administrative leave and under what circumstances an immediate suspension administrative leave of absence may be applied are outlined in Regents’ Bylaws Section 4.137 4.7 (“Administrative Leave of Absence, Suspensions, and/or Termination of a Professional Staff Member: Definition”). The role of the ARRC is to oversee and assess the validity of an imposed immediate suspension administrative leave of absence on a professional academic staff member by an administrative officer. The procedures for the ARRC to follow for reviewing an immediate suspension administrative leave of absence are specified under Regents Bylaw Section 4.13.28 4.7.2 (“Procedures for Imposing Leave Procedures for Immediate Suspension of a Professional Staff Member”).

The ARRC must complete its review and make its recommendation about the leave within 10 business days after being notified of the immediate suspension administrative leave of absence. Following this review, the ARRC Chair shall inform the administrative officer and the professional academic staff member of the committee’s recommendations and notify the professional academic staff member of their right to due process. The ARRC must render a recommendation as to whether the leave is warranted given the circumstances, and whether any of the terms or conditions of the leave should be modified given the circumstances. The administrative officer shall fully inform the ARRC of everything that is known about the need for the leave. The ARRC is prohibited from disseminating this sensitive information in accordance with Section 3.6 of ARRC Procedures and UNL Bylaw 2.10 of UNL Bylaws.

Any suspension or suspension administrative leave of absence through the end of a contract or an indefinite is a termination and will be treated as such by the administration filing an AFT-B complaint with the ARRC as defined in Regents Bylaws section 4.7.1 (“Suspension”). Therefore, the administrative officer must inform the ARRC if the professional academic staff member’s contract will expire prior to the 90-day extension of the leave. Regents’ Bylaw Section 4.13.4.7.4 of Regent Bylaws (“Reinstatement”) allows for the initial leave to last for 90 days as well as an additional 90-day extension of the leave. A leave may not extend beyond 180 days unless the administration files an AFT-B or PC complaint against the person put on leave. If the person’s contract will expire during any part of this extended timeframe, then the administration is required to file an AFT-B complaint seeking termination for cause of the person placed on leave as specified in Regents’ Bylaws Section 4.13.4.2 4.7.4.1 (“Expiration of Appointment While on Leave”). If the individual would like to waive their right to a termination hearing, then they may do so in writing to the Chancellor and the Chair of the ARRC. The administrative officer shall also rule as to whether a suspension at the end of contract is appropriate or whether formal termination proceedings are warranted.
Suspension in anticipation of dismissal is appropriate only pending an AFT hearing. When a question arises concerning dismissal, faculty members shall not be suspended from duties assigned by their University appointment during the time needed to resolve the question, unless there is clear threat of physical harm or serious disruption of University programs by the person to be suspended. Before suspending the faculty member the Chancellor (or the Vice Chancellor designated by the Chancellor) shall contact the Chair of the ARRC to arrange a meeting with three members of the Special Resource Group ARR Panel selected by the Chair of the ARRC. This meeting shall occur prior to suspension, if possible, but in any case within 48 hours to the suspension. The purpose of this procedure is three-fold: first, to ensure that less stringent action has been considered; second, to protect against claims of arbitrary or capricious action; and third, to ensure that the faculty member is informed of the right to due process. If possible, the Chancellor (or the designated Vice Chancellor) shall reassign the faculty member to other appropriate duties should suspension occur. Pursuant to Regents Bylaw 4.14.2(I i), the suspended faculty member's salary will continue during any period of suspension and an assignment to other duties shall not diminish the faculty member's salary.

7.2 Canceling the presentation of a properly invited speaker is appropriate only if there is a clear threat of physical harm or a serious disruption of University programs if the presentation goes forward. Before such a cancellation, the Chancellor (or the Vice Chancellor designated by the Chancellor) shall contact the Chair of the ARRC to arrange a meeting with the ARRC to discuss the proposed cancellation. This meeting shall occur prior to the cancellation unless rare and compelling circumstances make that impossible; in the latter case, the meeting shall be held within 48 hours of the cancellation. The purpose of this meeting is to insure that less stringent alternatives for action have been considered and that when cancellation is imperative, alternative modes of presenting the material have been explored, and to protect against claims that the action was based on considerations inimical to academic freedom.

8. FOLLOW UP BY THE ARRC
8.1 Chancellor’s (or President’s) Response to Special Committee Recommendations. In response to recommendations made by a Special Committee, the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or a witness, the President) shall within 30 days provide a written response to the Chair of the ARRC indicating:

8.1.1 the recommendations that have been accepted and the action taken;
8.1.2 the recommendations that have been rejected in part or completely; and
8.1.3 for each recommendation rejected, reasons responsive to the Committee’s rationale for proposing it.

The Chancellor (or President) shall decide upon Special Committee recommendations on the basis of the evidence submitted to the Special Committee and the report of the Special Committee. Unless clearly erroneous, the findings of fact made by the Special Committee shall be accepted. The Chancellor (or President) shall give the Special Committee's findings and conclusions due consideration, and shall take into account the fact that the Special Committee is a representative committee of the faculty and had the opportunity to see and hear the witnesses who testified personally before the Special Committee.

Copies of the Chancellor’s (or President’s) written response shall be sent to the parties concerned, the Special Committee, and to the Faculty Senate President. If the response rejects or changes the recommendations made by the Special Committee, the ARRC shall inform the President of the Faculty Senate who shall provide each member of the Senate Executive Committee with a copy of the Final Report and of the response, and shall put the matter on the agenda of the next Senate Executive Committee meeting for whatever action the Senate Executive Committee may deem appropriate. Members of the Senate Executive Committee will observe the confidentiality requirements described in Section 3.6, and 3.8.9, and 3.8.10 of the procedures.
8.2 ARRC Review of Implementation of Recommendations. The ARRC shall determine the extent to which recommendations of all Special Committees have been implemented, and shall report its findings to the President of the Faculty Senate and in its annual report to the Senate.

8.3 ARRC Meeting with the Special Committee. After the Final Report has been filed, the ARRC shall meet with the Special Committee and any others considered appropriate by the Chair of the ARRC to thank the Special Committee for its work, to collect all copies of documents, and to hear from the Special Committee any suggestions about how the work of the ARRC and its Special Committees might be improved.

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Academic Rights and Responsibilities. All professional staff (including administrators and faculty members) of the University of Nebraska are entitled to enjoy and to exercise, without penalty, all the rights of an American citizen and the rights of academic freedom as specified in Regents Bylaw 4.2. It is essential to the University that all administrators and professional staff exercise these rights and respect their exercise by others, and uphold the attendant responsibilities outlined in Regents Bylaw 4.1.

1.2 Duty of University Officials to Investigate and to Take Action on Known or Alleged Discrimination. University Officials have a duty promptly to investigate and to take appropriate action on all known or alleged incidents of illegal discrimination. University officials in this context shall be defined as any individual employed by UNL with job authority or responsibility to

1.2.1 supervise, hire, assign or reassign responsibilities;
1.2.2 recommend or grant promotion or demotion; and/or
1.2.3 recommend or take any disciplinary or corrective actions.

1.3 Authority and Jurisdiction of Special AFT-A Committees.

1.3.1 Regents Bylaw 4.15.2(a) authorizes a Faculty Academic Freedom and Tenure Committee to consider complaints by any faculty member alleging any procedural or substantive grievance that constitutes an allegation that action taken, or threatened, violates the complainant’s academic freedom or academic tenure. The UNL Faculty Senate, with the approval of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, has vested that authority in Special AFT-A Committees established under the aegis of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee (ARRC). A description of the committees can be found in the Syllabus of Committees of the Faculty Senate, available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website.

1.3.2 The Code entitled “Responsibilities of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee and Procedures for Handling Matters of Academic Freedom and Tenure, Grievance and Professional Conduct” (“ARRC Procedures”) indicates how complaints are to be received by the ARRC, assessed for sufficiency and jurisdiction, and transmitted to a Special Committee.
1.3.3 This “Code of Procedures for Special AFT-A Committees” indicates how a complaint is to be handled after the ARRC has transmitted it to a Special AFT-A Committee.

1.3.4 The ARRC Procedures and the Code of Procedures for Special AFT-A Committees in their current form are available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website. Any faculty member contemplating filing a complaint with the ARRC should first consult both documents. For information and advice concerning these procedures, contact the Chair of the ARRC.

2 DEFINITIONS

As used in this Code of Procedures for Special AFT-A Committees, unless the context otherwise requires:

2.1 Chancellor shall mean the Chancellor of UNL.

2.2 Days shall mean days on which University offices are open for business.

2.3 Faculty Member shall mean any staff member of UNL holding the academic rank of lecturer or above or equivalent rank (Regents Bylaws 3.1.1.1 and 4.4).

2.4 In Writing and Written, when used to describe a communication, shall mean that the communication so described shall be either a paper document signed by the sender or an electronic communication that can be readily accessed by the sender and by the recipient.

2.5 Parties shall mean the complainant(s) and the respondent(s).

2.6 President shall mean the President of the University of Nebraska and shall include the authorized representative of the President. The President shall not extend such authorization to the Chancellor or staff members of any campus of the University.

2.7 Section, unless otherwise noted, refers to a section of this Code of Procedures for Special AFT-A Committees.

3 GENERAL RULES GOVERNING SPECIAL AFT-A COMMITTEES

3.1 Quorum. Each Special AFT-A Committee has six tenured members. If a member of the Special AFT-A Committee withdraws or is barred prior to commencement of the Hearing, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall notify the Chair of the ARRC, and the Chair of the ARRC shall make every reasonable effort to appoint a suitable replacement as provided in Section 3.3.4 of the ARRC Procedures. In an emergency, and with the consent of the parties, a hearing may be conducted with one member absent, but a member absent from the hearing may not participate in subsequent deliberations. In no case may the Special AFT-A Committee proceed with the Hearing with fewer than five members present.

3.2 Voting. The Special AFT-A Committee may take action only on concurrence of four members. The Chair may vote.

3.3 Expiration of Term. A member of the Special AFT-A Committee whose term on the ARR Panel expires during a case shall continue to serve until the case is concluded.

3.4 Conflict of Interest. Conflict of Interest occurs when a member of the Special AFT-A Committee

3.4.1 is in the same department or equivalent unit as a party or witness; or 3.4.2 answers directly to a party or witness; or
3.4.3 has a direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; or
3.4.4 has, or reasonably appears to have, a personal interest in the case or its outcome; or
3.4.5 has provided counsel or assistance to a party relating to the grievance; or
3.4.6 has participated in the efforts of an organization to provide counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or
3.4.7 has any other relationship with a party that might prevent impartiality.

When a member of the Special AFT-A Committee discovers that the member has a conflict of interest, the member shall voluntarily withdraw from participation. When a member of the Special AFT-A Committee is alleged to have a conflict of interest and the member does not voluntarily withdraw, the ARRC shall review the allegation and, if a conflict of interest is found, shall bar that person from further participation.

3.5 Communications.

3.5.1 The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee receives communications for the Committee and speaks for it. Both complainant and respondent shall address communications concerning the case only to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee. Special AFT-A Committee members should discourage contacts outside the regular process, and should direct those who make them to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee.

3.5.2 The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall keep all parties informed of any substantive communications and contacts, including those that arise outside the normal process.
3.5.3 If the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee has difficulty communicating with a party or other necessary participant, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may consult with the Chair of the ARRC about ways to resolve the communication problem.
3.6 Dissemination of Personnel Information. Participation in Special AFT-A Committee proceedings makes participants privy to sensitive information and allegations involving the personal and professional lives of members of the University community. UNL Bylaw 2.10 describes limitations on the collection and dissemination of personnel information. Some information obtained as part of an AFT-A proceeding may be protected against broader dissemination by this Bylaw. Violators of this Bylaw could be subject to sanctions for professional misconduct.

3.7 Open Hearings. AFT-A Hearings, but not Pre-Hearing Conferences or other AFT-A proceedings, ordinarily are open to the public. However, the Special AFT-A Committee may order a Hearing closed if

3.7.1 prior to the Pre-Hearing Conference, a party in writing requests that the Hearing be closed;

3.7.2 all parties consent; and

3.7.3 the Special AFT-A Committee determines that there is good cause why the Hearing should be closed.

If the Hearing is closed, only those persons identified in Section 6.1 may be present.

3.8 Academic Advisors. Each party may choose an Academic Advisor who may accompany and advise the party at the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing. A party's academic advisor may consult privately with that party. At the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing, academic advisors may respond to questions from the Chair and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing. The role of Academic Advisor is open to any person who:

3.8.1 is a member of the UNL Academic Assembly (UNL Bylaw 3.3.1) or has emeritus faculty status at UNL;

3.8.2 is not in the same department or equivalent unit as a witness (other than the party being advised) - before or a member of the Special AFT-A Committee;

3.8.3 has no other relationship with a member of the Special AFT-A Committee that might create, or reasonably might seem to create, a conflict of interest for that Special AFT-A Committee member;

3.8.4 has no direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; and

3.8.5 has no other relationship with a party, an organization, or a witness that might interfere with the investigative process.

3.9 Counsel and Advice for the Special AFT-A Committee.

3.9.1 Because of potential conflicts of interest, the Special AFT-A Committee shall not seek or accept advice from anyone to whom a party is answerable or who may be in a position of giving advice or legal counsel to a party or to any person or body that may later act on the Report of the Special AFT-A Committee.

3.9.2 The Special AFT-A Committee may receive advice from the ARRC attorney selected pursuant to section 3.10.2 of the ARRC Procedures.
3.9.3 Nothing in this Section 3.9 shall prevent full participation by a member of the Special AFT-A Committee who is also an attorney.

3.10 Termination of Pending AFT-A Proceedings.

3.10.1 If at any time all complainants in writing ask the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee that the Formal Written Complaint be withdrawn, or all parties in writing notify the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee that they have reached a settlement of the case, the Special AFT-A Committee shall terminate the proceedings and shall not deliver the Final Report described in Section 8. However, in such circumstances the Special AFT-A Committee may, on its own initiative, make written recommendations authorized by Sections 8.2.2 and 8.2.3

3.10.1.1 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance; and

3.10.1.2 concerning ways to correct any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance.

Termination of the proceedings under this section shall not preclude the Special AFT-A Committee, or members of the Special AFT-A Committee, from making the “Communications Regarding Matters Outside the Scope of the Formal Written Complaint” authorized by Section 10.

Resignation from the University by any party shall not necessarily prevent the Special AFT-A Committee from completing its deliberations and delivering the Final Report described in Section 8.

3.11 Timely Completion. Unless the ARRC, for good cause shown, authorizes a longer period of time, the Special AFT-A Committee shall complete its investigation and deliver its report within 150 days of receiving the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the ARRC.

3.12 Adherence to Procedures.
If a party has good reason to believe that the Special AFT-A Committee is out of compliance with these procedures, the matter should be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee. Procedural questions that the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee cannot resolve promptly and that are so important that failure to resolve them would undermine the credibility of the Special AFT-A Committee may be referred by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee or by a party to the ARRC for resolution. The ARRC shall resolve the issues after obtaining the views of the parties and of the Special AFT-A Committee. The Chair of the ARRC shall inform the parties and the Special AFT-A Committee of the ARRC decision and direct them to follow the decision.
3.12.1 If a party has good reason to believe that the ARRC is out of compliance with these procedures or the ARRC Procedures, the party may invoke Section 6.2 of the ARRC Procedures.

4 GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHAIR OF THE SPECIAL AFT-A COMMITTEE, NOTICE, RESPONSE, ALLEGATIONS OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST, AND CHALLENGES TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF PROPOSED ACADEMIC ADVISORS

4.1 General Responsibilities of the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee. The responsibilities of the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee include:

4.1.1 convening and presiding over meetings of the Special AFT-A Committee;
4.1.2 receiving communications for the Special AFT-A Committee and speaking for it;
4.1.3 ensuring that all substantive communications are made available to all parties;
4.1.4 maintaining a complete case file, including a record of all substantive communications, documents, verbatim transcripts of hearings, committee actions, and committee reports;

4.1.6 arranging for accommodations for the Pre-Hearing Conference and for the Hearing, taking into account such factors as the time needed, the space needs of the Special Committee and parties and witnesses, the need for a separate accommodation for witnesses while waiting to testify, and access to other facilities that may be needed;
4.1.7 moving the proceedings toward a conclusion as expeditiously as reasonably possible while respecting the rights and needs of all participants;
4.1.8 notifying the Chair of the ARRC of any withdrawal from the Special AFT-A Committee to permit timely appointment of a substitute as provided in Section 3.3.4 of the ARRC Procedures;
4.1.9 reminding participants of limitations on the dissemination of personnel information set forth in Section 3.6;
4.1.10 arranging for timely consultation with the Chair of ARRC should procedural disputes arise;
4.1.11 keeping accurate records of expenditures for activities of the Special Committee and arranging for reimbursements from the Chancellor’s office; and
4.1.12 arranging for the court reporter and verbatim transcript required by Section 6.5.

4.2 Written Notice to the Parties. Within 7 days after the Special AFT-A Committee has been convened, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall send to each party the following:

4.2.1 a copy of the Formal Written Complaint;
4.2.2 a copy of the current Procedures of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee;
4.2.3 a copy of the current Code of Procedures for AFT-A Committees;
4.2.4 a list of the members of the Special AFT-A Committee;
4.2.5 the name of the ARRC Observer or, if no ARRC Observer has been appointed, notice to the parties that they are entitled to request that an ARRC Observer be appointed; and
4.2.6 notice of the deadlines established in Section 4.3 and 4.4.

4.3 Formal Written Responses from Respondents: Mandatory Elements and Deadline for Filing. Within 20 calendar days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee, each respondent shall file a Formal Written Response with the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee. In addition, if a Formal Written Complaint was filed by an attorney for a complainant, each respondent shall within 20 calendar days from date of receipt of the complaint mail a copy of the Formal Written Response to said attorney by regular United States mail with sufficient postage attached, properly addressed to said attorney.

4.3.1 Mandatory Elements. Each Formal Written Response shall contain a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the facts alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest and a clear and concise statement indicating any ameliorating or other additional facts the respondent wishes to allege. Under Sections 4.5 and 7.2, if a respondent fails to file a timely Formal Written Response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

4.3.2 Optional Elements. In addition, the Formal Written Response may include the following:

4.3.2.1 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the standards identified in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.2 a clear and concise statement of the standards, if any, the respondent believes to be appropriate for evaluating the complaint;
4.3.2.3 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the violations alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.4 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the proposed remedies, sanctions, or other personal relief or prospective institutional change the respondent believes would be inappropriate.

