Diversity is “counting people”, inclusion is “about making people count”.
STEVE L. ROBBINS

Inclusive excellence requires a campus environment where a multiplicity of backgrounds and perspectives are valued and included; one that can help recruit and retain the talent needed to advance the University of Nebraska’s ability to transform lives through research and innovation. As the state’s only public university, the University of Nebraska best fulfills its mission by proactively promoting and supporting the creation of a diverse, accessible, and inclusive campus environment that leads to equitable outcomes and make it “the best place to be a student, [faculty member, and staff member]”.

WHAT IS INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE?

Developed in 2005 through the efforts of the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U), Inclusive Excellence is a research based approach that integrates diversity and inclusion efforts into core institutional operations. For the purposes of funding the grants, diversity, inclusion and equity will be defined by the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AAC&U) guiding principles adopted for use by the University of Nebraska.

DIVERSITY, INCLUSION AND EQUITY

Diversity: Individual differences (e.g., personality, learning styles, and life experiences) and group/social differences (e.g., race/ethnicity, class, gender, sexual orientation, country of origin, and ability as well as cultural, political, religious, or other affiliations).²

Inclusion: The active, intentional, and ongoing engagement with diversity in ways that increase awareness, content knowledge, cognitive sophistication, and empathic understanding of the complex ways individuals interact within systems and institutions.³

Equity: The creation of opportunities for equal access to address an achievement or success gap.