The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.
4.4 Deadline for Requests from Any Party Requesting an Academic Advisor, an ARRC Observer, and for Allegations of Conflict of Interest. Within 15 days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee,

4.4.1 any party wishing to be advised by an academic advisor shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee identifying the proposed academic advisor;
4.4.2 any party wishing to request that the ARRC appoint an ARRC Observer shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee;
4.4.3 any party wishing to allege that a member of the Special AFT-A Committee has a conflict of interest shall file a written statement with the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee setting forth the basis for the challenge.

The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.5 Procedure If No Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If no respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the uncontested allegations of fact in the Formal Written Complaint shall be deemed to be true, and the Chair of the Special Committee shall so notify the parties and shall schedule a meeting of the Special AFT-A Committee to prepare the Final Report required by Section 8.

4.6 Procedure If a Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If any respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall

4.6.1 determine whether proposed academic advisors are eligible under Section 3.8, and if any party’s proposed academic advisor is not eligible, invite that party to propose an eligible academic advisor;
4.6.2 forward to each complainant and to each respondent a copy of each Formal Written Response and the names of proposed academic advisors; and
4.6.3 forward to the Chair of the ARRC any request that an ARRC Observer be appointed.

4.7 Party Challenges to Proposed Academic Advisors or ARRC Observer.

4.7.1 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed academic advisor by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed academic advisor. If a challenged proposed academic advisor does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall determine whether the proposed academic advisor is eligible. If the proposed academic advisor is not eligible, the party may propose another academic advisor. If the new proposed academic advisor appears to be eligible, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall notify parties of the new proposed academic advisor and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed academic advisor.
4.7.2 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed ARRC Observer by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed ARRC Observer. The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall forward the challenge to the Chair of the ARRC. If a challenged ARRC Observer does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the ARRC shall determine whether the proposed ARRC Observer is eligible. If the proposed ARRC Observer is not eligible, the ARRC may in writing propose another ARRC Observer to the Chair of the Special Committee. The Chair of the Special Committee shall in writing notify parties of the new proposed ARRC Observer and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed ARRC Observer.

5 PRE-HEARING CONFERENCE

5.1 Purpose. As soon as possible after giving notice of a Formal Written Response contesting any allegations of the Formal Written Complaint and resolving any issues involving conflicts of interest and eligibility of proposed academic advisors and ARRC Observers, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall arrange a Pre-Hearing Conference with all parties in attendance

5.1.1 to clarify the issues involved;
5.1.2 to identify uncontroverted facts;
5.1.3 to explore the possibility of a voluntary settlement of the case;
5.1.4 to explain procedures applicable to the Hearing;
5.1.5 to explain deadlines for identifying witnesses to be called and documents to be offered in accordance with Section 5.3; and 5.1.6 to establish procedures for setting the date, time, and place of the Hearing.

After the Pre-Hearing Conference, the Chair of the Special Committee will provide in writing to all parties and members of the Special Committee a list of the uncontroverted facts established in the Pre-Hearing Conference as well as a list of issues to be resolved during the Investigative Hearing by the Special Committee.

5.2 Persons Who May Attend and Participate in the Pre-Hearing Conference:

5.2.1 the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee;
5.2.2 the parties;
5.2.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
5.2.4 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
5.2.5 the ARRC attorney, if requested by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee; and
5.2.6 the ARRC Observer, if any.

5.3 Notice of Hearing and Deadlines for Identification of Witnesses and Documents. As soon as possible after the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conference, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall in writing give notice of the deadlines for identification of witnesses and documents and of the date, time, and place of the Hearing to 5.3.1 each party;
5.3.2 each member of the Special AFT-A Committee;
5.3.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
5.3.4 each academic advisor, if any;
5.3.5 the ARRC Observer, if any;
5.3.6 the Chair of the ARRC.

5.4 Identification of Witnesses and Documents.  At least 10 calendar days before the Hearing each complainant shall give written notice to all other parties and to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee of the witnesses to be called and of documents to be offered in evidence at the Hearing.  At least 5 calendar days before the Hearing, each respondent shall give written notice to all other parties and to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee of the witnesses to be called and of documents to be offered in evidence at the Hearing.  No witnesses or documents not so listed shall be heard or received at the Hearing, except in cases of surprise, or for the purpose of rebutting oral testimony, or for other justifiable cause found to exist by the Special AFT-A Committee.

6 HEARING

6.1 Persons Who May Attend a Closed Hearing.  AFT-A Hearings, but not the Pre-Hearing Conference or other AFT-A proceedings, ordinarily are open to the public. However, if the Special AFT-A Committee orders a Hearing closed under Section 3.7, only the following persons may attend the Hearing:

6.1.1 members of the Special AFT-A Committee;
6.1.2 the parties;
6.1.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
6.1.4 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
6.1.5 the ARRC attorney, if requested by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee;
6.1.6 the ARRC Observer, if any; and
6.1.7 the court reporter; and witnesses, but no witness shall be present except when that witness is testifying and responding to questions.

6.2 Order of Hearing. The usual sequence of a Hearing is as follows:

6.2.1 introductions of all present (this will be repeated for each witness);
6.2.2 introduction of the case by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee;
6.2.3 complainant(s)’ presentation of the Formal Written Complaint and evidence in support of the Formal Written Complaint, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.4 respondent(s)’ presentation of the Formal Written Response and evidence in support of the Formal Written Response, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.5 presentation of documentation and testimony of witnesses requested by the Special AFT-A Committee;
6.2.6 rebuttal in support of the Formal Written Complaint;
6.2.7 closing statement(s) by Complainant(s), followed by closing statement(s) by Respondent(s);
6.2.8 statement by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee thanking participants and explaining post-Hearing procedures.

This order may be varied if the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee determines that a clearer way of exploring the issues can be achieved, and if the Special AFT-A Committee and the parties agree.

6.3 Evidence and Witnesses.

6.3.1 Testimony shall be taken under oath. Each party shall have the right to cross-examine witnesses who testify and shall have the right to submit rebuttal testimony. Witnesses may testify and evidence may be received not only concerning relevant facts but also concerning relevant standards.

6.3.2 Members of the UNL community shall cooperate with the Special AFT-A Committee in providing testimony or documents; however, a person shall not be required to give testimony or to produce documents in regard to any confidential communication for which the law provides a privilege. Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify in regard to any communication for which the law does not provide a privilege obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special AFT-A Committee in its deliberations and in its preparation of the Final Report.

6.3.3 In the event any party to the proceedings desires the issuance of a subpoena, such subpoena shall be issued at the direction of the Corporation Secretary, and may be served in the manner provided for subpoenas in the Nebraska Court Rules of Discovery.

6.3.4 Witnesses not able to attend the hearing may present testimony taken by deposition in the manner provided for depositions in the Nebraska Courts.

6.3.4 6.3.5 The Special AFT-A Committee may admit and give probative effect to evidence which possesses probative value commonly accepted by reasonably prudent persons in the conduct of their affairs. It may exclude incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and unduly repetitious evidence; provided, that any party may file with the Committee at least 3 days before the hearing a written request that the rules of evidence followed by the District Courts in the State of Nebraska shall be applicable. If such a written request is filed, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall notify the parties that the proceedings shall comply with the principles of law with respect to proceedings in the District Courts in Nebraska, and all counsel and parties shall be bound by such rules and standards of ethics and codes of trial conduct as are applied
6.3.5 The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may in appropriate circumstances temporarily adjourn the Hearing.

6.4 Format of Presentations and Questions. To preserve orderly and civil proceedings, the Hearing shall be conducted by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee as follows:

6.4.1 No person shall speak without prior recognition by the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee.

6.4.2 Each party and each witness may be questioned by members of the Special AFT-A Committee after the end of the presentation of that party or witness.

6.4.3 When the Special AFT-A Committee has finished questioning a party or witness, each party may question that party or witness; alternatively, the parties may submit questions to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee which the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may ask on their behalf.

6.4.4 The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee may bar questions under Section 6.3.5. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar a question may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special AFT-A Committee.

6.4.5 A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party, may respond to questions from the Chair, and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing.

6.5 Record of Hearing
The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall arrange for a court reporter to be present at the Hearing to produce a verbatim record of the Hearing. Bills for the court reporter’s services shall be processed through the office of the General Counsel of the University. The verbatim record shall be made available to the parties and to the Special AFT-A Committee prior to the deliberations and decision of the Special AFT-A Committee required by Section 7. The verbatim record also shall be made available for inspection by the public as set forth in Section 8.3.

7 DELIBERATIONS AND DECISION

7.1 All deliberations shall be conducted in executive session with no one present except members of the Special AFT-A Committee, and the ARRC attorney, if invited.

7.2 The complainant bears the burden of proving relevant facts by a preponderance of the relevant evidence. If a respondent fails to file a timely written response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

7.3 Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special AFT-A Committee in its deliberations and preparation of the Final Report.

7.4 The standards against which the charges are to be judged include applicable state and federal law; University bylaws, rules and regulations; established policies of the relevant administrative unit; appropriate professional and discipline based standards; applicable contracts; and academic principles and tradition. In the event of conflict between different University bylaws, rules or regulations, those of the more inclusive administrative unit shall prevail.

8 THE FINAL REPORT

When the Special AFT-A Committee has completed its deliberations it shall prepare a Final Report setting forth the Special AFT-A Committee’s disposition of each grievance alleged in the Formal Written Complaint. Communications regarding matters outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint shall be addressed in accordance with the rules set forth in Section 10 below. The Final Report shall be limited to the following mandatory and optional elements.

8.1 Mandatory Elements of the Final Report. The Final Report shall contain, with respect to each grievance alleged in the Formal Written Complaint:

8.1.1 specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based;

8.1.2 identification of the standards against which the grievance is being judged;

and

8.1.3 the Special AFT-A Committee’s conclusions concerning whether applicable standards have been violated.

Before preparing the elements of the Final Report required by Sections 8.1.2 and 8.1.3, the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall send to each party a copy of a provisional draft of the specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based required by Section 8.1.1. Each party shall have five days after receipt of the provisional draft to submit written comments to the Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee suggesting specific changes to correct specific alleged inaccuracies in the provisional draft. No changes based upon such comments shall be made to the provisional draft without first providing other parties an opportunity to respond to the comments. If the Special AFT-A Committee decides not to make changes suggested in a written comment, that written comment and the Special AFT-A Committee’s reasons for that decision shall be appended to the Final Report.
8.2Optional Elements of the Final Report. In addition, the Final Report may contain one or more of the following:

8.2.1 Recommendations. The Final Report may include recommendations:
8.2.1.1 concerning ways to redress any complaint the Special AFT-A Committee has determined to be justified;
8.2.1.2 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint;
8.2.1.3 concerning correction of any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint.

8.2.2 Concurring or Dissenting Opinions. The Final Report may include concurring or dissenting opinions, or both, concerning any mandatory or optional element of the report.

8.3 Delivery and Archiving of Verbatim Record, Case File, and Final Report.

8.3.1 The Chair of the Special AFT-A Committee shall
8.3.1.1 deliver a copy of the Final Report, a copy of the verbatim record of the Hearing, and a copy of all exhibits to the Board of Regents;
8.3.1.2 deliver a copy of the Final Report to each party, to the Chancellor, to the President, to the Chair of the ARRC, and to the President of the Faculty Senate; and
8.3.1.3 deliver a copy of the Final Report and of the case file required by Section 4.1.4 to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate.

8.3.2 The Coordinator of the Faculty Senate shall
8.3.2.1 obtain from the Corporate Secretary of the Board of Regents a copy of any committee report considered by the Board of Regents and a copy of theofficial record of the Board of Regents action;
8.3.2.2 deposit any committee report considered by the Board of Regents, the official record of the Board of Regents action, a second copy of the Final Report, and the case file in the Faculty Senate Office under specified conditions of access; and
8.3.2.3 deposit any committee report considered by the Board of Regents, the official record of the Board of Regents action, a second copy of the Final Report, and the case file in the University Archives under specified conditions of access.

9 FOLLOW UP TO THE REPORT

9.1 Chancellor’s (or President’s) Response to Recommendations. In response to recommendations made by the Special AFT-A Committee, the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or witness, the President) shall within 30 days provide a written response to the Chair of the ARRC indicating:

9.1.1 the recommendations that have been accepted and the action taken;
9.1.2 the recommendations that have been rejected in part or completely; and
9.1.3 for each recommendation rejected, reasons responsive to the Committee’s rationale for proposing it.

The Chancellor (or President) shall decide upon Special AFT-A Committee recommendations on the basis of the evidence submitted to the Special AFT-A Committee and the report of the Special AFT-A Committee. Unless clearly erroneous, the findings of fact made by the Special AFT-A Committee shall be accepted. The Chancellor (or President) shall give the Special AFT-A Committee’s findings and conclusions due consideration, and shall take into account the fact that the Special AFT-A Committee is a representative committee of the faculty and had the opportunity to see and hear the witnesses who testified personally before the Special AFT-A Committee. Copies of the Chancellor’s (or President’s) written response shall be sent to the parties, the Special Committee, to the President of the Faculty Senate, and to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate for inclusion in the case files in the ARRC archives and in the University Archives.

If the final action taken response rejects or changes the recommendations made by the Special AFT-A Committee, the ARRC shall inform the President of the Faculty Senate who shall provide each member of the Senate Executive Committee with a copy of the Final Report and of the response and shall put the matter on the agenda of the next Senate Executive Committee meeting for whatever action the Senate Executive Committee may deem appropriate.

9.2 ARRC Review of Implementation of Recommendations. The ARRC shall determine the extent to which recommendations of the Special AFT-A Committee have been implemented, and shall report its findings to the President of the Faculty Senate and in its annual report to the Senate.

9.3 ARRC Meeting with the Special AFT-A Committee. After the Final Report has been filed, the ARRC shall meet with the Special AFT-A Committee and any others considered appropriate by the Chair of the ARRC to thank the Special AFT-A Committee for its work, to collect all copies of documents, and to hear from the Special AFT-A Committee any suggestions about how the work of the ARRC and its special committees might be improved.

10 COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF THE FORMAL WRITTEN COMPLAINT

10.1 In the course of an investigation, one or more members of the Special AFT-A Committee may conclude that the Special AFT-A Committee has heard allegations or otherwise discovered information which, though outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint and thus not subject to full investigation and evaluation by the Special AFT-A Committee, nonetheless suggests that actions or decisions have been taken or may be taken in violation of law, University policy, or academic principle.

10.2 Such concerns shall not be addressed in the Final Report of the Special AFT-A Committee required by Section 8.0. However, the Special AFT-A Committee acting though its chair, or any member or members of the Special AFT-A Committee, may communicate those concerns in writing to the appropriate administrator for investigation and for whatever corrective action may be appropriate. In shaping the contents of and determining the recipients for such communications, those preparing the communications shall consult with the Chair of the ARRC.

10.3 A copy of any such communication to an administrator shall at the same time be sent to

10.3.1 the Chancellor; and
10.3.2 the Chair of the ARRC; and
10.3.3 any individual on whose actions, decisions, or practices the communication reflects; and
10.3.4 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of a committee or unit, the individual who heads that committee or unit;
10.3.5 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of the Chancellor, the President; and
10.3.6 if the communication includes concerns about alleged unlawful discrimination, including sexual or other prohibited harassment, the UNL Office of Institutional Equity, Access and Diversity Programs and Compliance or its successor if the office is renamed.

10.4 Such communications shall be deemed to be a part of the responsibility of Special AFT-A Committee members and, as such, to be subject to the same protections afforded all Special AFT-A Committee activities by Section 6.8 of the Regents Bylaws.

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Academic Rights and Responsibilities. All professional staff (including administrators and faculty members) of the University of Nebraska are entitled to enjoy and to exercise, without penalty, all the rights of an American citizen and the rights of academic freedom as specified in Regents Bylaw 4.2. It is essential to the University that all administrators and professional staff exercise these rights and respect their exercise by others, and uphold the attendant responsibilities outlined in Regents Bylaw 4.1.

1.2 Duty of University Officials to Investigate and to Take Action on Known or Alleged Discrimination. University Officials have a duty promptly to investigate and to take appropriate action on all known or alleged incidents of illegal discrimination. University officials in this context shall be defined as any individual employed by UNL with job authority or responsibility to

1.2.1 supervise, hire, assign or reassign responsibilities;
1.2.2 recommend or grant promotion or demotion; and/or
1.2.3 recommend or take any disciplinary or corrective actions.

1.3 Authority and Jurisdiction of Special AFT-B Committees.

1.3.1 Regents Bylaw 4.15.2(b) 4 authorizes a Faculty Academic Freedom and Tenure Committee to consider complaints filed by the President or by the Board of Regents against any member of the faculty seeking to terminate his or her Continuous Appointment, Appointment for a Specific Term prior to the termination date stated in the appointment, or Special Appointment prior to its termination date. The imposition of an administrative leave of absence through the end of an academic specific-term or special appointment period is a termination for cause and also requires a hearing by the Faculty Academic and Freedom Tenure committee as described in Regent Bylaws Section 4.13.4.2 4.7.4.1. The UNL Faculty Senate, with the approval of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, has vested that authority in Special AFT-B Committees established under the aegis of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee (ARRC). A description of the committees can be found in the Syllabus of Committees of the Faculty Senate, available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website.

1.3.2 The Code entitled “Responsibilities of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee and Procedures for Handling Matters of Academic Freedom and Tenure, Grievance and Professional Conduct” (“ARRC Procedures”) indicates how complaints are to be received by the ARRC, assessed for sufficiency and jurisdiction, and transmitted to a Special Committee.
This “Code of Procedures for Special AFT-B Committees” indicates how a complaint filed by the President or by the Board of Regents against any member of the faculty seeking to terminate his or her Continuous Appointment, Appointment for a Specific Term prior to the termination date stated in the appointment, or Special Appointment prior to its termination date, is to be handled after the ARRC has transmitted it to a Special AFT-B Committee.

1.3.3 The ARRC Procedures and the Code of Procedures for Special AFT-B Committees in their current form are available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website. For information and advice concerning these procedures, contact the Chair of the ARRC.

2 DEFINITIONS

As used in this Code of Procedures for Special AFT-B Committees, unless the context otherwise requires:

2.1 Chancellor shall mean the Chancellor of UNL.

2.2 Days shall mean days on which University offices are open for business.

2.3 Faculty Member shall mean any staff member of UNL holding the academic rank of lecturer or above or equivalent rank (Regents Bylaws 3.1.1.1 and 4.4).

2.4 In Writing and Written, when used to describe a communication, shall mean that the communication so described shall be either a paper document signed by the sender or an electronic communication that can be readily accessed by the sender and by the recipient.

2.5 Parties shall mean the complainant(s) and the respondent(s).

2.6 President shall mean the President of the University of Nebraska and shall include the authorized representative of the President. The President shall not extend such authorization to the Chancellor or staff members of any campus of the University.

2.7 Section, unless otherwise noted, refers to a section of this Code of Procedures for Special AFT-B Committees.

3 GENERAL RULES GOVERNING SPECIAL AFT-B COMMITTEES

3.1 Quorum. Each Special AFT-B Committee has six tenured members. If a member of the Special AFT-B Committee withdraws or is barred prior to commencement of the Hearing, the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall notify the Chair of the ARRC, and the Chair of the ARRC shall make every reasonable effort to appoint a suitable replacement as provided in Section 3.3.4 of the ARRC Procedures. In an emergency, and with the consent of the parties, a hearing may be conducted with one member absent, but a member absent from the hearing may not participate in subsequent deliberations. In no case may the Special AFT-B Committee proceed with the Hearing with fewer than five members present.

3.23.1 Voting. The Special AFT-B Committee may take action only on concurrence of four members. The Chair may vote.

3.33.2 Expiration of Term. A member of the Special AFT-B Committee whose term on the ARR Panel expires during a case shall continue to serve until the case is concluded.

3.43.3 Conflict of Interest. Conflict of Interest occurs when a member of the Special AFT-B Committee

3.4.3.1 is in the same department or equivalent unit as a party or witness; or 3.4.3.2 answers directly to a party or witness; or
3.4.3.3 has a direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; or
3.4.3.4 has, or reasonably appears to have, a personal interest in the case or its outcome; or
3.4.3.5 has provided counsel or assistance to a party relating to allegations contained in the complaint; or
3.4.3.6 has participated in the efforts of an organization to provide counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or
3.4.3.7 has any other relationship with a party that might prevent impartiality.

When a member of the Special AFT-B Committee discovers that the member has a conflict of interest, the member shall voluntarily withdraw from participation. When a member of the Special AFT-B Committee is alleged to have a conflict of interest and the member does not voluntarily withdraw, the ARRC shall review the allegation and, if a conflict of interest is found, shall bar that person from further participation.

3.53.4 Communications.

3.5.4.1 The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee receives communications for the Committee and speaks for it. Both complainant and respondent shall address communications concerning the case only to the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee. Special AFT-B Committee members should discourage contacts outside the regular process, and should direct those who make them to the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee.

3.5.4.2 The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall keep all parties informed of any substantive communications and contacts, including those that arise outside the normal process.

3.5.4.3 If the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee has difficulty communicating with a party or other necessary participant, the Chair of the Special AFT-B
Committee may consult with the Chair of the ARRC about ways to resolve the communication problem.

3.63.5 Dissemination of Personnel Information

Participation in Special AFT-B Committee proceedings makes participants privy to sensitive information and allegations involving the personal and professional lives of members of the University community. UNL Bylaw 2.9 2.10 describes limitations on the collection and dissemination of personnel information. Some information obtained as part of an AFT-B proceeding may be protected against broader dissemination by this Bylaw. Violators of this Bylaw could be subject to sanctions for professional misconduct.

3.73.6 Closed Hearings

AFT-B Hearings ordinarily are closed to the public. However, if the respondent prior to the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conference requests that the AFT-B Hearing be open to the public, the AFT-B Hearing shall be open to the public. If the Hearing is closed, only those persons identified in Section 6.1 may be present.

3.83.7 Academic Advisors

Each party may choose an Academic Advisor who may accompany and advise the party at the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing. A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party. At the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing, academic advisors may respond to questions from the Chair and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing. The role of Academic Advisor is open to any person who:

- 3.8.13.7.1 is a member of the UNL Academic Assembly (UNL Bylaw 3.3.1) or has emeritus faculty status at UNL;
- 3.8.23.7.2 is not in the same department or equivalent unit as a witness (other than the party being advised) before or a member of the Special AFT-B Committee;
- 3.8.33.7.3 has no other relationship with a member of the Special AFT-B Committee that might create, or reasonably might seem to create, a conflict of interest for that Special AFT-B Committee member;
- 3.8.43.7.4 has no direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; and
- 3.8.53.7.5 has no other relationship with a party, an organization, or a witness that might interfere with the investigative process.

3.93.8 Counsel and Advice for the Special AFT-B Committee

- 3.9.13.8.1 Because of potential conflicts of interest, the Special AFT-B Committee shall not seek or accept advice from anyone to whom a party is answerable or who may be in a position of giving advice or legal counsel to a party or to any person or body that may later act on the Report of the Special AFT-B Committee.

- 3.9.23.8.2 The Special AFT-B Committee may receive advice from the ARRC attorney selected pursuant to section 3.10.2 of the ARRC Procedures.
3.9.33.8.3 Nothing in this Section 3.9 shall prevent full participation by a member of the Special AFT-B Committee who is also an attorney.

3.9.43.8.4

3.103.9 Termination of Pending AFT-B Proceedings.

3.10.13.9.1 If at any time all complainants in writing ask the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee that the Formal Written Complaint be withdrawn, or all parties in writing notify the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee that they have reached a settlement of the case, the Special AFT-B Committee shall terminate the proceedings and shall not deliver the Final Report described in Section 8. However, in such circumstances the Special AFT-B Committee may, on its own initiative, make written recommendations authorized by Sections 8.2.2 and 8.2.3 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint; and concerning ways to correct any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint.

Termination of the proceedings under this section shall not preclude the Special AFT-B Committee, or members of the Special AFT-B Committee, from making the "Communications Regarding Matters Outside the Scope of the Formal Written Complaint"authorized by Section 10.

3.10.23.9.2 Resignation from the University by any party shall not necessarily prevent the Special AFT-B Committee from completing its deliberations and delivering the Final Report described in Section 8.

3.113.10 Timely Completion. Unless the ARRC, for good cause shown, authorizes a longer period of time, the Special AFT-B Committee shall complete its investigation and deliver its report within 150 days of receiving the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the ARRC.

3.123.11 Adherence to Procedures.

3.12.13.11.1 If a party has good reason to believe that the Special AFT-B Committee is out of compliance with these procedures, the matter should be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee. Procedural questions that the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee cannot resolve promptly and that are so important that failure to resolve them would undermine the credibility of the Special AFT-B Committee may be referred by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee or by a party to the ARRC for resolution. The ARRC shall resolve the issues after obtaining the views of the parties and of the Special AFT-B Committee.
The Chair of the ARRC shall inform the parties and the Special AFT-B Committee of the ARRC decision and direct them to follow the decision.

The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.5 Procedure If No Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If no respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the uncontested allegations of fact in the Formal Written Complaint shall be deemed to be true, and the Chair of the Special Committee shall so notify the parties and shall schedule a meeting of the Special AFT-B Committee to prepare the Final Report required by Section 8.

4.6 Procedure If a Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If any respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall

At least 5 calendar days before the Hearing, each respondent shall give written notice to all other parties and to the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee of the witnesses to be called and of documents to be offered in evidence at the Hearing. No witnesses or documents not so listed shall be heard or received at the Hearing, except in cases of surprise, or for the purpose of rebutting oral testimony, or for other justifiable cause found to exist by the Special AFT-B Committee.

6 HEARING

6.1 Persons Who May Attend a Closed Hearing. Only the following persons may attend a Closed Hearing:
  6.1.1 members of the Special AFT-B Committee;
  6.1.2 the parties;
  6.1.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
  6.1.4 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
  6.1.5 the ARRC attorney, if requested by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee;
  6.1.6 the ARRC Observer, if any; and
  6.1.7 the court reporter; and
  6.1.8 witnesses, but no witness shall be present except when that witness is testifying and responding to questions.

6.2 Order of Hearing. The usual sequence of a Hearing is as follows:
  6.2.1 introductions of all present (this will be repeated for each witness);
  6.2.2 introduction of the case by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee;
  6.2.3 complainant(s)’ presentation of the Formal Written Complaint and evidence in support of the Formal Written Complaint, including all documentation and all witnesses;
  6.2.4 respondent(s)’ presentation of the Formal Written Response and evidence in support of the Formal Written Response, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.5 presentation of documentation and testimony of witnesses requested by the Special AFT-B Committee; rebuttal in support of the Formal Written Complaint;

6.2.6 closing statement(s) by Complainant(s), followed by closing statement(s) by Respondent(s);

6.2.7 statement by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee thanking participants and explaining post-Hearing procedures.

This order may be varied if the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee determines that a clearer way of exploring the issues can be achieved, and if the Special AFT-B Committee and the parties agree.

6.3 Evidence and Witnesses.

6.3.1 Testimony shall be taken under oath. Each party shall have the right to cross-examine witnesses who testify and shall have the right to submit rebuttal testimony. Witnesses may testify and evidence may be received not only concerning relevant facts but also concerning relevant standards.

6.3.2 Members of the UNL community shall cooperate with the Special AFT-B Committee in providing testimony or documents; however, a person shall not be required to give testimony or to produce documents in regard to any confidential communication for which the law provides a privilege. Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify in regard to any communication for which the law does not provide a privilege obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special AFT-B Committee in its deliberations and in its preparation of the Final Report.

6.3.3 In the event any party to the proceedings desires the issuance of a subpoena, such subpoena shall be issued at the direction of the Corporation Secretary, and may be served in the manner provided for subpoenas in the Nebraska Court Rules of Discovery.

6.3.4 Witnesses not able to attend the hearing may present testimony taken by deposition in the manner provided for depositions in the Nebraska Courts.

6.3.5 The Special AFT-B Committee may admit and give probative effect to evidence which possesses probative value commonly accepted by reasonably prudent persons in the conduct of their affairs. It may exclude incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and unduly repetitious evidence; provided, that any party may file with the Committee at least 3 days before the hearing a written request that the rules of evidence followed by the District Courts in the State of Nebraska shall be applicable. If such a written request is filed, the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall notify the parties that the proceedings shall comply with the principles of law with respect to proceedings in the District Courts in Nebraska, and all counsel and parties shall be bound by such rules and standards of ethics and codes of trial conduct as are applied in the District Courts.

6.3.6 The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee may in appropriate circumstances temporarily adjourn the Hearing.

6.3.7 In cases where the grounds for termination of an appointment are based in whole or in part on questions of professional competence, the report of the meeting of tenured faculty of the respondent’s unit required by Regents Bylaw 4.14.(b)(2) shall be made a part of the record. Relevant testimony concerning professional competence from individual colleagues, students, and others also may be admitted.

6.4 Format of Presentations and Questions.

To preserve orderly and civil proceedings, the Hearing shall be conducted by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee as follows:

6.4.1 No person shall speak without prior recognition by the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee.

6.4.2 Each party and each witness may be questioned by members of the Special AFT-B Committee after the end of the presentation of that party or witness.

6.4.3 When the Special AFT-B Committee has finished questioning a party or witness, each party may question that party or witness; alternatively, the parties may submit questions to the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee which the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee may ask on their behalf.

6.4.4 The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee may bar questions under Section 6.3.5. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar a question may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special AFT-B Committee.

6.4.5 A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party, may respond to questions from the Chair, and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing.

6.5 Record of Hearing

The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall arrange for a court reporter to be present at the Hearing to produce a verbatim record of the Hearing. Bills for the court reporter’s services shall be processed through the office of the General Counsel of the University. The verbatim record shall be made available to the parties and to the Special AFT-B Committee prior to the deliberations and decision of the Special AFT-B Committee.
required by Section 7. The verbatim record also shall be made available for inspection by the public as set forth in Section 8.3.

7    DELIBERATIONS AND DECISION

7.1   All deliberations shall be conducted in executive session with no one present except members of the Special AFT-B Committee, and the ARRC attorney, if invited.

7.2   The complainant bears the burden of proving relevant facts by a preponderance of the relevant evidence. If a respondent fails to file a timely written response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

7.3   Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special AFT-B Committee in its deliberations and preparation of the Final Report.

7.4   The standards against which the charges are to be judged include applicable state and federal law; University bylaws, rules and regulations; established policies of the relevant administrative unit; appropriate professional and discipline based standards; applicable contracts; and academic principles and tradition. In the event of conflict between different University bylaws, rules or regulations, those of the more inclusive administrative unit shall prevail.

7.5   Pursuant to Regents Bylaw 4.15.2(j)-4(j), the Special AFT-B Committee shall have the power to consider a request filed by any person, board or committee that alleges that a faculty member should be subject to sanctions less severe than appointment termination, and power to recommend in any case sanctions less severe than appointment termination where less severe sanctions seem appropriate.

8    THE FINAL REPORT

When the Special AFT-B Committee has completed its deliberations it shall prepare a Final Report setting forth the Special AFT-B Committee’s disposition of each charge alleged in the Formal Written Complaint. Communications regarding matters outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint shall be addressed in accordance with the rules set forth in Section 10 below. The Final Report shall be limited to the following mandatory and optional elements.

8.1   Mandatory Elements of the Final Report. The Final Report shall contain, with respect to each charge in the Formal Written Complaint:
   8.1.1 specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based;
   8.1.2 identification of the standards against which the charge is being judged;
8.1.3 the Special AFT-B Committee’s conclusions concerning whether applicable standards have been violated; and 8.1.4 if the Special AFT-B Committee concludes that applicable standards have been violated, whether termination or some lesser sanction is warranted.

Before preparing the elements of the Final Report required by Sections 8.1.2 and 8.1.3, the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall send to each party a copy of a provisional draft of the specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based required by Section 8.1.1. Each party shall have five days after receipt of the provisional draft to submit written comments to the Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee suggesting specific changes to correct specific alleged inaccuracies in the provisional draft. No changes based upon such comments shall be made to the provisional draft without first providing other parties an opportunity to respond to the comments. If the Special AFT-B Committee decides not to make changes suggested in a written comment, that written comment and the Special AFT-B Committee’s reasons for that decision shall be appended to the Final Report.

8.2 Optional Elements of the Final Report. In addition, the Final Report may contain one or more of the following:

8.2.1 Recommendations. The Final Report may include recommendations:
8.2.1.1 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint;
8.2.1.2 concerning correction of any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint.

8.2.2 Concurring or Dissenting Opinions. The Final Report may include concurring or dissenting opinions, or both, concerning any mandatory or optional element of the report.

8.3 Delivery and Archiving of Verbatim Record, Case File, and Final Report.

8.3.1 The Chair of the Special AFT-B Committee shall
8.3.1.1 deliver a copy of the Final Report, a copy of the verbatim record of the Hearing, and a copy of all exhibits to the Board of Regents;
8.3.1.2 deliver a copy of the Final Report to each party, to the Chancellor, to the President, to the Chair of the ARRC, and to the President of the Faculty Senate; and
8.3.1.3 deliver a copy of the Final Report and of the case file required by Section 4.1.4 to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate.

8.3.2 The Coordinator of the Faculty Senate shall
8.3.2.1 obtain from the Corporate Secretary of the Board of Regents a copy of any committee report considered by the Board of Regents and a copy of the official record of the Board of Regents action;
8.3.2.2 deposit any committee report considered by the Board of Regents, the official record of the Board of Regents action, a second copy of the Final Report, and the case file in the Faculty Senate Office under specified conditions of access; and
8.3.2.3 deposit any committee report considered by the Board of Regents, the official record of the Board of Regents action, a second copy of the Final Report, and the case file in the University Archives under specified conditions of access.

9 FOLLOW UP TO THE REPORT

9.1 Chancellor's (or President's) Response to Recommendations. In response to recommendations made by the Special AFT-B Committee, the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or a witness, the President) shall within 30 days provide a written response to the Chair of the ARRC indicating:
   9.1.1 the recommendations that have been accepted and the action taken;
   9.1.2 the recommendations that have been rejected in part or completely; and
   9.1.3 for each recommendation rejected, reasons responsive to the Committee's rationale for proposing it.
Copies shall be sent to the parties, to the President of the Faculty Senate, and to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate for inclusion in the case files in the ARRC archives and in the University Archives. If the response rejects or changes the recommendations made by the Special AFT-B Committee, the ARRC shall inform the President of the Faculty Senate who shall provide each member of the Senate Executive Committee with a copy of the Final Report and of the response and shall put the matter on the agenda of the next Senate Executive Committee meeting for whatever action the Senate Executive Committee may deem appropriate.

9.2 ARRC Review of Implementation of Recommendations. The ARRC shall determine the extent to which recommendations of the Special AFT-B Committee have been implemented, and shall report its findings to the President of the Faculty Senate and in its annual report to the Senate.

9.3 ARRC Meeting with the Special AFT-B Committee. After the Final Report has been filed, the ARRC shall meet with the Special AFT-B Committee and any others considered appropriate by the Chair of the ARRC to thank the Special AFT-B Committee for its work, to collect all copies of documents, and to hear from the Special AFT-B Committee any suggestions about how the work of the ARRC and its special committees might be improved.

10 COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF THE FORMAL WRITTEN COMPLAINT
10.1 In the course of an investigation, one or more members of the Special AFT-B Committee may conclude that the Special AFT-B Committee has heard allegations or otherwise discovered information which, though outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint and thus not subject to full investigation and evaluation by the Special AFT-B Committee, nonetheless suggests that actions or decisions have been taken or may be taken in violation of law, University policy, or academic principle.

10.2 Such concerns shall not be addressed in the Final Report of the Special AFT-B Committee required by Section 8.0. However, the Special AFT-B Committee acting though its chair, or any member or members of the Special AFT-B Committee, may communicate those concerns in writing to the appropriate administrator for investigation and for whatever corrective action may be appropriate. In shaping the contents of and determining the recipients for such communications, those preparing the communications shall consult with the Chair of the ARRC.

10.3 A copy of any such communication to an administrator shall at the same time be sent to

10.3.1 the Chancellor; and
10.3.2 the Chair of the ARRC; and
10.3.3 any individual on whose actions, decisions, or practices the communication reflects; and
10.3.4 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of a committee or unit, the individual who heads that committee or unit;
10.3.5 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of the Chancellor, the President; and
10.3.6 if the communication includes concerns about alleged unlawful discrimination, including sexual or other prohibited harassment, the UNL Office of Institutional Equity - Access and Diversity Programs and Compliance or its successor if the office is renamed.

10.4 Such communications shall be deemed to be a part of the responsibility of Special AFT-B Committee members and, as such, to be subject to the same protections afforded all Special AFT-B Committee activities by Section 6.8 of the Regents Bylaws.

All professional staff (including administrators and faculty members) of the University of Nebraska are entitled to enjoy and to exercise, without penalty, all the rights of an American citizen and the rights of academic freedom as specified in Regents Bylaw 4.2. It is essential to the University that all administrators and professional staff exercise these rights and respect their exercise by others, and uphold the attendant responsibilities outlined in Regents Bylaw 4.1.

1.2 Duty of University Officials to Investigate and to Take Action on Known or Alleged Discrimination. University Officials have a duty promptly to investigate and to take appropriate action on all known or alleged incidents of illegal discrimination. University officials in this context shall be defined as any individual employed by UNL with job authority or responsibility to
   1.2.1 supervise, hire, assign or reassign responsibilities;
   1.2.2 recommend or grant promotion or demotion; and/or
   1.2.3 recommend or take any disciplinary or corrective actions.

1.3 Authority and Jurisdiction of Special Grievance Committees.

   1.3.1 Regents Bylaws 4.8 and 4.14 4.13 authorize a Faculty Grievance Committee to consider complaints by any faculty member alleging any grievance. The UNL Faculty Senate, with the approval of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, has vested that authority in Special Grievance Committees established under the aegis of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee (ARRC). A description of the committees can be found in the Syllabus of Committees of the Faculty Senate, available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website.

   1.3.2 The Code entitled “Responsibilities of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee and Procedures for Handling Matters of Academic Freedom and Tenure, Grievance and Professional Conduct”("ARRC Procedures") indicates how complaints are to be received by the ARRC, assessed for sufficiency and jurisdiction, and transmitted to a Special Committee.

   1.3.3 This “Code of Procedures for Special Grievance Committees"indicates how a complaint is to be handled after the ARRC has transmitted it to a Special Grievance Committee.
1.3.4 The ARRC Procedures and the Code of Procedures for Special Grievance Committees in their current form are available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website. Any faculty member contemplating filing a complaint with the ARRC should first consult both documents. For information and advice concerning these procedures, contact the Chair of the ARRC.

2 DEFINITIONS

As used in this Code of Procedures for Special Grievance Committees, unless the context otherwise requires:

2.1 Chancellor shall mean the Chancellor of UNL.

2.2 Days shall mean days on which University offices are open for business.

2.3 Faculty Member shall mean any staff member of UNL holding the academic rank of lecturer or above or equivalent rank (Regents Bylaws 3.1.1.1 and 4.4).

2.4 In Writing and Written, when used to describe a communication, shall mean that the communication so described shall be either a paper document signed by the sender or an electronic communication that can be readily accessed by the sender and by the recipient.

2.5 Parties shall mean the complainant(s) and the respondent(s).

2.6 President shall mean the President of the University of Nebraska and shall include the authorized representative of the President. The President shall not extend such authorization to the Chancellor or staff members of any campus of the University.

2.7 Section, unless otherwise noted, refers to a section of this Code of Procedures for Grievances.

3 GENERAL RULES GOVERNING SPECIAL GRIEVANCE COMMITTEES

3.1 Quorum. Each Special Grievance Committee has six members. If a member of the Special Grievance Committee withdraws or is barred prior to commencement of the Investigative Hearing, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall notify the Chair of the ARRC, and the Chair of the ARRC shall make every reasonable effort to appoint a suitable replacement as provided in Section 3.3.4 of the ARRC Procedures. In an emergency, and with the consent of the parties, a hearing may be conducted with one member absent, but a member absent from the hearing may not participate in subsequent deliberations. In no case may the Special Grievance Committee proceed with the Investigative Hearing with fewer than five members present.
3.2 Voting. The Special Grievance Committee may take action only on concurrence of four members. The Chair may vote.

3.3 Expiration of Term. A member of the Special Grievance Committee whose term on the ARR Panel expires during a case shall continue to serve until the case is concluded.

3.4 Conflict of Interest. Conflict of Interest occurs when a member of the Special Grievance Committee

3.4.1 is in the same department or equivalent unit as a party or witness; or 3.4.2 answers directly to a party or witness; or
3.4.3 has a direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; or
3.4.4 has, or reasonably appears to have, a personal interest in the case or its outcome; or
3.4.5 has provided counsel or assistance to a party relating to the grievance; or
3.4.6 has participated in the efforts of an organization to provide counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or
3.4.7 has any other relationship with a party that might prevent impartiality.

When a member of the Special Grievance Committee discovers that the member has a conflict of interest, the member shall voluntarily withdraw from participation. When a member of the Special Grievance Committee is alleged to have a conflict of interest and the member does not voluntarily withdraw, the ARRC shall review the allegation and, if a conflict of interest is found, shall bar that person from further participation.

3.5 Communications.

3.5.1 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee receives communications for the Committee and speaks for it. Both complainant and respondent shall address communications concerning the case only to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee. Special Grievance Committee members should discourage contacts outside the regular process, and should direct those who make them to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee.

3.5.2 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall keep all parties informed of any substantive communications and contacts, including those that arise outside the normal process.

3.5.3 If the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee has difficulty communicating with a party or other necessary participant, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may consult with the Chair of the ARRC about ways to resolve the communication problem.
3.6 Dissemination of Personnel Information. Participation in Special Grievance Committee proceedings makes participants privy to sensitive information and allegations involving the personal and professional lives of members of the University community. UNL Bylaw 2.109 describes limitations on the collection and dissemination of personnel information. Some information obtained as part of a Grievance proceeding may be protected against broader dissemination by this Bylaw. Violators of this Bylaw could be subject to sanctions for professional misconduct.

3.7 Closed Hearings. Grievance proceedings, including the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Investigative Hearing, are considered to be investigative in nature. They are not open to the public, nor to witnesses except while they are presenting evidence and responding to questions.

3.8 Academic Advisors. Each party may choose an Academic Advisor who may accompany and advise the party at the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Investigative Hearing. A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party. At the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing, academic advisors may respond to questions from the Chair and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing. The role of Academic Advisor is open to any person who:

- 3.8.1 is a member of the UNL Academic Assembly (UNL Bylaw 3.3.1) or has emeritus faculty status at UNL;
- 3.8.2 is not in the same department or equivalent unit as a witness (other than the party being advised) before or a member of the Special Grievance Committee;
- 3.8.3 has no other relationship with a member of the Special Grievance Committee that might create, or reasonably might seem to create, a conflict of interest for that Special Grievance Committee member;
- 3.8.4 has no direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; and
- 3.8.5 has no other relationship with a party, an organization, or a witness that might interfere with the investigative process.

3.9 Counsel and Advice for the Special Grievance Committee.

- 3.9.1 Because of potential conflicts of interest, the Special Grievance Committee shall not seek or accept advice from anyone to whom a party is answerable or who may be in a position of giving advice or legal counsel to a party or to any person or body that may later act on the Report of the Special Grievance Committee.

- 3.9.2 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may receive advice from the ARRC attorney selected pursuant to section 3.10.2 of the ARRC Procedures, but may not have an attorney present at the Investigative Hearing.

- 3.9.3 Nothing in this Section 3.9 shall prevent full participation by a member of the Special Grievance Committee who is also an attorney.
3.10 Termination of Pending Grievance Proceedings.

3.10.1 If at any time all complainants in writing ask the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee that the Formal Written Complaint be withdrawn, or all parties in writing notify the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee that they have reached a settlement of the case, the Special Grievance Committee shall terminate the proceedings and shall not deliver the Final Report described in Section 8. However, in such circumstances the Special Grievance Committee may, on its own initiative, make written recommendations authorized by Sections 8.2.2 and 8.2.3

3.10.1.1 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance; and

3.10.1.2 concerning ways to correct any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance.

Termination of the proceedings under this section shall not preclude the Special Grievance Committee, or members of the Special Grievance Committee, from making the “Communications Regarding Matters Outside the Scope of the Formal Written Complaint” authorized by Section 10.

3.10.2 Resignation from the University by any party shall not necessarily prevent the Special Grievance Committee from completing its deliberations and delivering the Final Report described in Section 8.

3.11 Timely Completion. Unless the ARRC, for good cause shown, authorizes a longer period of time, the Special Grievance Committee shall complete its investigation and deliver its report within 150 days of receiving the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the ARRC.

3.12 Adherence to Procedures.

3.12.1 If a party has good reason to believe that the Special Grievance Committee is out of compliance with these procedures, the matter should be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee. Procedural questions that the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee cannot resolve promptly and that are so important that failure to resolve them would undermine the credibility of the Special Grievance Committee may be referred by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee or by a party to the ARRC for resolution. The ARRC shall resolve the issues after obtaining the views of the parties and of the Special Grievance Committee. The Chair of the ARRC shall inform the parties and the Special Grievance Committee of the ARRC decision and direct them to follow the decision.
3.12.2 If a party has good reason to believe that the ARRC is out of compliance with these procedures or the ARRC Procedures, the party may invoke Section 6.2 of the ARRC Procedures.

4 GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHAIR OF THE SPECIAL GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE, NOTICE, RESPONSE, ALLEGATIONS OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST, AND CHALLENGES TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF PROPOSED ACADEMIC ADVISORS

4.1 General Responsibilities of the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee. The responsibilities of the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee include:

4.1.1 convening and presiding over meetings of the Special Grievance Committee;
4.1.2 receiving communications for the Special Grievance Committee and speaking for it;
4.1.3 ensuring that all substantive communications regarding the grievance are made available to all parties;
4.1.4 maintaining a complete case file, including a record of all substantive communications, documents, committee actions, and committee reports related to the grievance;
4.1.5 providing a copy of the Formal Written Complaint, the Formal Written Response, the current ARRC Procedures, and the current Code of Procedures for Special Grievance Committees to each member of the Special Grievance Committee, and to the ARRC Observer, if any;
4.1.6 arranging for accommodations for the Pre-Hearing Conference and for the Investigative Hearing, taking into account such factors as the time needed, the space needs of the Special Committee and parties and witnesses, the need for a separate accommodation for witnesses while waiting to testify, and access to other facilities that may be needed;
4.1.7 moving the proceedings toward a conclusion as expeditiously as reasonably possible while respecting the rights and needs of all participants;
4.1.8 notifying the Chair of the ARRC of any withdrawal from the Special Grievance Committee to permit timely appointment of a substitute as provided in Section 3.3.5 of the ARRC Procedures;
4.1.9 reminding participants of limitations on the dissemination of personnel information set forth in Section 3.6;
4.1.10 arranging for timely consultation with the Chair of ARRC should procedural disputes arise; and
4.1.11 keeping accurate records of expenditures for activities of the Special Committee and arranging for reimbursements from the Chancellor’s office.

4.2 Written Notice to the Parties. Within 7 days after the Special Grievance Committee has been convened, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall send to each party the following:

4.2.1 a copy of the Formal Written Complaint;
4.2.2 a copy of the current Procedures of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee;
4.2.3 a copy of the current Code of Procedures for Grievances;
4.2.4 a list of the members of the Special Grievance Committee;
4.2.5 the name of the ARRC Observer or, if no ARRC Observer has been appointed, notice to the parties that they are entitled to request that an ARRC Observer be appointed; and
4.2.6 notice of the deadlines established in Section 4.3 and 4.4.

4.3 Formal Written Responses from Respondents: Mandatory Elements and Deadline for Filing. Within 15 days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee, each respondent shall file a Formal Written Response with the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee.

4.3.1 Mandatory Elements. Each Formal Written Response shall contain a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the facts alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest and a clear and concise statement indicating any ameliorating or other additional facts the respondent wishes to allege. Under Sections 4.5 and 7.2, if a respondent fails to file a timely Formal Written Response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

4.3.2 Optional Elements. In addition, the Formal Written Response may include the following:

4.3.2.1 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the standards identified in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.2 a clear and concise statement of the standards, if any, the respondent believes to be appropriate for evaluating the complaint;
4.3.2.3 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the violations alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.4 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the proposed remedies, sanctions, or other personal relief or prospective institutional change the respondent believes would be inappropriate.

The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.4 Deadline for Requests from Any Party Requesting an Academic Advisor, an ARRC Observer, and for Allegations of Conflict of Interest. Within 15 days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee,
4.4.1 any party wishing to be advised by an academic advisor shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee identifying the proposed academic advisor;
4.4.2 any party wishing to request that the ARRC appoint an ARRC Observer shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee;
4.4.3 any party wishing to allege that a member of the Special Grievance Committee has a conflict of interest shall file a written statement with the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee setting forth the basis for the challenge.

The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.5 Procedure If No Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If no respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the uncontested allegations of fact in the Formal Written Complaint shall be deemed to be true, and the Chair of the Special Committee shall so notify the parties and shall schedule a meeting of the Special Grievance Committee to prepare the Final Report required by Section 8.

4.6 Procedure If a Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If any respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall

4.6.1 determine whether proposed academic advisors are eligible under Section 3.8, and if any party=s proposed academic advisor is not eligible, invite that party to propose an eligible academic advisor;
4.6.2 forward to each complainant and to each respondent a copy of each Formal Written Response and the names of proposed academic advisors; and
4.6.3 forward to the Chair of the ARRC any request that an ARRC Observer be appointed.

4.7 Party Challenges to Proposed Academic Advisors or ARRC Observer.

4.7.1 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed academic advisor by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed academic advisor. If a challenged proposed academic advisor does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall determine whether the proposed academic advisor is eligible. If the proposed academic advisor is not eligible, the party may propose another academic advisor. If the new proposed academic advisor appears to be eligible, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall notify parties of the new proposed academic advisor and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed academic advisor.
4.7.2 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed ARRC Observer by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed ARRC Observer. The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall forward the challenge to the Chair of the ARRC. If a challenged ARRC Observer does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the ARRC shall determine whether the proposed ARRC Observer is eligible. If the proposed ARRC Observer is not eligible, the ARRC may in writing propose another ARRC Observer to the Chair of the Special Committee. The Chair of the Special Committee shall in writing notify parties of the new proposed ARRC Observer and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed ARRC Observer.

5 PRE-HEARING CONFERENCE

5.1 Purpose. As soon as possible after giving notice of a Formal Written Response contesting any allegations of the Formal Written Complaint and resolving any issues involving conflicts of interest and eligibility of proposed academic advisors and ARRC Observers, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall arrange a Pre-Hearing Conference with all parties in attendance

5.1.1 to clarify the issues involved;
5.1.2 to identify uncontroverted facts;
5.1.3 to explore the possibility of a voluntary settlement of the case;
5.1.4 to explain procedures applicable to the Investigative Hearing; and
5.1.5 to establish procedures for setting the date, time, and place of the Investigative Hearing.

At the Pre-Hearing Conference each party shall provide every other party and the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee with a copy of any documentation to be introduced by the party at the Investigative Hearing and with a list of any witnesses to be called by the party at the Investigative Hearing. Also, the Chair of the Special Committee will provide in writing to all parties and members of the Special Committee a list of the uncontroverted facts established in the Pre-Hearing Conference as well as a list of issues to be resolved during the Investigative Hearing by the Special Committee.

5.2 Persons Who May Attend and Participate in the Pre-Hearing Conference:
5.2.1 the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee;
5.2.2 the parties;
5.2.3 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
5.2.4 the ARRC attorney, if requested by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee; and
5.2.5 the ARRC Observer, if any.

5.3 Meeting of the Special Grievance Committee after the Pre-Hearing Conference and Before the Investigative Hearing.
5.3.1 As soon as possible after the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conference, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall provide each member of the Special Grievance Committee with the following:
   5.3.1.1 a copy of the Formal Written Complaint and a copy of each Formal Written Response;
   5.3.1.2 a copy of each party=s written list of witnesses to be called and documentation to be introduced at the Investigative Hearing;
   5.3.1.3 a written summary of matters decided at the Pre-Hearing Conference.

5.3.2 After a reasonable time to permit members of the Special Grievance Committee to review these materials, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall convene a meeting of the Special Grievance Committee, with only members of the Special Grievance Committee present, to determine whether the Special Grievance Committee wishes to call any additional witnesses or request any additional documentation. If the Special Grievance Committee decides to call any additional witnesses or request any additional documentation, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall notify the parties in writing and shall make arrangements for the additional witnesses and documentation to be presented at the Investigative Hearing.

5.4 Notice of Investigative Hearing. As soon as possible after the conclusion of the meeting of the Special Grievance Committee in accordance with Section 5.3, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall in writing give notice of the date, time, and place of the Investigative Hearing to
   5.4.1 each party;
   5.4.2 each member of the Special Grievance Committee;
   5.4.3 each academic advisor, if any;
   5.4.4 the ARRC Observer, if any;
   5.4.5 the Chair of the ARRC.

6 INVESTIGATIVE HEARING

6.1 Persons Who May Attend the Investigative Hearing:
   6.1.1 members of the Special Grievance Committee;
   6.1.2 the parties;
   6.1.3 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
   6.1.4 the ARRC Observer, if any;
   6.1.5 witnesses, but no witness shall be present except when that witness is testifying and responding to questions.

6.2 Order of Investigative Hearing. The usual sequence of an Investigative Hearing is as follows:
   6.2.1 introductions of all present (this will be repeated for each witness);
   6.2.2 introduction of the case by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee;
6.2.3 complainant(s)' presentation of the Formal Written Complaint and evidence in support of the Formal Written Complaint, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.4 respondent(s)' presentation of the Formal Written Response and evidence in support of the Formal Written Response, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.5 presentation of documentation and testimony of witnesses requested by the Special Grievance Committee;
6.2.6 rebuttal in support of the Formal Written Complaint;
6.2.7 closing statement(s) by Complainant(s), followed by closing statement(s) by Respondent(s);
6.2.8 statement by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee thanking participants and explaining post-Investigative-Hearing procedures.

This order may be varied if the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee determines that a clearer way of exploring the issues can be achieved, and if the Special Grievance Committee and the parties agree.

6.3 Evidence and Witnesses.

6.3.1 The Special Grievance Committee may direct the parties, faculty members, and other officers of the University to produce specific relevant documents (including personnel and student records) for introduction at the Investigative Hearing.

6.3.2 Members of the UNL community shall cooperate with the Special Grievance Committee in providing testimony or documents; however, a person shall not be required to give testimony or to produce documents in regard to any confidential communication for which the law provides a privilege. Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify in regard to any communication for which the law does not provide a privilege obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special Grievance Committee in its deliberations and in its preparation of the Final Report.

6.3.3 Witnesses may testify and evidence may be received not only concerning relevant facts but also concerning relevant standards. The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may bar the introduction of documents, evidence, questions, and testimony reasonably deemed irrelevant, immaterial, not incompetent, or unduly repetitious. The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee also may bar the introduction of documents, evidence, and testimony if introduction would unfairly surprise another party and if the documents, evidence, or testimony could, with reasonable diligence, have been discovered or produced before the Pre-Hearing Conference. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar the introduction of evidence may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special Grievance Committee.

6.3.4 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may in appropriate circumstances temporarily adjourn the Investigative Hearing.

6.4 Format of Presentations and Questions. To preserve orderly and civil proceedings, the Investigative Hearing shall be conducted by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee as follows:

6.4.1 No person shall speak without prior recognition by the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee.

6.4.2 Each party and each witness may be questioned by members of the Special Grievance Committee after the end of the presentation of that party or witness.

6.4.3 When the Special Grievance Committee has finished questioning a party or witness, each party may question that party or witness; alternatively, the parties may submit questions to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee which the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may ask on their behalf.

6.4.4 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee may bar questions under Section 6.3.3. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar a question may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special Grievance Committee.

6.4.5 A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party, may respond to questions from the Chair, and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Investigative Hearing.

7 DELIBERATIONS AND DECISION

7.1 All deliberations shall be conducted in executive session with no one present except members of the Special Grievance Committee, and the ARRC attorney, if invited.

7.2 The complainant bears the burden of proving relevant facts by a preponderance of the relevant evidence. If a respondent fails to file a timely written response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

7.3 Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special Grievance Committee in its deliberations and preparation of the Final Report.
7.4 The standards against which the charges are to be judged include applicable state and federal law; University bylaws, rules and regulations; established policies of the relevant administrative unit; appropriate professional and discipline based standards; applicable contracts; and academic principles and tradition. In the event of conflict between different University bylaws, rules or regulations, those of the more inclusive administrative unit shall prevail.

8 THE FINAL REPORT

When the Special Grievance Committee has completed its deliberations it shall prepare a Final Report setting forth the Special Grievance Committee’s disposition of each grievance alleged in the Formal Written Complaint. Communications regarding matters outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint shall be addressed in accordance with the rules set forth in Section 10 below. The Final Report shall be limited to the following mandatory and optional elements.

8.1 Mandatory Elements of the Final Report. The Final Report shall contain, with respect to each grievance alleged in the Formal Written Complaint:

8.1.1 specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based;
8.1.2 identification of the standards against which the grievance is being judged; and 8.1.3 the Special Grievance Committee’s conclusions concerning whether applicable standards have been violated.

Before preparing the elements of the Final Report required by Sections 8.1.2 and 8.1.3, the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall send to each party a copy of a provisional draft of the specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based required by Section 8.1.1. Each party shall have five days after receipt of the provisional draft to submit written comments to the Chair of the Special Grievance Committee suggesting specific changes to correct specific alleged inaccuracies in the provisional draft. No changes based upon such comments shall be made to the provisional draft without first providing other parties an opportunity to respond to the comments. If the Special Grievance Committee decides not to make changes suggested in a written comment, that written comment and the Special Grievance Committee’s reasons for that decision shall be appended to the Final Report.

8.2 Optional Elements of the Final Report. In addition, the Final Report may contain one or more of the following:

8.2.1 Order of Reconsideration Under Regents Bylaw 4.14.2 4.13.2. If the grievance alleged that inadequate consideration was given to relevant matters by the person or body that took the action or made the decision that led to the grievance, and if the Special Grievance Committee has determined that inadequate consideration of the relevant matters occurred, the Final Report of the Special Grievance Committee shall state the facts found and the respects in which the consideration was inadequate. The Special Grievance Committee shall not substitute its judgment on the merits for that of the person, group, or groups that previously considered the decision. The Special Grievance Committee may order the matter reconsidered by the appropriate person, group, or groups, or recommend that other rectifying action be taken. Any such order of reconsideration shall indicate the person or unit that is to begin the reconsideration ordered by the Special Grievance Committee,¹ shall indicate reasonable time limits within which the reconsideration shall occur, and shall include the requirement that the file used for the reconsideration include the full Final Report of the Special Grievance Committee and any relevant further evidence submitted for the reconsideration.²

8.2.2 Recommendations. The Final Report may include recommendations:

8.2.2.1 concerning ways to redress any grievance the Special Grievance Committee has determined to be justified;
8.2.2.2 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance;
8.2.2.3 concerning correction of any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the grievance.

8.2.3 Dissenting Opinions. The Final Report may include concurring or dissenting opinions, or both, concerning any mandatory or optional element of the report.

8.3 Delivery and Archiving of Final Report.

8.3.1 The Chair of the Special Grievance Committee shall

8.3.1.1 deliver a copy of the Final Report to each party, to the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or witness, to the President), to the Chair of the ARRC, and to the President of the Faculty Senate; and
8.3.1.2 deliver a copy of the Final Report and of the case file required by Section 4.1.4 to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate.

¹ Under Regents Bylaw 4.8(a), the complainant may exercise the right to designate that reconsideration begin at an earlier stage than that designated by the Special Grievance Committee, and may exercise the right to offer evidence for the reconsideration; a complainant who exercises these rights shall be deemed to have fully exercised the complainant’s rights to reconsideration under that Bylaw.

² If a person or unit ordered to reconsider a decision does not thereafter correct procedural errors in the original consideration or refuses to consider all relevant information, the complainant may request that the ARRC reconvene the Special Grievance Committee as a Special Professional Conduct Committee.
8.3.2 The Coordinator of the Faculty Senate shall
8.3.2.1 place one copy of the Final Report and of the case file in ARRC archives in the Faculty Senate Office under specified conditions of access; and 8.3.2.2 deposit a second copy of the Final Report and of the case file in the University Archives under specified conditions of access.

9 FOLLOW UP TO THE REPORT

9.1 Chancellor's (or President's) Response to Recommendations. In response to recommendations made by the Special Grievance Committee, the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or witness, the President) shall within 30 days provide a written response to the Chair of the ARRC indicating:
9.1.1 the recommendations that have been accepted and the action taken;
9.1.2 the recommendations that have been rejected in part or completely; and
9.1.3 for each recommendation rejected, reasons responsive to the Committee's rationale for proposing it.

The Chancellor (or President) shall decide upon Special Grievance Committee recommendations on the basis of the evidence submitted to the Special Grievance Committee and the report of the Special Grievance Committee. Unless clearly erroneous, the findings of fact made by the Special Grievance Committee shall be accepted. The Chancellor (or President) shall give the Special Grievance Committee's findings and conclusions due consideration, and shall take into account the fact that the Special Grievance Committee is a representative committee of the faculty and had the opportunity to see and hear the witnesses who testified personally before the Special Grievance Committee.

Copies of the Chancellor's (or President's) written response shall be sent to the parties, to the Special Grievance Committee, to the President of the Faculty Senate, and to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate for inclusion in the case files in the ARRC archives and in the University Archives. If the response rejects or changes the recommendations made by the Special Grievance Committee, the ARRC shall inform the President of the Faculty Senate who shall provide each member of the Senate Executive Committee with a copy of the Final Report and of the response and shall put the matter on the agenda of the next Senate Executive Committee meeting for whatever action the Senate Executive Committee may deem appropriate.

9.2 ARRC Review of Implementation of Recommendations. The ARRC shall determine the extent to which recommendations of the Special Grievance Committee have been implemented, and shall report its findings to the President of the Faculty Senate and in its annual report to the Senate.

9.3 ARRC Meeting with the Special Grievance Committee. After the Final Report has been filed, the ARRC shall meet with the Special Grievance Committee and any others considered appropriate by the Chair of the ARRC to thank the Special Grievance Committee for their service.
Committee for its work, to collect all copies of documents, and to hear from the Special Grievance Committee any suggestions about how the work of the ARRC and its special committees might be improved.

10  COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF THE FORMAL WRITTEN COMPLAINT

10.1 In the course of an investigation, one or more members of the Special Grievance Committee may conclude that the Special Grievance Committee has heard allegations or otherwise discovered information which, though outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint and thus not subject to full investigation and evaluation by the Special Grievance Committee, nonetheless suggests that actions or decisions have been taken or may be taken in violation of law, University policy, or academic principle.

10.2 Such concerns shall not be addressed in the Final Report of the Special Grievance Committee required by Section 8.0. However, the Special Grievance Committee acting through its chair, or any member or members of the Special Grievance Committee, may communicate those concerns in writing to the appropriate administrator for investigation and for whatever corrective action may be appropriate. In shaping the contents of and determining the recipients for such communications, those preparing the communications shall consult with the Chair of the ARRC.

10.3 A copy of any such communication to an administrator shall at the same time be sent to:

- 10.3.1 the Chancellor; and
- 10.3.2 the Chair of the ARRC; and
- 10.3.3 any individual on whose actions, decisions, or practices the communication reflects; and
- 10.3.4 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of a committee or unit, the individual who heads that committee or unit;
- 10.3.5 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of the Chancellor, the President; and
- 10.3.6 if the communication includes concerns about alleged unlawful discrimination, including sexual or other prohibited harassment, the UNL Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance Access and Diversity Programs, or its successor if the office is renamed.

10.4 Such communications shall be deemed to be a part of the responsibility of Special Grievance Committee members and, as such, to be subject to the same protections afforded all Special Grievance Committee activities by Section 6.8 of the Regents Bylaws.

10 COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF
THE FORMAL WRITTEN COMPLAINT .................................................14
1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Academic Rights and Responsibilities. All professional staff (including administrators and faculty members) of the University of Nebraska are entitled to enjoy and to exercise, without penalty, all the rights of an American citizen and the rights of academic freedom as specified in Regents Bylaw 4.2. It is essential to the University that all administrators and professional staff exercise these rights and respect their exercise by others, and uphold the attendant responsibilities outlined in Regents Bylaw 4.1.

1.2 Duty of University Officials to Investigate and to Take Action on Known or Alleged Discrimination. University Officials have a duty promptly to investigate and to take appropriate action on all known or alleged incidents of illegal discrimination. University officials in this context shall be defined as any individual employed by UNL with job authority or responsibility to

1.2.1 supervise, hire, assign or reassign responsibilities;

1.2.2 recommend or grant promotion or demotion; and/or

1.2.3 recommend or take any disciplinary or corrective actions.

1.3 Authority and Jurisdiction of Special PC Committees.

1.3.1 Regents Bylaws 4.16 authorizes a Faculty Professional Conduct Committee to consider complaints by any person charging a member of the professional staff with professional misconduct. The UNL Faculty Senate, with the approval of the University of Nebraska Board of Regents, has vested that authority in Special Professional Conduct Committees established under the aegis of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee (ARRC). A description of the committees can be found in the Syllabus of Committees of the Faculty Senate, available from the Academic Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website.

1.3.2 The Code entitled “Responsibilities of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee and Procedures for Handling Matters of Academic Freedom and Tenure, Grievance and Professional Conduct” (“ARRC Procedures”) indicates how complaints are to be received by the ARRC, assessed for sufficiency and jurisdiction, and transmitted to a Special Committee.

1.3.3 This “Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees” indicates how a complaint alleging professional misconduct other than Federal Misconduct in Science is to be handled after the ARRC has transmitted it to a Special PC Committee. Complaints alleging violation of Federal Misconduct in Science Regulations should be directed to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research and Economic Development for resolution under the “University of Nebraska-Lincoln Policies and Procedures for Responding to Allegations of Research Misconduct.”

1.3.4 The ARRC Procedures and the Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees in their current form are available from the Faculty Senate Office and on the Faculty Senate website. Any faculty member contemplating filing a complaint with the ARRC should first consult both documents. For information and advice concerning these procedures, contact the Chair of the ARRC.

Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees                                As Approved by Board of Regents September 17, 2005
2 DEFINITIONS

As used in this Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees, unless the context otherwise requires:

2.1 Chancellor shall mean the Chancellor of UNL.

2.2 Days shall mean days on which University offices are open for business.

2.3 Faculty Member shall mean any staff member of UNL holding the academic rank of lecturer or above or equivalent rank (Regents Bylaws 3.1.1.1 and 4.4).

2.4 Federal Misconduct in Science Regulations shall mean regulations covering misconduct in federally sponsored scientific research, particularly, but not exclusively, that funded by the Public Health Service. Consult the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Research to determine projects covered by these regulations.

2.5 In Writing and Written, when used to describe a communication, shall mean that the communication so described shall be either a paper document signed by the sender or an electronic communication that can be readily accessed by the sender and by the recipient.

2.6 Parties shall mean the complainant(s) and the respondent(s).

2.7 President shall mean the President of the University of Nebraska and shall include the authorized representative of the President. The President shall not extend such authorization to the Chancellor or staff members of any campus of the University.

2.8 Section, unless otherwise noted, refers to a section of this Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees.

2.9 Vice Chancellor for Research shall include the authorized representative of the Vice Chancellor. The Vice Chancellor shall not extend such authorization to Deans with collegiate or divisional responsibility or to a staff member of any such college or division.
3 GENERAL RULES GOVERNING SPECIAL PC COMMITTEES

3.1 Quorum.

3.1.1 Each Special PC Committee has six faculty members.

3.1.2 If a member of the Special PC Committee withdraws or is barred prior to commencement of the Investigative Hearing, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall notify the Chair of the ARRC, and the Chair of the ARRC shall make every reasonable effort to appoint a suitable replacement as provided in Section 3.3.4 of the ARRC Procedures. In an emergency, and with the consent of the parties, a hearing may be conducted with one faculty member absent, but a faculty member absent from the hearing may not participate in subsequent deliberations. In no case may the Special PC Committee proceed with the Investigative Hearing with fewer than five faculty members present.

3.2 Voting. The Special PC Committee may take action only on concurrence of four faculty members. The Chair may vote.

3.3 Expiration of Term. A member of the Special PC Committee whose term on the ARR Panel expires during a case shall continue to serve until the case is concluded.

3.4 Conflict of Interest. Conflict of Interest occurs when a member of the Special PC Committee

3.4.1 is in the same department or equivalent unit as a party or witness; or

3.4.2 answers directly to a party or witness; or

3.4.3 has a direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; or

3.4.4 has, or reasonably appears to have, a personal interest in the case or its outcome; or

3.4.5 has provided counsel or assistance to a party relating to the professional misconduct allegation; or

3.4.6 has participated in the efforts of an organization to provide counsel or assistance to a party relating to the case; or
3.4.7 has any other relationship with a party that might prevent impartiality.

When a member of the Special PC Committee discovers that the member has a conflict of interest, the member shall voluntarily withdraw from participation. When a member of the Special PC Committee is alleged to have a conflict of interest and the member does not voluntarily withdraw, the ARRC shall review the allegation and, if a conflict of interest is found, shall bar that person from further participation.

3.5 Communications.

3.5.1 The Chair of the Special PC Committee receives communications for the Committee and speaks for it. Both complainant and respondent shall address communications concerning the case only to the Chair of the Special PC Committee. Special PC Committee members should discourage contacts outside the regular process, and should direct those who make them to the Chair of the Special PC Committee.

3.5.2 The Chair of the Special PC Committee shall keep all parties informed of any substantive communications and contacts, including those that arise outside the normal process.

3.5.3 If the Chair of the Special PC Committee has difficulty communicating with a party or other necessary participant, the Chair of the Special PC Committee may consult with the Chair of the ARRC about ways to resolve the communication problem.

3.6 Dissemination of Personnel Information. Participation in Special PC Committee proceedings makes participants privy to sensitive information and allegations involving the personal and professional lives of members of the University community. UNL Bylaw 2.10 describes limitations on the collection and dissemination of personnel information. Some information obtained as part of a PC proceeding may be protected against broader dissemination by this Bylaw. Violators of this Bylaw could be subject to sanctions for professional misconduct.

3.7 Closed Hearings. PC hearings ordinarily are closed to the public. If the Investigative Hearing is closed to the public, then only those persons identified in Section 6.1 may be present. When an administrative officer is the complainant, then the Investigative Hearing shall be open to the public if requested to be so by the respondent prior to the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conference.

3.8 Academic Advisors. Each party may choose an Academic Advisor who may accompany and advise the party at the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Investigative Hearing. A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party. At the Pre-Hearing Conference and the Hearing, academic advisors may respond to questions from the Chair and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Hearing. The role of Academic Advisor is open to any person who:

3.8.1 is a member of the UNL Academic Assembly (UNL Bylaw 3.3.1) or has emeritus faculty status at UNL;
3.8.2 is not in the same department or equivalent unit as a witness (other than the party being advised) before or a member of the Special PC Committee;
3.8.3 has no other relationship with a member of the Special PC Committee that might create, or reasonably might seem to create, a conflict of interest for that Special PC Committee member;
3.8.4 has no direct voice in the salary or working conditions of a party or witness; and
3.8.5 has no other relationship with a party, an organization, or a witness that might interfere with the investigative process.

3.9 Counsel and Advice for the Special PC Committee.

3.9.1 Because of potential conflicts of interest, the Special PC Committee shall not seek or accept advice from anyone to whom a party is answerable or who may be in a position of giving advice or legal counsel to a party or to any person or body that may later act on the Report of the Special PC Committee.

3.9.2 The Chair of the Special PC Committee may receive advice from the ARRC attorney selected pursuant to section 3.10.2 of the ARRC Procedures but may not have an attorney present at the Investigative Hearing.

3.9.3 Nothing in this Section 3.9 shall prevent full participation by a member of the Special PC Committee who is also an attorney.

3.10 Termination of Pending PC Proceedings.

3.10.1 If at any time all complainants in writing ask the Chair of the Special PC Committee that the Formal Written Complaint be withdrawn, or all parties in writing notify the Chair of the Special PC Committee that they have reached a settlement of the case, the Special PC Committee shall terminate the proceedings and shall not deliver the Final Report described in Section 8. However, in such circumstances the Special PC Committee may, on its own initiative, make written recommendations authorized by Sections 8.2.2 and 8.2.3

3.10.1.1 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint; and
3.10.1.2 concerning ways to correct any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the complaint.

Termination of the proceedings under this section shall not preclude the Special PC Committee, or members of the Special PC Committee, from making the “Communications Regarding Matters Outside the Scope of the Formal Written Complaint” authorized by Section 10.

3.10.2 Resignation from the University by any party shall not necessarily prevent the Special PC Committee from completing its deliberations and delivering the Final Report described in Section 8.

3.11 Timely Completion. Unless the ARRC, for good cause shown, authorizes a longer period of time, the Special PC Committee shall complete its investigation and deliver its report within 150 days of receiving the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the ARRC.

3.12 Adherence to Procedures.

3.12.1 If a party has good reason to believe that the Special PC Committee is out of compliance with these procedures, the matter should be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Special PC Committee. Procedural questions that the Chair of the Special PC Committee cannot resolve promptly and that are so important that failure to resolve them would undermine the credibility of the Special PC Committee may be referred by the Chair of the Special PC Committee or by a party to the ARRC for resolution. The ARRC shall resolve the issues after obtaining the views of the parties and of the Special PC Committee. The Chair of the ARRC shall inform the parties and the Special PC Committee of the ARRC decision and direct them to follow the decision.

3.12.2 If a party has good reason to believe that the ARRC is out of compliance with these procedures or the ARRC Procedures, the party may invoke Section 6.2 of the ARRC Procedures.

4 GENERAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE CHAIR OF THE SPECIAL PC COMMITTEE, NOTICE, RESPONSE, ALLEGATIONS OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST, AND CHALLENGES TO THE ELIGIBILITY OF PROPOSED ACADEMIC ADVISORS

4.1 General Responsibilities of the Chair of the Special PC Committee. The responsibilities of the Chair of the Special PC Committee include:

4.1.1 convening and presiding over meetings of the Special PC Committee;
4.1.2 receiving communications for the Special PC Committee and speaking for it;
4.1.3 ensuring that all substantive communications regarding the PC are made available to all parties;
4.1.4 maintaining a complete case file, including a record of all substantive communications, documents, verbatim transcripts of the investigative hearing (if applicable), committee actions, and committee reports;
4.1.5 providing a copy of the Formal Written Complaint, the Formal Written Response, the current ARRC Procedures, and the current Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees to each member of the Special PC Committee, and to the ARRC Observer, if any;
4.1.6 arranging for accommodations for the Pre-Hearing Conference and for the Investigative Hearing, taking into account such factors as the time needed, the space needs of the Special Committee and parties and witnesses, the need for a separate accommodation for witnesses while waiting to testify, and access to other facilities that may be needed;
4.1.7 moving the proceedings toward a conclusion as expeditiously as reasonably possible while respecting the rights and needs of all participants;
4.1.8 notifying the Chair of the ARRC of any withdrawal from the Special PC Committee to permit timely appointment of a substitute as provided in Section 3.3.5 of the ARRC Procedures;
4.1.9 reminding participants of limitations on the dissemination of personnel information set forth in Section 3.6;
4.1.10 arranging for timely consultation with the Chair of ARRC should procedural disputes arise;
4.1.11 keeping accurate records of expenditures for activities of the Special Committee and arranging for reimbursements from the Chancellor’s office; and
4.1.12 when the complainant is an administrative officer, arranging for the court reporter and verbatim transcript required by Section 6.5.

4.2 Written Notice to the Parties. Within 7 days after the Special PC Committee has been convened, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall send to each party the following:
4.2.1 a copy of the Formal Written Complaint;
4.2.2 a copy of the current Procedures of the Academic Rights and Responsibilities Committee;
4.2.3 a copy of the current Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees;
4.2.4 a list of the members of the Special PC Committee;
4.2.5 the name of the ARRC Observer or, if no ARRC Observer has been appointed, notice to the parties that they are entitled to request that an ARRC Observer be appointed; and
4.2.6 notice of the deadlines established in Section 4.3 and 4.4.

4.3 Formal Written Responses from Respondents: Mandatory Elements and Deadline for Filing. Within 20 calendar days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special PC Committee, each respondent shall file a Formal Written Response with the Chair of the Special PC Committee.

4.3.1 Mandatory Elements. Each Formal Written Response shall contain a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the facts alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest and a clear and concise statement indicating any ameliorating or other additional facts the respondent wishes to allege. Under Sections 4.5 and 7.2, if a respondent fails to file a timely Formal Written Response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

4.3.2 Optional Elements. In addition, the Formal Written Response may include the following:
4.3.2.1 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the standards identified in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.2 a clear and concise statement of the standards, if any, the respondent believes to be appropriate for evaluating the complaint;
4.3.2.3 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the violations alleged in the Formal Written Complaint the respondent wishes to contest;
4.3.2.4 a clear and concise statement indicating which, if any, of the proposed remedies, sanctions, or other personal relief or prospective institutional change the respondent believes would be inappropriate.

The Chair of the Special PC Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.4 Deadline for Requests from Any Party Requesting an Academic Advisor, an ARRC Observer, and for Allegations of Conflict of Interest. Within 15 days from the date of receipt of the Formal Written Complaint from the Chair of the Special PC Committee,

4.4.1 any party wishing to be advised by an academic advisor shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special PC Committee identifying the proposed academic advisor;
4.4.2 any party wishing to request that the ARRC appoint an ARRC Observer shall file a written request with the Chair of the Special PC Committee;
4.4.3 any party wishing to allege that a member of the Special PC Committee has a conflict of interest shall file a written statement with the Chair of the Special PC Committee setting forth the basis for the challenge.

The Chair of the Special PC Committee may extend these deadlines for good cause shown.

4.5 Procedure If No Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If no respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the uncontested allegations of fact in the Formal Written Complaint shall be deemed to be true, and the Chair of the Special Committee shall so notify the parties and shall schedule a meeting of the Special PC Committee to prepare the Final Report required by Section 8.

4.6 Procedure If a Respondent Files a Timely Formal Written Response. If any respondent files a timely Formal Written Response, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall

4.6.1 determine whether proposed academic advisors are eligible under Section 3.8, and if any party’s proposed academic advisor is not eligible, invite that party to propose an eligible academic advisor;
4.6.2 forward to each complainant and to each respondent a copy of each Formal Written Response and the names of proposed academic advisors; and
4.6.3 forward to the Chair of the ARRC any request that an ARRC Observer be appointed.

4.7 Party Challenges to Proposed Academic Advisors or ARRC Observer.

4.7.1 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed academic advisor by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special PC Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed academic advisor. If a challenged proposed academic advisor does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall determine whether the proposed academic advisor is eligible. If the proposed academic advisor is not eligible, the party may propose another academic advisor. If the new proposed academic advisor appears to be eligible, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall notify parties of the new proposed academic advisor and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed academic advisor.

4.7.2 Any party may in writing challenge the eligibility of a proposed ARRC Observer by delivering the challenge to the Chair of the Special PC Committee within 7 days after receipt of the name of the proposed ARRC Observer. The Chair of the Special PC Committee shall forward the challenge to the Chair of the ARRC. If a challenged ARRC Observer does not voluntarily withdraw, the Chair of the ARRC shall determine whether the proposed ARRC Observer is eligible. If the proposed ARRC Observer is not eligible, the ARRC may in writing propose another ARRC Observer to the Chair of the Special Committee. The Chair of the Special Committee shall in writing notify parties of the new proposed ARRC Observer and afford parties an opportunity to challenge the new proposed ARRC Observer.

5 PRE-HEARING CONFERENCE

5.1 Purpose. As soon as possible after giving notice of a Formal Written Response contesting any allegations of the Formal Written Complaint and resolving any issues involving conflicts of interest and eligibility of proposed academic advisors and ARRC Observers, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall arrange a Pre-Hearing Conference with all parties in attendance

5.1.1 to clarify the issues involved;
5.1.2 to identify uncontroverted facts;
5.1.3 to explore the possibility of a voluntary settlement of the case;
5.1.4 to explain procedures applicable to the Investigative Hearing; and
5.1.5 to establish procedures for setting the date, time, and place of the Investigative Hearing.

At the Pre-Hearing Conference each party shall provide every other party and the Chair of the Special PC Committee with a copy of any documentation to be introduced by the party at the Investigative Hearing and with a list of any witnesses to be called by the party at the Investigative Hearing. No witnesses or documents not so provided shall be heard or received at the Investigative Hearing, except in cases of surprise, or for the purpose of rebutting oral testimony, or for other justifiable cause found to exist by the Special PC Committee.

5.2 Persons Who May Attend and Participate in the Pre-Hearing Conference:

5.2.1 the Chair of the Special PC Committee;
5.2.2 the parties;
5.2.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
5.2.4 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
5.2.5 the ARRC attorney, if requested by the Chair of the Special PC Committee; and
5.2.6 the ARRC Observer, if any.

After the Pre-Hearing Conference, the Chair of the Special PC Committee will provide in writing to all parties a list of the uncontroverted facts established in the Pre-Hearing Conference as well as a list of issues to be resolved during the Investigative Hearing by the Special PC Committee.
5.3 Meeting of the Special PC Committee after the Pre-Hearing Conference and Before the Investigative Hearing.

As soon as possible after the conclusion of the Pre-Hearing Conference, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall provide each member of the Special PC Committee with the following:

5.3.1.1 a copy of the Formal Written Complaint and a copy of each Formal Written Response;
5.3.1.2 a copy of each party’s written list of witnesses to be called and documentation to be introduced at the Investigative Hearing;
5.3.1.3 a written summary of matters decided at the Pre-Hearing Conference.

5.3.2 After a reasonable time to permit members of the Special PC Committee to review of these materials, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall convene a meeting of the Special PC Committee, with only members of the Special PC Committee present, to determine whether the Special PC Committee wishes to call any additional witnesses or request any additional documentation. If the Special PC Committee decides to call any additional witnesses or request any additional documentation, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall notify the parties in writing and shall make arrangements for any additional witnesses and documentation to be presented at the Investigative Hearing.

5.4 Notice of Investigative Hearing. As soon as possible after the conclusion of the meeting of the Special PC Committee in accordance with Section 5.3, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall in writing give notice of the date, time, and place of the Investigative Hearing to

5.4.1 each party;
5.4.2 each member of the Special PC Committee;
5.4.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
5.4.4 each academic advisor, if any;
5.4.5 the ARRC Observer, if any;
5.4.6 the Chair of the ARRC.

6 INVESTIGATIVE HEARING

6.1 Persons Who May Attend the Investigative Hearing:

6.1.1 members of the Special PC Committee;
6.1.2 the parties;
6.1.3 each party’s attorney, if any;
6.1.4 each party’s academic advisor, if any;
6.1.5 the ARRC Observer, if any;
6.1.6 the court reporter, if applicable;
6.1.7 witnesses, but no witness shall be present except when that witness is testifying and responding to questions.

6.2 Order of Investigative Hearing. The usual sequence of an Investigative Hearing is as follows:

6.2.1 introductions of all present (this will be repeated for each witness);
6.2.2 introduction of the case by the Chair of the Special PC Committee; 6.2.3 complainant(s)' presentation of the Formal Written Complaint and evidence in support of the Formal Written Complaint, including all documentation and all witnesses; 6.2.4 respondent(s)' presentation of the Formal Written Response and evidence in support of the Formal Written Response, including all documentation and all witnesses;
6.2.5 presentation of documentation and testimony of witnesses requested by the Special PC
Committee;
6.2.6 rebuttal in support of the Formal Written Complaint;
6.2.7 closing statement(s) by Complainant(s), followed by closing statement(s) by Respondent(s);
6.2.8 statement by the Chair of the Special PC Committee thanking participants and explaining post-Investigative-Hearing procedures.

This order may be varied if the Chair of the Special PC Committee determines that a clearer way of exploring the issues can be achieved, and if the Special PC-A PC Committee and the parties agree.

6.3 Evidence and Witnesses.

6.3.1 The Special PC Committee may direct the parties, faculty members, and other officers of the University to produce specific relevant documents (including personnel and student records) for introduction at the Investigative Hearing. The parties shall be afforded an opportunity to obtain necessary witnesses and documentary evidence. All parties will cooperate with the Special PC Committee in securing witnesses and in making available documentary and other evidence.

6.3.2 Members of the UNL community shall cooperate with the Special PC Committee in providing testimony or documents; however, a person shall not be required to give testimony or to produce documents in regard to any confidential communication for which the law provides a privilege. Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify in regard to any communication for which the law does not provide a privilege obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special PC Committee in its deliberations and in its preparation of the Final Report.

6.3.3 Testimony shall be taken under oath. Each party shall have the right to cross-examine witnesses who testify and shall have the right to submit rebuttal testimony.
Witnesses may testify and evidence may be received not only concerning relevant facts but also concerning relevant standards. Witnesses not able to attend the hearing may provide testimony in writing. In cases where the grounds for professional misconduct are based in whole or in part on questions of professional competence, relevant testimony concerning professional competence from individual colleagues, students, and others from this, or other institutions may also be admitted.

6.3.4 The Special PC Committee will not be bound by strict rules of legal evidence and may admit any evidence which is of probative value in determining the issues involved. Every possible effort will be made to obtain the most reliable evidence available. The Chair of the Special PC Committee may bar the introduction of documents, evidence, questions, and testimony reasonably deemed irrelevant, immaterial, not-competent or unduly repetitious. The Chair of the Special PC Committee also may bar the introduction of documents, evidence, and testimony if introduction would unfairly surprise another party and if the documents, evidence, or testimony could, with reasonable diligence, have been discovered or produced before the Pre-Hearing Conference. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar the introduction of evidence may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special PC Committee.

6.3.5 The Chair of the Special PC Committee may in appropriate circumstances temporarily adjourn the Investigative Hearing.

6.4 Format of Presentations and Questions. To preserve orderly and civil proceedings, the Investigative Hearing shall be conducted by the Chair of the Special PC Committee as follows:

6.4.1 No person shall speak without prior recognition by the Chair of the Special PC Committee.

6.4.2 Each party and each witness may be questioned by members of the Special PC Committee after the end of the presentation of that party or witness.

6.4.3 When the Special PC-A PC Committee has finished questioning a party or witness, each party may question that party or witness; alternatively, the parties may submit questions to the Chair of the Special PC-C Committee which the Chair of the Special PC Committee may ask on their behalf.

6.4.4 The Chair of the Special PC Committee may bar questions under Section 6.3.3. A party adversely affected by a decision to bar a question may appeal the decision of the Chair to the full Special PC Committee.

6.4.5 A party’s academic advisor may consult privately with that party, may respond to questions from the Chair, and may address procedural questions to the Chair, but under ordinary circumstances may not otherwise participate in the Investigative Hearing.

6.5 Record of Hearing

When the complainant is an administrative officer, the Chair of the Special PC Committee shall arrange for a court reporter to be present at the Investigative Hearing to produce a verbatim record of the Investigative Hearing. Bills for the court reporter’s services shall be processed through the office of the General Counsel of the University. The verbatim record shall be made available to the parties and to the Special PC Committee prior to the deliberations and decision of the Special PC Committee required by Section 7. The verbatim record also shall be made available for inspection by the public as set forth in Section 8.3.
7 DELIBERATIONS AND DECISION

7.1 All deliberations shall be conducted in executive session with no one present except members of the Special PC Committee, and the ARRC attorney, if invited.

7.2 The complainant bears the burden of proving relevant facts by a preponderance of the relevant evidence. If a respondent fails to file a timely written response or otherwise fails to contest an allegation of fact, the uncontested allegations of fact shall be deemed to be true.

7.3 Refusal by anyone to provide documents or to testify obstructs the process and shall be taken into consideration by the Special PC Committee in its deliberations and preparation of the Final Report.

7.4 The standards against which the charges are to be judged include applicable state and federal law; University bylaws, rules and regulations; established policies of the relevant administrative unit; appropriate professional and discipline based standards; applicable contracts; and academic principles and tradition. In the event of conflict between different University bylaws, rules or regulations, those of the more inclusive administrative unit shall prevail.

7.5 Students or staff added to a Special PC Committee pursuant to Section 3.3.6 of the ARRC Procedures may participate fully in discussions, hearings, and deliberations of the Special PC Committee, but may not vote. If the opinion of students or staff added to the Special PC Committee differs from that of the regular members of the Special PC Committee, their opinion and the rationale for that opinion shall be included in the report of the Special PC Committee.

8 THE FINAL REPORT

When the Special PC Committee has completed its deliberations it shall prepare a Final Report setting forth the Special PC Committee’s disposition of each charge of professional misconduct in the Formal Written Complaint. Communications regarding matters outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint shall be addressed in accordance with the rules set forth in Section 10 below. The Final Report shall be limited to the following mandatory and optional elements.

8.1 Mandatory Elements of the Final Report. The Final Report shall contain, with respect to each charge of professional misconduct alleged in the Formal Written Complaint:

8.1.1 specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based;
8.1.2 identification of the standards against which the charge of professional misconduct is being judged;
8.1.3 the Special PC Committee’s conclusions concerning whether applicable standards have been violated; and 8.1.4 if the opinion of students or staff added to the Special PC Committee pursuant... to Section 3.3.6 of the ARRC Procedures differs from that of the regular members of the Special PC-A PC Committee, their opinion and the rationale for that opinion.

Before preparing the elements of the Final Report required by Sections 8.1.2 and 8.1.3, the Chair of the Special PC-A PC Committee shall send to each party a copy of a provisional draft of the specific findings of relevant fact and reference to the evidentiary foundations upon which those findings are based required by Section 8.1.1. Each party shall have five days after receipt of the provisional draft to submit written comments to the Chair of the Special PC-A PC Committee suggesting specific changes to correct specific alleged inaccuracies in the provisional draft. No changes based upon such comments shall be made to the provisional draft without first providing other parties an opportunity to respond to the comments. If the Special PC-A PC Committee decides not to make changes suggested in a written comment, that written comment and the Special PC-A PC Committee’s reasons for that decision shall be appended to the Final Report.

8.2 Optional Elements of the Final Report. In addition, the Final Report may contain one or more of the following:

8.2.1 Recommendations. The Final Report may include recommendations:

8.2.1.1 concerning appropriate sanctions for a respondent found to have committed professional misconduct, including but not limited to 8.2.1.1.1 formal censure,

8.2.1.1.2 restitution;
8.2.1.1.3 non-reappointment at the end of the respondent’s specific term appointment,
8.2.1.1.4 removal from an administrative position,
8.2.1.1.5 reduction in salary or adjustment in responsibilities,
8.2.1.1.6 recommendation by the Chancellor to the President that the respondent be terminated under Regents Bylaws 4.14; 4.7, 4.8, 4.9, 4.11, or 4.12;

8.2.1.2 concerning ways to redress the consequences of any professional misconduct by the respondent;
8.2.1.3 concerning ways to prevent recurrence of acts, decisions, or circumstances which may have contributed to the professional misconduct by the respondent;
8.2.1.4 concerning correction of any deficiencies or anomalies found in the substance or application of bylaws, rules, regulations, policies, procedures, or customs which may have contributed to the filing of the charge of professional misconduct against the respondent.

8.2.2 Concurring or Dissenting Opinions. The Final Report may include concurring or dissenting opinions, or both, concerning any mandatory or optional element of the report.

8.3 Delivery and Archiving of Verbatim Record (if applicable), Case File, and Final Report.

8.3.1 The Chair of the Special PC-A PC Committee shall 8.3.1.1 deliver a copy of the Final Report to each party, to the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party, to the President), to the Chair of the ARRC, and to the President of the Faculty Senate;
8.3.1.2 if the allegations of professional misconduct included allegations of unlawful discrimination, including sexual and other prohibited harassment, deliver a copy of the Final Report to the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance, Access and Diversity Programs;
and
8.3.1.3 deliver a copy of the Final Report, a copy of all exhibits, and a copy of the case file required by Section 4.1.4 to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate.

8.3.2 The Coordinator of the Faculty Senate shall 8.3.2.1 obtain a copy of the official record of actions taken against the respondent(s), if any;
   8.3.2.2 place one copy of the Final Report, a copy of all exhibits, and a copy of the case file required by section 4.1.4, and the official record of action taken (if any) in ARRC archives in the Faculty Senate Office under specified conditions of access; and 8.3.2.1 deposit a second copy of the Final Report, a copy of all exhibits, and a copy of the case file required by section 4.1.4, and the official record of action taken (if any) in the University Archives under specified conditions of access.

9 FOLLOW UP TO THE REPORT

9.1 Chancellor's (or President's) Response to Recommendations. In response to recommendations made by the Special PC-A PC Committee, the Chancellor (or, if the Chancellor is a party or witness, the President) shall within 30 days provide a written response to the Chair of the ARRC indicating:
   9.1.1 the recommendations that have been accepted and the action taken;
   9.1.2 the recommendations that have been rejected in part or completely; and 9.1.3 for each recommendation rejected, reasons responsive to the Committee's rationale for proposing it.

The Chancellor (or President) shall decide upon Special Professional Conduct Committee recommendations on the basis of the evidence submitted to the Special Professional Conduct Committee and the report of the Special Professional Conduct Committee. Unless clearly erroneous, the findings of fact made by the Special Professional Conduct Committee shall be accepted. The Chancellor (or President) shall give the Special Professional Conduct Committee's findings and conclusions due consideration, and shall take into account the fact that the Special Professional Conduct Committee is a representative committee of the faculty and had the opportunity to see and hear the witnesses who testified personally before the Special Grievance Committee.

Copies of the Chancellor’s (or President’s) written response shall be sent to the parties, to the Special Professional Conduct Committee, to the President of the Faculty Senate, and to the Coordinator of the Faculty Senate for inclusion in the case files in the ARRC archives and in the University Archives. If the response rejects or changes the recommendations made by the Special PC-A PC Committee, the ARRC shall inform the President of the Faculty Senate who shall provide each member of the Senate Executive Committee with a copy of the Final Report and of the response and shall put the matter on the agenda of the next Senate Executive Committee meeting for whatever action the Senate Executive Committee deems appropriate.
Code of Procedures for Special PC Committees

Committee may deem appropriate.

9.2 ARRC Review of Implementation of Recommendations. The ARRC shall determine the extent to which recommendations of the Special PC-A PC Committee have been implemented, and shall report its findings to the President of the Faculty Senate and in its annual report to the Senate.

9.3 ARRC Meeting with the Special PC-A PC Committee. After the Final Report has been filed, the ARRC shall meet with the Special PC-A PC Committee and any others considered appropriate by the Chair of the ARRC to thank the Special PC-A PC Committee for its work, to collect all copies of documents, and to hear from the Special PC-A PC Committee any suggestions about how the work of the ARRC and its special committees might be improved.

10 COMMUNICATIONS REGARDING MATTERS OUTSIDE THE SCOPE OF THE FORMAL WRITTEN COMPLAINT

10.1 In the course of an investigation, one or more members of the Special PC-A PC Committee may conclude that the Special PC-A PC Committee has heard allegations or otherwise discovered information which, though outside the scope of the Formal Written Complaint and thus not subject to full investigation and evaluation by the Special PC-A PC Committee, nonetheless suggests that actions or decisions have been taken or may be taken in violation of law, University policy, or academic principle.

10.2 Such concerns shall not be addressed in the Final Report of the Special PC-A PC Committee required by Section 8.0. However, the Special PC-A PC Committee acting through its chair, or any member or members of the Special PC-A PC Committee, may communicate those concerns in writing to the appropriate administrator for investigation and for whatever corrective action may be appropriate. In shaping the contents of and determining the recipients for such communications, those preparing the communications shall consult with the Chair of the ARRC.

10.3 A copy of any such communication to an administrator shall at the same time be sent to

10.3.1 the Chancellor; and

10.3.2 the Chair of the ARRC; and

10.3.3 any individual on whose actions, decisions, or practices the communication reflects; and

As Approved by Board of Regents March 2, 2012

10.3.4 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of a committee or unit, the individual who heads that committee or unit; and
10.3.5 if the communication reflects on the actions, decisions, or practices of the Chancellor, the President; and
10.3.6 if the communication includes concerns about alleged unlawful discrimination, including sexual or other prohibited harassment, the UNL Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance or its successor if the office is renamed.

10.4 Such communications shall be deemed to be a part of the responsibility of Special PC Committee members and, as such, to be subject to the same protections afforded all Special PC Committee activities by Section 6.8 of the Regents Bylaws.

Review Summary
Bureau of Business Research
Management and Operational Review: FY 2018 – FY 2021
(Report Date: July 1, 2021)

A Management and Operational Review of the Bureau of Business Research was conducted on June 24, 2021 to July 1, 2021. Review team membership was composed of three members of the UNL Department of Economics: Dr. John Anderson, the Baird Family Professor of Economics (lead), Dr. Eric Thompson, K.H. Nelson Professor of Economics and Director of the Bureau of Business Research and Dr. David Rosenbaum, Department Chair and John T. and May M. Hay Professor of Economics.

Center Mission: The Bureau of Business Research’s mission is to provide economists and students of economics and business with opportunities to conduct funded economic research that promotes their academic development and provides value-added data and insights on economic trends and issues in Nebraska, the Midwest and the nation. Its research focus is factors that influence human capital development and economic growth as a service to individuals, policymakers and businesses.

Assessment: The review team found that the Bureau of Business Research was highly successful in providing opportunities for academic advancement for students and affiliated faculty. Bureau research focused on human capital development and economic growth and was productive in providing value-added data and insights regarding the economy. The Bureau effectively communicated its findings through five peer reviewed publications, dozens of reports and presentations, hundreds of media interviews, and through social media. The Bureau earned $1.54 million in grant funding during the period including funding from federal government agencies and national-level foundations, as well as the business community, all while participating in multi-disciplinary research teams within the NU System. The Bureau was very effective in developing its undergraduate Bureau Scholars research program during the assessment period including expanding its seminar series, introducing student data visualization projects and participating in the UNL undergraduate research fair. The Bureau also was active in seeking funding from federal government agencies. One area of suggested enhancement, however, is the expansion of research related to regional housing and commercial real estate.

Recommendations: Given the assessment above, the review team concludes that the Center should be retained. The Bureau should continue to meet the objectives of its Mission and emphasize further improvement in the undergraduate Bureau Scholars program, increased funding from federal government agencies, and increased research on housing and commercial real estate.

Responsibility for Monitoring: The Director of the Bureau of Business Research, the Chair of the Department of Economics and the Dean of the College of Business are responsible for annually evaluating the management, operation, and performance of the BBR.
An external review of the Center for Digital Research in the Humanities was held February 19-22, 2017. The review team membership was composed of Susan Schreibman, Professor of Digital Humanities at Maynooth University in Ireland; Neil Fraistat, Professor of English at University of Maryland; Dean Rehberger, Associate Professor of History at Michigan State University; and Leen-Kiat Soh, Professor of Computer Science at University of Nebraska.

Center Mission: The Center for Digital Research in the Humanities mission is: “The Center is a community of researchers collaborating to build digital content and systems in order to generate and express knowledge of the humanities. We mentor emerging voices and advance digital futures for all.” Their research mission is: “…the Center fosters and serves as a catalyst for digital humanities research by providing spaces for collaborative research teams to meet, technological support, infrastructure for long-term sustainability of research, and connections to international research networks. While Faculty Fellows of the Center have tenure homes in Anthropology, Art & Art History, Classics & Religious Studies, English, History and the Libraries, the Center serves any discipline in which the research intersects with the humanities.”

Assessment: The 2017 external review team’s assessment of the Center was extremely positive. The review team recognized the Center as one of the premier Digital Humanities Centers in the world, noting that the signature research projects, the Walt Whitman and Willa Cather archives, are internationally renowned and influential. The largest concerns the review team had concerned the lack of a strategic vision for the Center and the need for a revised governance structure. These concerns have been addressed with the completion of a strategic plan in November 2020 and clarification about paths for faculty to be designated as Faculty Fellows. Many of the review team’s lesser concerns, such as capacity, space, long-term stability and structural issues, and curriculum issues, are being addressed through the implementation of the Center’s strategic objectives.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Co-Directors of the Center, the Dean of Libraries, the Dean of Arts and Sciences, and the Executive Vice Chancellor.
An internal review of the Lincoln Center for Economic Education was conducted on June 21, 2021. The review team membership* was composed of Sam Allgood, David Rosenbaum and Jennifer Davidson, faculty members in the Economics Department.

Center Mission: The Lincoln Center strives to support the mission of the Nebraska Council on Economic Education (NCEE) as well as that of the College of Business (CoB). The mission of the Center is to advance economic and financial literacy to students, teachers, administrators, and citizens of all ages. The goal of the Lincoln Center for Economic Education is to increase the quantity and enhance the quality of economic and financial literacy in the Lincoln region, including state agencies related to economic and financial education.

Assessment: Activities of note include the establishment of nine in-school elementary grades savings programs in Lincoln Public Schools and continued participation and coordination of the state finals of the Nebraska Economics Challenge and the Nebraska Regional Personal Finance Challenge. The Lincoln Center for Economic Education is in a time of transition. The center director of 29 years is stepping down and being replaced with a one year interim director while the economics department hopes to conduct a national search. The Lincoln Center will benefit greatly from new energy envisioned by a new director. We are requesting that the new Lincoln Center director remain a 1.0 FTE with duties split equally between teaching in the economics department and directing the center. The Center is funded by CoB. Programming expenses are funded by NCEE.

Recommendations: The Center should be retained. The Lincoln Center is primed to be a very visible outreach arm of for the Economics Department, the CoB, and the University. The Center should continue to leverage its current successful programs and foster relationships within the CoB, across campus and specifically with the College of Education. The Center should expand in the following areas: events that bring k-12 students to campus; increase preservice and in-service outreach in the form of professional development in partnership with NCEE, foster relationships and establish a positive reputation with local school districts as an expert on curriculum, pedagogy, and economic and financial education. The Lincoln Center should also work to add additional in school elementary savings programs branches.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of Nebraska Council on Economic Education, the Department of Economics, and the College of Business.

Team Membership: Jennifer Davidson, UNL Economics Department and NCEE President, Sam Allgood, UNL Economics Department, David Rosenbaum, Chair UNL Economics Department.
An internal review of the Nebraska Council on Economic Education (NCEE) was completed on June 21, 2021. The review team membership was composed of UNL Economics Department Chair, Dave Rosenbaum and NCEE President, Jennifer Davidson.

Center Mission: NCEE’s mission is to lead a statewide initiative to increase economic and financial literacy. The vision is to ensure that all students from kindergarten through high school have an ongoing education in economics and personal finance. In addition to K-12 programming, NCEE staffers serve as content experts, appear on television and radio, present in college classes, and provide economic and financial workshops, events, and programming for a broad range of citizens.

Assessment: Since 1963, NCEE, a non-profit entity, has been housed in the Department of Economics at the University of Nebraska Lincoln’s (UNL) College of Business (CoB). The Council President is an Assistant Professor of Practice in the Department whose duties and salary allocation are split equally between the Department and the Council. The Council Coordinator and Program Manager (a position added in 2019) is fully funded by the Council. As an outreach arm of the CoB, it is a unique public/private partnership. NCEE is in a healthy financial position.

A few items of note in the 2020-2021 programming year are a partnership with the Nebraska State Treasurer’s office to conduct a series of webinars for Nebraska public employees. A website was created (www.nefinancialwellness.unl.edu) and over 2,000 people registered for the program. As another item of note, a Nebraska team from Millard North HS was crowned the National Personal Finance Challenge (NPFC) champions. The NPFC is an academic competition hosted in partnership with NCEE. 10,000 students from across the nation participated. Finally, with expertise from NCEE, the Nebraska legislature passed LB452 which requires all high school students in Nebraska to pass a personal finance course for graduation.

NCEE is a well-known and respected organization. As recommended in the 2017 report, NCEE has been successful in relationship building and stabilizing each of its five affiliate centers at UNL, UNO, UNK, Chadron and Wayne State. The UNL Center is in the process of a search for a new center director, which will make both entities more fruitful.

Even during the 2019-2020 programming year in Covid-19 pandemic, NCEE delivered extensive outreach numbers:
- 15,764 Nebraskans for a total of
- 86,703 contact hours in economic and personal finance education and
- 22,662 students nationally through the Economics Challenge and Finance Challenge academic competition portals leased to other state councils on economic education.

Details on additional specific programming can be seen on NCEE’s website: http://nebraskacouncil.unl.edu

Recommendations: NCEE should be retained. NCEE conducts extensive outreach and is an excellent representation of the Economics Department, the College of Business, the campus, and the University. Some things for NCEE to consider are recent changes in payday lender legislation that has resulted in a decline of previously consistent funding from LB269, hence there will be a need to attract alternative replacement funding. The current Council Coordinator, an integral staff member at NCEE, is considering retirement in the next two to three years and will need to be replaced. The NCEE president role requires more than the currently allocated .5 FTE position and with continued growth may be unsustainable in its current likeness.

Responsibility for Monitoring: The Center Director, the Chair of the Economics Department and the Dean of the College of Business monitor progress of the NCEE. The Council also has a separate, actively engaged, Executive Committee representing business and community leaders from across the state. The Executive Committee meets semi-annually to review progress of the Center.

Team Membership: David Rosenbaum, Chair, UNL Economics Department; Jennifer Davidson, NCEE President and Assistant Professor of Practice in Economics, UNL.
A Management and Operational Review of the Kit and Dick Schmoker Reading Center was conducted on 12/3/2020. The review team* was composed of the Center Director, department chairs from CYAF, SECD and TLTE, and the Dean of the College of Education and Human Sciences.

Center Mission: The Kit and Dick Schmoker Reading Center is an educational site focused on practical experiences for pre-service and in-service teachers in the College of Education and Human Sciences in the use of effective instructional approaches for improving the literacy skills of children and their families. To complement this mission, the Reading Center engages in research and outreach activities aimed at improving knowledge of evidence-based practices in literacy and extending knowledge of effective literacy practices to UNL students, families, and the broader the community.

Assessment:

Strengths: The team indicated that the Center is running smoothly and addressing its mission. The Department Chairs indicated that the reading center is providing strong training to their students. The Director, Chairs, and Dean agree that the budget for the center has been managed well, with funds used appropriately to fulfill the missions of the reading center. The Reading Center advisory committee has been involved in guiding the center during semi-annual meetings. The Center has also been involved in a new project (WORDS: Workshops on Reading Development Strategies) funded by the Nebraska Department of Education (NDE) to provide professional development and support around reading to rural Nebraska Schools. This project helps the Center address another component of its mission in engaging in outreach activities.

Weaknesses: The Center has provided opportunities for some research through connecting with researchers and opening the center to research recruitment, but increased research activity might help the Center provide a service to the educational community by helping generate new knowledge about effective reading practices.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. The Center should continue to provide effective pre-service teacher training. The Center should also continue outreach efforts and expand on its involvement in externally funded professional development and partnership with the NDE. With a recent retirement and overlapping hire of an acting clinic coordinator, the Center leadership should focus on hiring a permanent replacement for the clinic coordinator and continue to carefully manage the budget for personnel during the hire and transition.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Center Director and direct supervisors, including department chairs from CYAF, SECD and TLTE, and the Dean of the College of Education and Human Sciences, with input from the Reading Center advisory committee, which is made up of faculty representatives from each of three departments (CYAF, SECD, and TLTE).

Team Membership: Michael Hebert, Director; Michael Merten, Chair, Department of Child Youth and Family Studies; Ron Nelson, Chair, Department of Special Education and Communication Disorders; Guy Trainin, Chair, Department of Teaching Learning and Teacher Education; Sherri Jones, Dean, College of Education and Human Sciences

(Report Date: June 30, 2021)

A Management and Operational Review of the Nebraska Center for Research on Children, Youth, Families and Schools (CYFS) was conducted on May 14, 2021. The review team was Sue Sheridan – Center Director, Tina Hogan – Assistant Director for Research Operations in CYFS, Dori Smidt – Assistant Dean for Business and Finance for the College of Education and Human Sciences (CEHS) and Sherri Jones – Dean of CEHS.

Center Mission: CYFS is an interdisciplinary research center in CEHS whose mission is to impact lives through research that advances learning and development. The center’s vision is that all children, youth, families and schools have the opportunity to realize their potential and reach beyond.

Assessment: In the past five years, CYFS has continued to serve a vital function in growing research and successful grant activity for CEHS and UNL. For FY16-FY20, CYFS supported the submission of 312 research grants totaling $182.6 million (yearly average $36.52M), was awarded 136 grants totaling $25.5M (yearly average $5.1M) and generated $18.1M in research expenditures (yearly average $3.62M). Grants secured by CYFS in that same period generated a total of $4.6M in facilities and administration (F&A) revenue. There are currently 105 CYFS research affiliates representing all four NU campuses and multiple disciplines. In a 2020 survey, 100% of research affiliate respondents reported that pre-award services were helpful or very helpful, and important to very important to their grant submission success. Likewise, 100% reported that post-award services (MAP Academy; Web, Technology and Communications; Administrative) were helpful to very helpful. 100% indicated that they were likely to very likely to continue submitting and managing grants through CYFS. Research conducted in CYFS is addressing several of UNL’s grand challenges such as early childhood education and development, antiracism and racial equity, health equity, and science and technology literacy for society. Since the inception of CYFS in 2004, CYFS has been awarded more than $90M in research grants, returning $22.18 to UNL for every $1 invested via program of excellence funds. Challenges include a significant increase in grant volume and other activities that have stretched resources. The only discretionary funds to support growth are POE and F&A return. Neither have grown substantially since inception in 2004. Funds to cover Center-wide infrastructure are non-allowable expenses in research grant budgets.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. Growth in POE funds and/or greater return of F&A is imperative for Center sustainability and growth. The IBB model is an opportunity to ensure that funds are directed to support the infrastructure costs necessary for CYFS to further bolster grant funding and research expenditures in the interdisciplinary work that is vital to achieving college grand visions and addressing campus grand challenges.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Dean, Center Director and VC for Research and Economic Development. The Dean and Center Director meet monthly. The Dean and Center Director also meets regularly with the VC for Research and Economic Development.
An external scientific review of the Nebraska Center for Energy Sciences Research (NCESR) was conducted on January 20-22, 2021. The review team membership* was composed of external faculty peers with scientific and administrative expertise pertinent to the Center focus, and an internal UNL faculty member/research administrator to provide institutional context.

Center Mission: NCESR is a collaboration between the Nebraska Public Power District (NPPD) and the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL). The mission of the Energy Center is to conduct energy research that produces new technologies, processes and systems that provide new or significantly enhanced energy sources and improve the quality of life and economic opportunity for all Nebraskans, the nation and the world. The Center funds seed grants in a variety of clean energy areas, including biofuels and bioproducts, wind, solar, energy storage, carbon capture and reuse, improved agricultural efficiency, and nuclear. Seed grants are expected to be leveraged to attract external funding from federal agencies, foundations, and other public or private entities.

Assessment: NCESR is a well-run, well-funded energy center. It follows a unique, but effective model to create impact for faculty, students, the University and Nebraskans. The mission is focused on NCESR research priorities. Revisions to the mission should improve its alignment with goals of NPPD as related to education, engagement, partnerships and development of the next generation workforce. Return on investment from the seed grant program has been excellent. Building mechanisms into the NCESR funding structure that fosters transdisciplinary collaboration and encourages senior faculty to lead large-scale, center-type proposals (e.g., faculty time release, technical/research support) is encouraged. Other areas for growth include fostering research between the life sciences and engineering, encouraging early contact of NUtech for potential IP, enhancing industry partnership in careful coordination with NPPD, and encouraging start-ups at NE Innovation Campus. Strategies to enhance connectedness among research groups affiliated with the Center are encouraged, including regular communications.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. Though the Center is currently operated under interim leadership and a director search on the horizon, the committee first recommends internal discussion to determine an institutional vision for what NCESR and its derivative is to become. This vision should be developed with NPPD leadership participation to preserve key attributes of the current mission. This renewed collective vision can then drive key resource allocations required to achieve the vision, including a new director, perhaps additional staff, and physical space. The vision definition exercise should importantly support needed improvements in center communications to achieve consensus, diversity, inclusivity, collegiality, excitement and pride among all constituents of NCESR.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of NCESR Interim Director and Associate Director, as well as the UNL Office of Research and Economic Development, in partnership with NPPD.

Review Summary
IANR Research, Extension and Education Centers
Report Date: July 15, 2016

An external review of the IANR Research, Extension and Education Centers (West Central, Panhandle and Eastern Nebraska) was conducted - September 24 – October 8, 2021. The review team membership was composed of administrators of academic institutions, graduate students, producers and industry representatives.

Center Mission: The University of Nebraska Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources (IANR) operates three main Research, Extension and Education Centers (REEC) across the state with each having a network of farms, ranches and educational facilities to support the mission of IANR, Nebraska Extension and the Agricultural Research Division. The Statewide REECs Mission is to develop solutions that enhance the lives of Nebraskans through improved management of landscapes, production systems, and resources across our state.

Assessment: The REECs conducted for the first time a statewide external review that combined a looking forward direction and focused on a collaborative statewide effort. Each REEC captured input from their advisory boards as well as stakeholders and faculty to identify and prioritize needs across the state. Through this process eight statewide strategic directions and opportunities were identified where REECs could combine resources and expertise to support the statewide directions.

Recommendations: The external review team validated and provided constructive feedback to the proposed statewide strategic directions and identified an additional area of focus. The eight strategic directions are: Water and Nutrient management; Innovative cropping systems to improve soil health, conservation, sustainability & profitability; Developing resilient food animal production systems; Precision agriculture for both crops and livestock; Developing programing for financial resiliency of Ag producers; Connecting the rural-urban interface through food, agriculture, health and science literacy; Workforce development; and Develop undergraduate and graduate experiences. The review team identified key areas that REECs need to address to respond to stakeholder needs. Some of those key areas are:

- A systems-level approach to problem solving and effective outreach is vital to the ongoing success of efforts at REECs and other outlying locations, but academic gaps are apparent. These gaps should be identified, prioritized, and considered to be core-critical to advancing and communicating science statewide.
- Development and retention of REEC-based faculty, especially those who are early in their career development, must be a priority.
- Graduate student presence at the REECs is critical for research efforts in addition to offering valuable outreach training opportunities.
- Infrastructure at the REECs needs to be thoroughly evaluated and needed improvements prioritized on need and possible positive impact for several of the Strategic Directions.
- A REEC system-wide analysis of IT connectivity should be undertaken with a goal of substantial improvement at all locations.
- IANR Media should seek to enhance promotion of REEC research and Extension programing and activities, either remotely or with onsite staffing.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the REECs Directors and ARD. Strategic decisions are vested in the senior leadership of IANR; the administrative leadership team formally reviews unit and center progress on a yearly basis during unit planning and evaluation sessions, with additional meetings scheduled quarterly.
Review Summary
Center for Advanced Surgical Technology (CAST)
External Review: July 2021
(Report Date: August 2, 2021)

An External Review of the Center for Advanced Surgical Technology (CAST) was conducted in July 2021. The review team membership* was composed of faculty outside the NU system and was led by the UNMC Vice Chancellor for Research.

Center Mission: To develop innovative surgical technology, specifically to develop, apply, and evaluate innovative surgical technologies and procedures that will decrease complications, reduce or eliminate hospitalization, improve health, and enhance quality of life. This will be accomplished through creative interdisciplinary and multi-investigator biomedical research – research that integrates, by design, engineering, the life sciences, and medicine.

Assessment: Strengths: CAST is a clear catalyst of collaboration between different UNMC colleges, UNL, UNO, academic partners external to the NU system, and industry. CAST has created an interdisciplinary team of clinicians, engineers, and life scientists. The Center has exceeded expectations in academic productivity (110 publications, five book chapters, 63 presentations, 100 posters/abstracts), intellectual property development (201 patent applications, 38 new invention notifications, one licensed technology), and funding (50 extramural research grants and contracts awarded) in the reporting period. CAST exceeded expectations with community engagement – including activities with the Nebraska Science Festival, Nebraska Robotics Expo, High School Alliance, STEM students from Metro and Northeast Community College, and others. CAST has varied funding sources, including the National Institutes of Health, the Department of Defense, and industry. The Center targets projects and funding to increase the likelihood of developing its strategic plan and focus areas. Expansion of CAST scope from computer-assisted/robotic surgical technology to any promising surgically-relevant technology seems appropriate. Areas of improvement: CAST may explore additional opportunities to leverage machine-learning for computationally intensive research – especially as a component of the comparative effectiveness research program. The internal review did not adequately address whether or not there has been any impact of the change in leadership on strategic direction, membership or fundraising.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. Since there is a new director, the Center should consider developing a 5-year strategic plan and develop a business plan to ensure resources are sufficient to continue and expand its mission. Future updates of the Center should focus on the current vision, current membership and their accomplishments since the change in leadership.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Center Director, Chair, Department of Surgery, and the CAST Oversight Board.

Review Summary
Center for Biosecurity, Biopreparedness and Emerging Infectious Diseases (CBBEID)

External Review: July 2021
(Report Date: August 2, 2021)

An External Review of the Center for Biosecurity, Biopreparedness, and Emerging Infectious Diseases (CBBEID) was conducted in July 2021. The review team membership\(^*\) was composed of faculty outside the NU system and was led by the UNMC Vice Chancellor for Research.

Center Mission: The Center for Biosecurity, Biopreparedness and Emerging Infectious Diseases (CBBEID) encompass the Center for Preparedness Education (CPE) and four academic programs (DrPH, MPH, and MS in Emergency Preparedness and the Graduate Certificate in Emergency Preparedness). The CPE mission is to: Provide outreach training and education programs to professionals in the field to achieve and maintain Nebraska communities in a state of readiness for disasters (manmade or natural).

Assessment: Strengths: CBBEID personnel have significant knowledge and expertise with rural preparedness and response - a long history and intimate knowledge of the facilities, state, needs, and programs position the Center to be a national leader in rural preparedness activities and publications. The Center exceeded expectations with academic productivity, impressively CBBEID has established educational programs to support research (DrPH) and practitioners (MPH) of emergency preparedness in the reporting period. CBBEID exceeded expectations with its robust community engagement efforts, including instructional/training activities across the state of Nebraska, FEMA region VII, nationally, and globally – over 5,000 individuals have been trained through these engagements during the reporting period. The Center also obtained varied funding source support in the reporting period including state, federal, foundation, and private. Areas of improvement: The Center should consider creating stronger links between itself, the National Emerging Special Pathogens Training and Education Center, and the Global Center for Health Security to provide diverse student education and research opportunities. At the same time, CBBEID should work diligently to define itself from other UNMC programs. The research areas and opportunities for the faculty and students can be better defined and leveraged to keep the UNMC at the forefront of preparedness advancing practice and science. CBBEID should continue to strengthen relationships with industry as the potential to have internships and master's students working with private entities on business continuity and preparedness activities may open significant doors to research, collaboration, and additional funding.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. Develop a 5-year strategic plan with distinct areas of training and research and continue to explore diversified funding sources.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Center Director and Dean, College of Public Health.

\(^*\)Team Membership: John L. Hick, M.D. Emergency Medicine Hennepin County Medical Center Minneapolis, MN; Jennifer Larsen, M.D., Vice Chancellor of Research, University of Nebraska Medical Center; Melanie Thompson, Emergency Response Coordinator, Elkhorn Logan Valley Public Health Department.
An External Review of the Center for Patient, Family & Community Engagement in Chronic Care Management (CENTRIC) was conducted in July 2021. The review team membership* was composed of faculty in the NU system and was led by the UNMC Vice Chancellor for Research.

Center Mission: CENTRIC focuses on innovative research to disseminate and diffuse research findings through UNMC’s educational and patient care programs. CENTRIC provides a framework to get scientists funded, advance the use of technology in healthcare, and train emerging faculty and the next generation of scientists to promote self-management of chronic conditions.

Assessment: Strengths: CENTRIC has a substantial number of faculty that support the Center’s mission from multiple colleges and institutes within UNMC as well as the University of Nebraska Omaha and Nebraska Medicine. The Center has developed a solid infrastructure and organization in the reporting period. CENTRIC faculty have reasonable activity in publications (12 publications) and applications submitted (16 applications for $12.7M) in the reporting period. The Center has exceeded expectations in community outreach (31 seminars hosted). CENTRIC has met expectations with trainee development: the Center has supported two graduate assistants, seven doctoral students, and four post-doctorates. CENTRIC has developed three separate funding mechanisms awarding more than $240,000 in funding since 2016: pilot grant (5 funded), just-in-time award (9 funded), and mentored pilot program (2 funded). CENTRIC has developed technologies to monitor outcomes and interventions and strategized how this technology could be commercialized with UNeMed or through the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program. This technology will reach rural and urban underserved populations and contribute to workforce and economic development in Nebraska. Areas of improvement: CENTRIC may consider more dissemination of research and promotion of successful collaborations and projects. The success of the Center depends on demonstrating progress in continued growth in extramural funding awarded to CENTRIC members. The Center should consider increasing multidisciplinary publications with collaborators to enhance the competitiveness for larger programmatic grants.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. CENTRIC may consider ways to better disseminate successful collaborations and projects. Faculty of the Center should consider multi-PI projects as a strategy to increase competitiveness for larger programmatic grants that can also leverage the funding history of collaborators and focus on increasing multidisciplinary publications with collaborators to show those collaborations are effective.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Center Director and Dean of the College of Nursing.

Team Membership: Deepak Khazanchi, Ph.D., Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Professor of Information Systems and Quantitative Analysis, Executive Director of CMIT, and Community Engagement & Internationalization Officer in the College of Information Science and Technology at the University of Nebraska at Omaha; Christopher J. Kratochvil, M.D., Associate Vice Chancellor for Clinical Research, University of Nebraska Medical Center; Jennifer Larsen, M.D., Vice Chancellor of Research, University of Nebraska Medical Center
An External Review of the Center for Staphylococcal Research (CSR) was conducted in July 2021. The review team membership* was composed of faculty outside the NU system and was led by the UNMC Vice Chancellor for Research.

Center Mission: The objectives of the Center for Staphylococcal Research (CSR) are multifaceted and include 1) to provide an administrative platform to enhance our competitiveness for additional multi-investigator grant support, 2) to develop molecular/genetic tools that will enhance the productivity of staphylococcal researchers worldwide, 3) to develop novel therapeutics to combat staphylococcal infection, 4) to serve as a training center for developing scientists interested in pursuing a career in staphylococcal disease research, and 5) to serve as a nidus for development of clinical research programs.

Assessment: Strengths: CSR has fostered multiple interdisciplinary collaborations internal and external to the NU system composed of researchers from basic scientists to clinicians with expertise in biofilm development, drug discovery, genetics, physiology, immunology, and engineering. The Center has exceeded expectations in academic productivity (105 peer-reviewed publications), intellectual property development (5 patents filed), funding (23 grants awarded for a total of $18.9M) in the reporting period. CSR exceeded expectations on numbers of trainees/graduates with 20 post-doctoral trainees, 13 graduate students, and 13 visiting students in the reporting period. CSR exceeded expectations for community outreach: the Center established and hosts a biennial International Conference of Gram-Positive Pathogens, provides access to a transposon mutant library to investigators around the globe free of charge (distributed over 17,000 mutants), created and hosts a “Essentials in Staphylococcal Genetics Workshop” to develop new investigators in the staphylococcal field, and supports Nebraska students from undergraduate Nebraska Colleges and Institutions through the National Institutes of Health IDeA Network of Biomedical Research Excellence (INBRE). CSR has also developed partnerships with industry, including Pfizer, Merck, Biofire Defense, and Biofire Diagnostics. Areas of improvement: CSR may consider creating a regional network of investigators with complementary experience in staphylococcal research.

Recommendations: Center status should be retained. CSR may consider creating a regional network of investigators with complementary experience in staphylococcal research. The Center should consider submitting a training grant, such as a T-32.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of the Center Director and Dean, College of Medicine.

An Academic Program Review of the Nebraska Safety Center was conducted in the Fall of 2020. The review team membership* was composed of UNK faculty and Center partners.

Center Mission: The Nebraska Safety Center mission is “we exist to conserve human and economic resources through safety education and accident prevention.” Their primary focus is outreach. By state statute, NSC is charged with responding to LB693 (1978) to furnish: (1) Instruction: developing educational courses and coordinating activities associated with statewide safety training; (2) Research: imparting expertise in identifying safety examination opportunities (3) Service: offering customer-focused educational opportunities to interested individuals throughout the state; (4) Leadership: collaborating with expert counterparts on the development of teacher preparation to facilitate statewide safety education programs.

Assessment: Of the four areas, the team found the greatest strengths with Instruction and Service. There was also extensive evidence related to Leadership and Research which, they believe, provides opportunities for growth and long-term sustainability.

Strengths found within the NSC program:
- Sound expertise with local, state, and federal guidelines and practices to serve constituents;
- Well written and relevant curriculum according to safety standards with efficient delivery and maintaining course offerings even throughout the Covid pandemic;
- Consistent and growing enrollment;
- New program offerings, such as the ADVANCE project, that will contribute to additional growth;
- Maintaining strong partnerships with secondary schools to offer Driver Education courses;
- Longevity of the staff which contributes to a level of expertise and continuity.

Opportunities to improve the NSC program:
- Further embed the NSC within the College of Business and Technology (CBT) and academic affairs;
- Increase collaborative efforts with University of Nebraska (NU) faculty for research opportunities including those in the Department of Engineering, Industrial Technology, etc.;
- Increase awareness of services throughout the greater Nebraska area and Midwest;
- Continue growing in the eastern part of the state to make the Lincoln office financially sustainable;
- Partner with the Division of Research to develop and implement a research agenda utilizing existing data through collaboration with CBT faculty and faculty across the NU system. This could help to integrate the NSC with UNK and raise awareness throughout the community, state, and regionally;
- Develop a strategy to support the proposed move of the Driving Range.

Recommendations: The review committee clearly felt the NSC adds value and the center should be retained. We worked with the NSC to implement some structural changes immediately and are partnering with campus administration for a master plan for a relocation and revisioning of the NSC.

Responsibility for Monitoring: Progress towards addressing these recommendations will be the responsibility of NSC Operations Manager and the Dean of the College of Business and Technology. The team will meet monthly on a regular basis and more frequently as needed. The master planning process begins on August 9th and is expected to take about a year.

SUBJECT: Personnel Reports

RECOMMENDED ACTION: Report

PREVIOUS ACTION: On December 10, 1994, the Board of Regents amended Section 3.2 of the Bylaws of the Board of Regents to delegate to the President, or administrative officers designated by the President, authority to make appointments in the Academic-Administrative staff to faculty positions and to administrative positions below the rank of Dean and equivalent ranks. Executive Memorandum No. 13 subsequently delegated authority to the Chancellors to make Academic-Administrative appointments below the level of Dean. In addition, there is a list of new Continuous, Promotion, and Emeritus appointments which have been made for the academic and fiscal year 2020-2021.

In accordance with Board of Regents policy, President Walter Carter certifies that every full-time academic and administrative employee has received a written performance appraisal for the 2020-2021 academic or fiscal year as required by RP-4.2.8 Evaluation of Faculty and Administrators.

A list of University personnel salaries for the 2021-2022 fiscal year is provided on the University’s website at https://nebraska.edu/offices-policies/business-finance/budget-and-planning

(a) Residency status is determined by whether a student pays resident or nonresident tuition. An individual qualifies as a resident of the State of Nebraska for tuition purposes at the University of Nebraska if, prior to the beginning of the terms for which residency is sought, he/she meets the standards defined in any one of several categories. See The University of Nebraska Policy Manual, section RP-5.7.1, Residency Determination for Tuition Purposes.
